FAIRYLAND COMPLETE.

San Diego Exposition is Ready.

Hundreds of Acres Blooming in Profusion of Plants and Flowers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO (Cal.) Nov. 25.—Frank P. Allen, head of the division of works, today notified officials of the Panama-California Exposition that his work is complete and ready for their inspection and approval. This means that the Panama-California Exposition proper, the building and beautification of grounds, is finished. There is still construction work, that of buildings as concessions on the isthmus, the amusement street, but the exposition itself, just planned as the main show, is complete as it will be on the opening, January 1, with the exception of the installation of exhibits.

"Save a bare wall on the grounds and not a square foot of exposed earth which has not been planted," said Supt. Allen summed up his work as officers of the exposition. The canyons of adobe valleys and brown, dusty hills have been transformed into a fairyland of shrubbery and flowers blooming in a riot of profusion.

Under the direction of the division engineers have been constructed the handsome bridge, one of the longest single concrete bridges in the world, costing $150,000, the Fine Arts building, Arts and Crafts, Science and Education, Home Economy, Foreign and Domestic Arts, Botanical, Commerce and Industries, Administration, Hospital, Fire Hall, Sacramento buildings, Alameda and Santa Clara, International Harvester, Lipton, Kern and Tulare County.

Allen began his work in December, 1911. His directions were few. "Complete your work by January 1, 1915," the directors told him as they thrust an armful of plans toward him.

Exhibits are being received every day. Interiors of buildings have in many instances been furnished and booths are being set up. Some of the exhibit buildings are entirely complete with exhibits in place.

YOUNG CONTESTS NORDICA'S WILL.

HUSBAND ALLEGES HE HAS THE ONLY VALID TESTAMENT OF THE SINGER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—George W. Young today filed objections to the probate of the so-called second will of his wife, Lillian Nordica Young, the singer, on the ground that it was obtained by undue influence, without naming by whom such influence was exerted.

Mr. Young contends the New York Surrogate's Court has no jurisdiction because Mme. Nordica was a resident of New Jersey. The real and valid last will and testament of Mme. Nordica, he says, has been filed by him as executor in Monmouth county, New Jersey. This will was executed on July 3, 1910, and the one offered for probate here was executed January 14, 1914, on Thursday Island, while Mme. Nordica was on her last concert tour.

In the will filed here Mme. Nordica left the bulk of her property to three sisters. It is stated in the will that she estimates that $400,000 in cash advanced to her husband is the full, or more than full, share to which he is entitled.

KAISER REVIVES NAPOLEON'S GAME.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Nov. 26.—The Giornale d'Italia today publishes correspondence from Alexandria, Egypt, which says that Germany is reviving, after 115 years, but with much wider scope, the game played by Napoleon in Egypt and that the natives can now be compared to a volcano from which anything may be expected.

Meanwhile, the correspondent says, Great Britain is preparing to give the Egyptians a new Khedive in the person of Hussein Kemal, son of Ismael Pasha, Khedive from 1863 to 1879, and uncle of the present Khedive.

ZAPATISTAS IN CAPITAL

Order Maintained by "Butcher."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The forces of Gen. Zapata occupied Mexico City last night and are maintaining order, according to official telegrams from Mexico City dated today and received here late tonight.

Two messages were received, one from the Brazilian Minister and the other from American Consul Silliman. Both were filed in Mexico City this morning.

Mr. Silliman reported that the Zapata forces after sharp fighting in the outskirts of the Mexican capital yesterday afternoon, in which sixty soldiers were reported killed, entered just as the forces of Gen. Blanco evacuated the city. There was some disorder and looting in the brief interval between the evacuation by Blanco and the arrival of the Zapata troops, but the city was quiet immediately afterward. The convention forces under Gen. Villa, according to Mr. Silliman, were expected later today.

The Brazilian Minister said he had received full assurances from the Zapatistas that they would maintain order. He said that contrary to previous promises to the diplomatic corps, and without taking any measures to protect the city, Gen. Lucio Blanco left the city at 3 a.m. yesterday. The Brazilian Minister immediately sent a commission consisting of Carlos Cordillo, secretary of the Brazilian legation; Charles Parker and S. F. Fuller to visit the Zapata headquarters. They were assured that full protection would be given the city.

In the meantime, before the Zapata forces entered, Col. Saldana, assisted by former Gov. Iturbide, in agreement with the diplomatic corps, organized a patrol service with the police force, whose arms had been taken from them by the departing troops.

Notwithstanding the constant entry of Zapata troops during the night, the Brazilian Minister said, order had been maintained. He also said the Villa forces were expected at any moment.

Uncertain communication over hastily-repaired wires between Vera Cruz and Mexico City and between Juarez and points south delayed official messages. The last two dispatches received during the day by the State Department were dated 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. yesterday. In the first it was stated that Gen. Lucio Blanco had left at 3 a.m., with all available rolling stock. In the second dispatch the American government was informed that while Gen. Blanco could not be found, he was reported to be still in the city, but that his troops were leaving the capital, looting to some extent as they went. The telegram also said it was believed the Zapata forces had reached an understanding with the convention troops whereby the former were not to enter the city until Villa arrived. Uncertainty prevailed as to whether the arrangement would be carried out. The Brazilian Minister has received assurances from the Zapata leaders that order will be preserved and that foreigners will not be molested.

Enrique C. Llorente, Washington representative of Provisional President Gutierrez, gave out tonight a telegram dated Tula, near Mexico City, saying that Gen. Villa stated most positively that he would enter the Mexican capital tomorrow or Friday. The same message said Felicitas Villareal, a member of the Gutierrez Cabinet, had succeeded in making his way from Mexico City to Tula and reported that Gen. Blanco was in perfect accord with the convention. Villa adherents surmised that while Blanco might have apparently abandoned command of the city, he was still controlling the situation so as to effect a peaceful entry of the Villa forces.

Secretary Bryan replied today to the request of American Consul Silliman for instructions, ordering him to station himself with Gen. Carranza at Orizaba. Mr. Bryan decided that inasmuch as the Brazilian Minister keeps the American government advised of developments in the Mexican capital, Mr. Silliman could be of service in the temporary capital established by Carranza, thus giving the State Department a representative with every important faction.

ZAPATA RENOUNCES PEACE CONVENTION.

EL PASO (Tex.) Nov. 25.—Gen. Zapata personally has entered Mexico City and has renounced the Aguascalientes convention, according to a message from the capital given out today by the Carranza agency here. It was stated also that Gen. Blanco with his troops had reached Orizaba, midway between the capital and Vera Cruz.

The Carranza partisans were jubi-

The inserts show German submarines at sea. The Germans began to build under-water fighting craft very late, watching carefully the result of the experiments of the French and the British before undertaking the construction of like vessels. In shape they are widely different from the British boats, their under-water craft being submarines pure and simple, shaped not unlike a cigar. The German craft are submersibles, the form of the outer hull being similar to a surface boat, which has better floatability and is easier to handle than the circular type when on the surface. Inside the outer shell is an inner shell, circular in shape, and between the two are the ballast tanks.

RUSSIAN VICTORIES IN NORTHERN POLAND.

German Army Corps is Reported to Have Been Broken Up.

Slavs Call for Trains to Carry to the Rear Fifty Thousand Wounded and Prisoners—Kaiser Rushes Reinforcements into France and Belgium to Try Again to Break Through Lines to Calais.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A dispatch from Berlin says it is reported there that the British Indian troops along the Suez Canal have been defeated and that the Turks are advancing with heavy batteries to destroy the constructive works of the canal and bottle up the British warships now in that waterway.

Considerable diplomatic activity in the Balkans is reported. There is talk of a reorganization of the Balkan League, which would bring to the side of the allies all the Balkan States.

LONDON, Nov. 25, 9:40 p.m.—While the Russian army headquarters remain silent and the Germans claim to have checked attempts on the part of the Russians to take the offensive, the military party in Petrograd has shown its full confidence in the unofficial reports of a Russian victory in Northern Poland by celebrating the event.

It is even said in the Russian capital that the victory was greater than had been reported previously, and there is talk in Petrograd of an entire German army corps having been broken up. Reports received there say that trains have been ordered which will accommodate 50,000 wounded and prisoners. Heretofore Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, has withheld his reports until the work he set about to do had been completed, so that the world may have to wait for some days for his official statement.

In East Prussia and before Cracow, Galicia, the Germans claim to have brought the Russian advance to a stop. The other side is yet to be heard from in regard to this statement.

Probably the most significant news regarding the Russian operations comes from Budapest, where it is admitted that the Russian troops again have invaded Hungary and have reached the county of Ung, which is about thirty-five miles south of the Carpathians, and the county of Zemplin, fifty miles to the south of those mountains. The troops which invaded Ung, according to this report, have been driven back to the frontier, while action is being taken against those in Zemplin.

IN THE WEST.

Except to the northeast of Verdun, where the Germans made an attack, were repulsed, and asked for an armistice, which was refused, the fighting in the western theater consists to a large extent of artillery duels. There is evidence, however, that the Germans contemplate another desperate effort to get through to the French coast ports.

Every report from Belgium by way of Holland shows that the Germans are bringing up reinforcements and guns, but so closely is the secret guarded that there is no indication as to where the blow is to be delivered. It will doubtless be a heavy one, backed by all the men, guns, and other machines of war, of which the Germans seem to have such unlimited supplies.

The allies have made every preparation to meet this assault. At the same time preparations have been completed for the defense of the east coast of England, for the opinion still holds here that if the Germans fail in their latest plans they will attempt a raid on England, with warships and transports, for which German submarines are trying to prepare the way.

There is considerable diplomatic activity in the Balkans and important developments are expected soon. It is considered in official circles here that with the Austrian army on her soil, Servia will be more likely to listen to the demand of Bulgaria for a slice of Macedonia as the price of her support. There is also talk of an arrangement between Roumania and Bulgaria, in fact, of a reorganization of the Balkan league, which would bring all the Balkan states over to the side of the allies.

AUSTRIA RAISES BIG WAR LOAN.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Subscriptions to the Austro-Hungarian war loan have reached the total of $466,000,000, according to Foreign Office dispatches to the embassy here today and the Minister of Finance, satisfied with this proof of the resources of the dual monarchy, has agreed to the continuation of the subscription. The dispatch, which duplicates War Office communications cabled from Vienna, says, in addition:

"The subscription to the war loan today reached about 1,500,000,000 crowns in Austria and over 5,000,000 in Hungary. The Minister of Finance has agreed to the continuation of the subscription, the result of which proves the resources of the monarchy."

SERVIAN VICTORY OVER AUSTRIANS.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—A Servian victory in the fighting with the Austrian invaders is reported in a dispatch today to the Havas Agency from Nish. It is said that the Austrian columns, which on the night of November 22 crossed the Kolubara River in Northwestern Servia, were put to rout by the Servians, with large losses.

The battle continues, it is said, on a line from Lazarevatz to Mionitza, where the attacks of the Servians caused the Austrians to fall back.

The Austrians are said to have lost 500 prisoners and three machine guns.

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

The reports from the fighting between the Teutonic allies and the Russians in Western Europe are still enigmatic. German reports are that the Russian offensive has been checked; the Russian military party is described as being confident of results. But at any rate nothing decisive has been achieved and the battles are still under way. It would appear, however, that the Russians have the advantage. In Western Europe the Germans are said to be bringing up reinforcements on a large scale to launch a new attack against the allies, with the object of breaking through to the coveted seaport of Calais. There, it is said, the Germans have a tunnel half completed under the English Channel. Their desperation to reach Calais is thus, in a way, accounted for.

CROKER TO WED INDIAN GIRL.

GRANDFATHER OF FIANCEE WAS A CHEROKEE WARRIOR.

Miss Beulah Benton Edmondson, Destined to Become Bride of Former Tammany Chief, has Sung in Public and Rode in Costume in New York Suffrage Parade.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Ketaw Kaluntuchy, whose grandfather, Chief Sequoy, was a Cherokee warrior and wise man, is the bride-to-be of Richard W. Croker, who used to be the "big chief" of Tammany Hall. Her father, a Scotchman, married Princess Sequoymh, the Indian chief's daughter.

This developed tonight when a marriage license was issued to Richard Welsted Croker, 73 years old, no occupation, and Miss Beulah Benton Edmondson, 23 years old, a singer.

Arrangements for the wedding have not been completed, Croker told City Clerk P. O. Scully, who made out the license. Rumor has it that the ceremony will be performed tomorrow. At least that is the time originally set for it, but no one other than a few friends of the prospective bride and groom known positively what the arrangements are. Croker and his fiancee have shown remarkable ability Vistula.

TWO GERMAN ARMY CORPS ARE REPORTED CAPTURED.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Morning Post's Petrograd correspondent says he learns that one German army corps of over 40,000 men with their munitions complete, has been captured, and that he believes when the official details of the fighting in the east are forthcoming, it will be found that at least two army corps have been captured.

"It seems," the correspondent adds, "that the large number of German reinforcements from Wielun, with which it was intended to envelop the Russian left flank, arrived only in time to support the retreat of the whole German right. The Russian cavalry made a series of charges into the mass of retreating German infantry, doing terrible execution on the fugitives.

"The German left, resting on the Vistula, appears still to be holding its position, but the defeat of the right wing must compel the retreat of the left also.

"While Russia is victorious in the direct route towards Erzerum, fighting is developing in the neighborhood of the Russian frontier along the valley of the Tchoruk River, not far from Batum, which city appears to have been chosen as the objective of the main Turkish attack."

A HALF-COMPLETED TUNNEL FROM CALAIS TO ENGLAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 25.—Possibility that the Germans, in their determined efforts to take Calais, France, have had in mind the existence of the celebrated uncompleted tunnel from Calais to Dover, England, is suggested by Capt. Eugene Bivert of Chicago. Capt. Bivert is an engineer, and some years ago was an officer in the French army. His knowledge of the tunnel and its strategic possibilities was obtained first hand. The theory he suggests is that the Germans plan to complete the tunnel, which, some time ago, was built eight miles toward England under the channel, and make their long-threatened raid on King George's domain by this route.

GERMAN DEFEAT CALLED A ROUT

Artillery, Ammunition and Food Left Behind.

Emperor's Carriage and Coat Among the Trophies.

Austrian Losses in Galicia Reported Very Heavy.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 25 (via London.)—On the entire front of the Vistula and Warta Rivers the Germans have begun a retreat, according to meager reports received here from the front. At some points, it is said, the backward movement resembles a rout, artillery, ammunition and commissary stores being left on the field.

One detachment of Germans in the front fighting before Lodz which reports arriving here assert was cut to pieces by the Russians, is said to have been on the point of executing a coup, disguised as Russians. It is alleged that they wore the round fur-peaked caps which form part of the Caucasian regiments' uniform.

They were detected as they were about to turn the Russian flank by Russian officers, who noted through their field glasses slight differences in the uniform and equipment of the Germans, according to the story.

MANY PRISONERS AND WOUNDED

Reports reaching here concerning the magnitude of the defeat of the Germans to the west of Lodz, Russian Poland, which in some instances place the German losses as high as an entire army corps, appear in a measure to be confirmed by telegraphic dispatches from Warsaw. Forty-eight trains have been dispatched from Warsaw to bring in the prisoners and wounded. This number of trains, made up of the maximum number of cars of the Russian wide-gauge, would carry between 45,000 and 50,000 men, it is estimated here.

Military men here express the opinion that the reported defeat was partially due to the failure of the column of Germans from Wieluin to defeat the Russians sent against it. Bad roads delayed this German column, it is reported, enabling the Russians to concentrate a sufficient force to repulse it and turn the flanks of the main German column.

There is great jubilation in army circles here, officers expressing the conviction that the enemy has received a crushing blow which is likely to prove decisive in the campaign in Poland.

CAPTURE EMPEROR'S CARRIAGE.

The Army Messenger asserts that among the trophies taken by the Russians at Czenstochowa was Emperor William's carriage, which contained one of the Emperor's coats.

Dealing with the fighting north of Lodz, the Army Messenger says:

"The Germans are making attack after attack in an attempt to break the Russian forces, but without success. The Austro-German army is staking all on this battle."

The newspaper adds that on the Galician front the Russian offensive is becoming more energetic and is reducing the enemy to a state of impotence.

AUSTRIANS SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES.

LEMBERG (Galicia) Nov. 25 (via London.)—The sound of firing which was said to be the result of a clash between the Germans and Austrians composing the garrison of Przemysl was reported by refugees arriving here today from the vicinity of the Austrian fortress. The sound came from the fortifications on the interior line and was audible two miles.

It was further reported that the Germans had hanged the commandant of the fortress because he proposed to surrender the citadel. The Austrians are said to have opposed the measures put into effect by the Germans, which resulted in a pitched battle in the streets. Wounded Austrians returning from the Carpathians and from the south of Lemberg report that the Austrians are retreating in utter defeat. Their losses are said to have been heavy and to have included 6000 prisoners and all the supplies. Toward Cracow the retreat is said to have been made in better order.

Work has been started on thirteen of the mechanical buriers which have been ordered by two of the allied nations. On days when there has been "no contact" the new machine, it was said, may be used for digging trenches.

GET READY FOR INVASION.

BOTH ENGLAND AND GERMANY PREPARING DEFENSES.

British Civilian Guards Organize to Protect Women and Children, Destroy Bridges and Remove Livestock, While the Prussians are Patching up Old Forts.

LONDON, Nov. 25. — England is preparing rapidly to repel any possible invasion by Germany. Along the east and south coasts of England these preparations, begun some time ago, are being pushed forward as speedily as possible. The work is chiefly in the hands of civilians. Emergency committees of prominent citizens have been formed in several of the large towns. The principal measures already planned look to the safe withdrawal of women and children from the areas which may be threatened and also the removal of livestock and provisions which would be useful to an invading army, the destruction of grain and other commodities which cannot be removed and the blocking of roads and destruction of bridges.

Rifle clubs are being organized. The War Office has decided to recognize these clubs, many of which are now drilling. Their badges will consist of a red armlet bearing the letters "G. R." Only those who are ineligible for service as regular soldiers or territorials may belong to such organizations. Members are required to furnish their own equipment.

The city of Hull, according to the Daily Mail, has been divided into six districts. In each district is a committee of 200 prominent men which will co-operate with the police. Similar committees have been formed in Deal, Sandwich, Folkestone and several other towns, the Mayors usually acting as chairmen. Bicyclists and automobilists were organized some time ago for their share of the work.

GERMANY ALSO FEARS INVASION.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—An invasion by the allies is feared by Germany, according to a dispatch to the Evening News from Copenhagen, which reports that extensive preparations are being made to guard against such an eventuality. The News says it has learned from eyewitnesses that the Germans are strengthening old fortresses in the former Danish territory of Schleswig-Holstein, as well as a line of entrenchments called the Dannewerk, along the northern side of the Kiel Canal. It is thus hoped to protect the canal against attacks from the north, for it is on the shores of Schleswig, according to these reports, that an invasion is feared.

All the German islands in the North Sea, it is said, are now closely guarded and strongly fortified positions are being erected on the shores of Holstein and along the western side of the River Elbe.

NEUTRAL SPEECH PLEASES BULGARS.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The entire Bulgarian Chamber of Deputies, says a dispatch from Sofia to Reuter's Telegram Company today, listened with attention and warmly applauded M. Radoslavoff, the Bulgarian Premier, who addressed the Sobranje upholding the policy of Bulgarian neutrality.

There is reason to believe, the message adds, that the Premier's address will satisfy the opposition parties.

PORTUGAL AWAITS CALL.

Minister at Washington Says His Country's Interests are With the Allies in Case of Request.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Portuguese Minister, Viscount de Alte, today said he had been notified by his government that the Portuguese Congress had decided to act in accordance with its interests and its duty in cooperation with the allies in case of request by them. The Minister, who has remained silent on all subjects concerning his government for some time, today stated that this act of Congress signified no positive change in his country's policy, and did not necessarily presage immediate action.

Portugal is bound by treaty to support England and the Congress reaffirmed the bond after the beginning of the war.

AUSTRIANS GAIN GROUND IN MOUNTAINOUS COUNTRY

BERLIN (via Sayville) Nov. 25.—The Austrian official report published today announces that the Austrian troops have gained ground in the direction of Wolbrom and this, taken in connection with the German report from Czenstochowa and the district to the north of Cracow shows, in the opinion of the German military authorities that the Teuton allies are working together on the south wing to good purpose.

Wolbrom and Pilica, toward which the Austrians also have gained ground, lie in mountainous country and the fact that this ground has been gained shows that the troops are overcoming many difficulties. Clear and frosty weather prevails in most of the eastern war zone, with a temperature of 14 above zero fahrenheit.

At Cracow, Galicia, foggy weather with snow and rain continues. In Flanders the temperature is near the freezing point. Low temperature prevails in the Lorraine plateau in the Vosges Mountains with a foot and a half of snow on the crest of the Vosges.

Will Adopt Code of its Own on Neutral Questions.

Declaration of London to be Formally Discarded.

International Law the Guide in Individual Cases.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The decided stand taken by the United States government in refusing to accept piecemeal adoption of the principles of the Declaration of London as a guide to commercial restrictions to be imposed during the European war was made clear today at the State Department when the text of a cablegram sent to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin on October 14, last, was made public.

Mr. Gerard had communicated a preliminary notice that Germany intended to protest to this government against alleged violation of the declaration by Great Britain and France. The German Ambassador, Count Bernstorff, called at the State Department today to lodge the formal complaint and the text of the reply cabled to Ambassador Gerard, copies of which went to all American diplomatic representatives abroad, was then made public. It follows:

"Please inform the German government that the department's suggestion made to the belligerent countries for the adoption for the sake of uniformity of the Declaration of London as a temporary code of naval warfare for use in the present war, has been withdrawn because of the unwillingness of some of the belligerents to adopt the Declaration of London without modification. The United States government will therefore insist that its rights and duties of those of its citizens in the present war be defined by the existing rules of international law and the treaties of the United States with the belligerents independently of the provisions of the declaration and this government will reserve the right to enter a demand or protest in every case in which the rights and duties mentioned above and defined by existing rules of international law are violated or their free exercise hindered by the authorities of the belligerent governments."

The message was signed by Counsellor Lansing, then Acting Secretary of State.

SCOPE OF DECLARATION.

The Declaration of London, framed at an international conference in London from which it drew its designation, was designed as a uniform naval procedure for wartimes to be recognized by all powers participating in the conference.

It set out definite declarations as to what articles should be considered contraband of war and defined the rights of neutral shipping. The declaration was generally viewed as marking a great advance over the conflicting practices the several nations had applied during periods of belligerency with most unsatisfactory results to neutral shipping. It has never been ratified, however, by all of the powers which participated in the conference.

The United States and Germany are among the powers which have recorded their acceptance of the declaration while Great Britain has not taken this action. One article of the declaration provides that it shall be binding as between belligerent powers only upon those by which it has been ratified.

Soon after the outbreak of the European war it became evident that while they recognized in a general way the spirit of the declaration some of the belligerent powers intended to insist upon great modification of important details, basing their action upon the fact that they had not formally ratified the convention.

Since the declaration was in fact a compromise between the extreme views of the several governments which participated in the conference, a high official here pointed out today that it would have been neither just nor fair, in the opinion of this government, to consent to any modification without the agreement of all parties. On this theory the State Department felt obliged to withdraw from its adherence to the declaration, even before the German protest was received.

VIEWS OF LANSING.

In the course of his conversation with Ambassador Bernstorff today, Counsellor Lansing made it clear that in the absence of general rules such as the declaration to which all parties subscribe, the United States government could deal only with specific complaints the German government might wish to present where it felt this government had been remiss in the fulfillment of its duties as a neutral state.

The German bill of protest presented today contains several specific declarations, but the State Department has as yet made no reply to these. It is said, however, that the German position that the British have violated the spirit of the Declaration of London by seizing or detaining food supplies carried in neutral bottoms and consigned to German ports, directly or indirectly, is recognized by United States officials as entirely sound. The same is true as to the complaint against the removal of German citizens not yet in a military establishment from neutral ships, and also the retention by Great Britain of her contraband lists far beyond the limit fixed in the London convention.

In the opinion of American officials, however, no way is open to the United States to require adherence by all belligerents to the strict letter of the Declaration of London.

NEVER RATIFIED IN ENGLAND.

Great Britain has never ratified the declaration and Germany and Austria are therefore absolved by the declaration itself from adherence to its terms. It was this situation that led the State Department to revert to the old practices of international law and treaties for guidance during the present year.

The department has been at work virtually since the outbreak of the war compiled a code of its own for the treatment of questions of contraband and neutrality. It is hoped that this code can be devised with such fairness and impartiality that it will commend itself to all of the belligerents. It is recognized, however, that the failure of all belligerents to adhere to the Declaration of London has greatly increased the difficulties of neutral states in attempting to protect their legitimate commerce and at the same time preserve strict neutrality as to contraband shipments.

CENTENARIAN AND "CHILD" FLEE HORRORS OF WAR.

FLEEING from Turkish Armenia to escape the rigors of war, Mrs. Tokany Stephaian, 100 years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Hiranes Paklaian, 80 years old, were passengers on board the Roma, of the Fabre line, which arrived at New York from Mediterranean ports.

The mother, bent and feeble with the weight of years, had to be assisted from the Roma by two stewards. Her daughter walked down the gang plank as steadily and as erect as many passengers fifty years her junior. Heavy weather failed to make either of the women suffer, and as neither had ever been more than twenty miles away from the little Armenian hamlet in which they were born, the long voyage proved a kaleidoscope of revelations and delights for them. Relatives from Trenton, N. J., with whom they will make their home, met them at the pier.

ALLIES WEATHER CRISIS IN MILITARY SITUATION.

BY AN ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF "THE ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL."

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 25.—The official French bulletin issued today on the past six weeks of the war gives an interesting description of the fighting in Belgium. The German assaults in this region prove to have been pressed with great force in an effort to drive the allies out of Belgium. The whole German campaign was for several weeks subordinated to this end.

Charles M. Schwab.

This photograph shows Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Company, as he arrived in New York from Europe on board the Adriatic, of the White Star line, accompanied by the vice-president of his company, Archibald Johnson. Mr. Schwab returned to New York after having started a hurried trip to London on board the Olympic and he was on board the steamship when she rescued the crew and officers of the Audacious. He was the only passenger allowed to go ashore at Lough Swilly, where the Olympic put in, and from the reports of his movements after he landed the British government did everything to facilitate his reaching London.

The stubborn resistance of the French and British defeated every effort of the Germans to break through and achieved results that may prove to be the turning point of the war. By holding back the Germans until the Russian attack could get well under way, the French and British have now passed the crisis in their military situation. By this check in the west the Germans are deprived of their advantage due to the suddenness of forcing the British into the war, while the advantage of preparation and training is also now passing to the allies. The contest is consequently becoming one of endurance and resources with the resources of the allies pitted against the endurance of the Germans.

CHECK IN POLAND.

The expected check of the German advance in Poland has now occurred. This is due to the fact that an advancing army can never have its full strength at the front. The columns are necessarily spread out over long distances of thirty to forty-five miles. The check at the head, though, is only the beginning of the struggle.

To oppose this German invasion, the Russians followed a plan that has placed part of the German army in a serious position. The forces that immediately opposed the Germans fell back before them and encouraged them to make a rapid advance up to within forty miles of Warsaw. Meanwhile, Grand Duke Nicholas massed his forces between Piotrkow and the Wartha River to strike at the German flank.

When the Germans were getting ready to crush the Russian forces along the forty-mile line from Lowics, south to Koluszki on the railroad, the Russian armies from the Wartha River were launched against the German flank at Szadek, fifteen miles east of Sieradz. The German line was driven back and their advanced forces near Lodz were taken in flank and rear. The battle that is now going on will determine whether the Germans can fight their way out of their predicament or whether, surrounded on all sides, they will have to surrender to superior forces.

RUSSIANS MAKE GAIN.

The Russians have made an important gain in checking the German dash toward Warsaw. In every field they have foiled the German plans, and at Lodz they threaten to inflict upon the Germans a serious reverse. The Russian advance to Mezo Laboro and Homonna in Hungary, on the line between Przemysl and Khasau, shows the beginning of a new Cossack invasion of the Hungarian plains. Such a move has little direct influence on the outcome of the fighting along the German border. But if the war is to become a campaign of exhaustion, such raids may help to accomplish this end by throwing the burden of military operations upon a new province of the dual empire.

WILL VISIT WAR ORPHANS IN CAMPS OF REFUGEES.

Special Commissioner of "Chicago Tribune" and Los Angeles "Times" is Now on His Way to Europe to Send Descriptions of Situation Which Adoption Plan Aims to Relieve.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 25.—Charles N. Wheeler, the commissioner of the Chicago Tribune and Los Angeles Times, who goes abroad to investigate and report on the condition of the children driven out of the war zone, is on board the steamer Transylvania of the Cunard line, somewhere in midocean.

Mr. Wheeler will land in England in about a week. He will go direct to London, where he will consult with the British authorities. He also will visit the larger refugee camps and asylums of which there are scores in the British Isles, many college buildings and large country estates being given up for occupancy to the women and children who have fled from Belgium and France.

His dispatches and letters to the Tribune and Times will give a vivid and accurate picture of the situation so far as it affects the innocent and helpless citizens of the warring nations.

From England Mr. Wheeler will cross the channel to France, where he will hold a conference with the officials of the Belgian government, who are making Havre their temporary capital. Later he will visit Holland, where a single small province is spending $500,000 a week in the support of Belgian refugees, almost all of them women and small children.

Meanwhile the movement for bringing the war orphans to the United States for adoption or temporary care has been warmly indorsed by the Federation of Belgian-American societies, with headquarters at Moline, Ill. At and near Moline there is one of the largest settlements of Belgian immigrants in the country. They are Flemish people and they have their own paper, The Gazette Van Moline, which circulates widely among the Flemish-Belgians in all parts of the United States.

OFFICERS PAPER'S SERVICES.

The Rev. Dr. J. B. Ceuleman of Moline writes to offer the services of the Belgian paper and of the Associated Belgian Societies in support of the war orphan movement. He feels certain good homes can be found for many of the Belgian war orphans in the families of their fellow countrymen now living in the United States. The president of the Associated Belgian Societies also has offered his services as a volunteer worker to assist in collecting and bringing over the children.

That other children than Belgians already have been left homeless orphans in large numbers is made plain by a letter just received from Mme. Nina Larrey-Duryea, an American woman, who is now in charge of a camp for war refugees in Dinard, France. Mme. Duryea, who was born in Boston and has spent the last several summers in the beautiful resort in Brittany from which she writes, says that on November 1 there were more than 16,000 homeless and penniless refugees in Dinard and the country immediately adjacent. She declares thousands are already on the verge of starvation and are suffering especially in warm clothing to protect them against the cold of the coming winter.

After speaking of the large number of children who are without parents, homes, or even relatives who can be located, Mme. Duryea says that certain offers to give homes to the unfortunates, at least temporarily until the end of the war, will be gladly and gratefully received.

"Our society will be glad, of course," she says, "to put some of the children into good American homes, but already the burden is greater than we can successfully undertake," she said. "Will their passage across the ocean be provided for and will they be accompanied by reliable attendants? Will the people who offer to take the children into their homes send us proper references? Many children are helpless and tender and it is a great moral responsibility to send them so far away."

Several of the applications sent out to those who offered their homes to the war orphans have been returned properly filled out and are now to be turned over to the investigators.

In only a few instances have the original applicants written that after further consideration because of objection of some member of their families they have decided to withdraw their offer. It is suggested that in no case should the application blank be filled out until every person involved has been consulted and the great responsibility involved has been fully realized.

BRITISH AMERICAN TIE.

The Western British-American, in its latest issue, publishes an editorial indorsement of the war orphan project from which the following extracts are taken:

"The American shares in the overseas tragedy has ties with little Belgium. Millions of hearts in this country must have wished more than once that they could do something that would really help.

"A Chicago newspaper—[illegible]—now comes along with a plan that should receive support. The Tribune proposes to find homes for scores and hundreds of Belgian children who have been left homeless victims of the war and urges the people of this prosperous republic to open their doors of refuge for the little unfortunates. The spring of men as well as money, or any other land has responded.

"The Tribune plans to have the contingents of these waifs distributed and have been spoken for by families willing to give foster-parents and homes. The scheme will insure the placing in homes of only healthy children, and there will be no chance of [illegible] into the world with the physical and moral incompetents of the old.

"We take pleasure in indorsing the Tribune's plan and we urge our readers, under any circumstances, to consider in the light of a personal service.

"There are many [illegible] childless homes that would be measurably brightened by the presence of a prattling child. The European battlefield will afford a chance to add to the population and at the same time to help a little the world's sum of misery, never so heavy as today."

The proper performance of the duty called for self-restraint, judgment, coolness and discipline in the very highest degree. The fact remains that during all the months you occupied Vera Cruz there was not one untoward incident of great significance. Any laxness of discipline or any careless handling of the situation might have precipitated consequences of a most disastrous character. WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The explanation of Capt. Walter N. The matter was taken under advisement.

Capt. Hill said the conversation on which the item was based took place in his home in Boston, and that he was talking with members of his own family, and a neighbor, whom he learned later was connected with a Boston paper.

"I had no idea the conversation would be repeated outside my home, much less misquoted," Capt. Hill wrote. "I did not at any time have any intention or idea of criticising my superiors or the administration. WILLIAMSTOWN GREETS WILSON.

PRESIDENT SEES FIRST SNOW OF THE SEASON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) Nov. 25.—President Wilson arrived here at 4 o'clock this afternoon to spend Thanksgiving with his daughter, Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, wife of the assistant to the president of Williams College. The visit had added significance because today is the first anniversary of Mrs. Sayre's marriage.

Mr. Wilson was greeted at the station here by Mr. Sayre and practically the entire population of Williamstown. Many of the students of the college were away on their Thanksgiving vacations, but those remaining welcomed the President with cheers.

On his arrival Mr. Wilson saw his first snow of the season. He expects to go sleighing as much as possible during his stay.

During his stop at Troy, N. Y., the President shook hands with several thousand persons, patted several children on the cheek, was presented with a linen collar made in Troy, and waved his hand to hundreds of women employees of a shirt and collar factory who leaned out of the windows to see him.

"That is a good Republican," shouted a man as a prominent Republican shook hands with the President.

"I am glad to hear it," President Wilson replied. "I want as many of them as possible with me."

Several hundred school children waved American flags and cheered as the President's train passed through Hoosick, N. Y.

The President plans to take a complete rest while here and will see no callers aside from personal friends. President Garfield of Williams College, son of the late President Garfield of the United States, paid a short visit tonight.

Thanksgiving Day will be spent quietly. Prof. Stockton Axson, brother of Mrs. Wilson, will arrive here tomorrow morning. The President and members of his family and Dr. Grayson will attend a union Thanksgiving service at St. John's Episcopal Church in the morning. Then they will take an automobile or sleigh-ride and will eat their Thanksgiving dinner in the evening.

President Wilson was serenaded tonight by the Williams College band, accompanied by all the students in town. He appeared on the porch of the Sayre home and expressed his thanks for their demonstration.

Queer.

CLOSE TO FOE SAFEST PLACE.

Artillery Silenced for Fear of Hitting Own Men.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Light but interesting touches from the battle front are contained in an account from the pen of the British eyewitness, Col. E. D. Swinton, under date of November 22, given out today by the London press bureau. Of chief interest was the statement that the Germans are using a silent gun, probably of pneumatic equipment. Concerning this weapon, the account says:

"In our center the enemy employed a silent gun which may be pneumatic or worked by some mechanical contrivance. There is no report of the discharge, the projectile travels through the air without any of the warning made by an ordinary shell and the first notice to be received of its arrival is the bursting of the shell. So far the weapon has done no damage."

The account speaks of the trenches of the opponents as being at some points only forty yards apart. The English and Germans talk back and forth, hold shooting competitions, and exchange tobacco, much after the manner of the Civil War in the United States.

"There the positions are not unwelcome to our men," the account says, "for they at any rate are secure from shell fire, the hostile artillery being unable to shoot in the fear that it would hit its own infantry. Indeed, for either side, a trench close to the enemy is often a safer spot than any other in the fighting zone."

Tacit agreements among the men so situated are often made, the report says, a notable one being for permission of the representatives of either side to venture from the forts to heat tea on a smouldering fire at a farm.

"Friend and foe continued to make use of this for days until for some reason the Germans broke the truce and put a bullet in the shoulder of one of our men, thereby cutting off the supply of hot water for both sides. Cold weather has frozen the slush, improving the conditions in the trenches in one sense," the account goes on, "but the drop in the temperature makes the men so stiff that many have to be lifted out of the trenches when relieved, and others are sent partly frozen to hospitals.

"Beyond the hardships inflicted on individuals," Col. Swinton says, "the change in the weather chiefly has affected aerial reconnaissance and transport. The freezing makes the roads better and the clear crisp atmosphere aids the aviators to see the landscape more freely.

"The Germans in one place are using a forty-two-centimeter howitzer against the British left, it is said, and the report tells of the capture on November 21 of a German aeroplane bearing circulars calling on the Hindus to desert. Two more German aeroplanes were brought down on November 23, one after a running aerial fight in which a British aviator was wounded. This German machine was captured, but the other succeeded in landing within the German lines.

"Some of the roads behind the enemy's front line in one quarter," Col. Swinton writes, "have, it is believed, become impassable, owing partly to the weather conditions existing before the recent drop in the temperature and also to the attentions of the allied artillery. It is possible to render roads impracticable by long-range fire from heavy guns, either by shelling any object that attempts to pass or merely by dropping a shell on the road itself.

lant, asserting that Zapata and Villa would not agree, and that the Villa convention party and troops soon would be quelled by the Carranza forces. The Villa agents professed disbelief of the reports from Washington and Mexico City that there had been disorders in the capital, or even that Zapata forces had entered. The Villa forces had relied largely on the allegiance to the convention of Blanco.

Juarez officials conferred by telegraph with Gen. Villa, who was at Tula, two hours by train or automobile from Mexico City. Villa was quoted as having said that he had received no word of disorders at Mexico City nor of the change of government. He said there was no telegraph operating south of his position. Villa intimated that he would hasten into the capital with cavalry.

It was declared that the Carranza leaders from the beginning had intended to allow the Zapata guerrilla forces to enter Mexico City before the Villa troops in order to demonstrate that Zapata and Villa could not maintain order. By pitting the southern and northern leaders, it was expected to strengthen the Carranza power. Blanco did not evacuate previously, it was pointed out, on account of fear of American intervention. The removal of the troops from Vera Cruz hastened the evacuation while Villa's troops were held outside the capital by the destruction of the railroad by the retiring Carranza forces.

Fighting at Cardenas, near Tampico, was reported today in official advices to both Carranza and Villa agencies here. Both sides claimed an absolute victory. The Villa factionists declared that Col. Vasquez, the former Federal commander of Lower California, had turned over that territory to the convention side. "Cientifico" sympathizers awaited the appearance in Mexico of Gen. Ynez Salazar, the former Federal guerrilla, who escaped recently from custody in Albuquerque, N. M. It was said that a strong following of reactionary elements awaited his appearance at any point over the international line.

El Paso, like New York, today has two rival consular offices maintained by the Villa and Carranza elements. Each Consul claims exclusive authority.

THREE AMERICANS MAY BE RELEASED.

NOGALES (Ariz.) Nov. 25.—If investigation shows that the arrest of T. W. Carraway, J. C. Wilson and J. R. McInery for alleged complicity in dynamiting bridges in Sonora took place on the American side, the men will be released, according to Mexican authorities in Nogales, Sonora. The men were brought from Hermosillo Monday night and were taken today to the scene of the alleged crime.

WASHINGTON LIQUOR LICENSES.

Attorney-General Says They May be Issued for Periods of Less than One Year.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 25.—Cities and towns of the State may issue liquor licenses for periods less than one year in order to comply with the terms of the State prohibition law, according to Atty.-Gen. W. V Tanner. His opinion to this effect was furnished to State Treasurer Edward Meath, who is advised in the opinion that the State law will be met by the State receiving 10 per cent. of the actual fee collected, instead of 10 per cent. of the annual fee, as heretofore.

MAY REINDICT SIEGEL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
NEWYORK, Nov. 25.—Dist.-Atty. Whitman is disappointed with the outcome of the trial of Henry Siegel, the bankrupt New York merchant recently found guilty in Geneseo of a misdemeanor in connection with his failure, and new indictments probably will be sought against him.

The District Attorney said today he would assist the Federal authorities if they decided to prosecute Siegel.

JOIN CAMPAIGN AGAINST VILLA.

Seven Thousand Men Being Rushed into Sonora.

Carranza Plots to Capture Enemies in Capital.

Siege of Naco Abandoned by Gov. Maytorena.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Nov. 25.—Seven thousand more troops are on their way to the State of Sonora to join in the campaign against Gen. Villa, according to information brought here by courier from Agua Prieta.

They are the forces under command of Gen. MacLorio, Luis Herrera Domingo and Mariano Arrieta, who recently renounced their allegiance to Gen. Villa and refused to recognize the Aguascalientes convention. Their headquarters will be at Zahuaripo, 250 miles south of here, it is reported. They were formerly at Parral, Chihuahua.

Information is also reported to have been received by the Sonora Land and War Tax Commission from Isidro Fabela at Vera Cruz concerning the Carranza campaign against Villa. The message says that the plan to trap Villa and Zapata in Mexico City is based on the distribution of Carranza forces around the city.

Gen. Jesus Carranza's army will hold a position east of Mexico City. Gens. Villareal and Caballero will be on the north, and Gens. Iturbe and Dieguez will mobilize their forces on the west of the capital.

The message confirms the report that Gens. Obregon and Gonzales evacuated the capital under Carranza's orders.

The evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American troops, it is asserted, greatly strengthens this campaign, and Carranza is therefore awaiting the outcome with confidence.

THREATEN DEATH TO AMERICANS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The State Department has called for a report from Consul Hostetter at Hermosillo, Mex., on private advices that T. W. Carraway of Memphis is threatened with execution there. Carraway with J. C. Wilson and J. R. McInery were arrested more than a month ago, charged with complicity in dynamiting bridges in Sonora.

TO CENTRALIZE RELIEF WORK.

AMERICAN CLEARINGHOUSE IS PLANNED IN FRANCE.

Organization Formed at the Suggestion of Retiring Minister Myron T. Herrick will have its Own Warehouse for the Distribution of Supplies to Sufferers in Europe.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Nov. 25.—An organization has been formed here to centralize the receipt and supervise the distribution of American relief in Europe. It is to be called the American Relief Clearinghouse, and has the sanction of the State Department at Washington and the approval of the French government.

The organization was formed at the suggestion of Myron T. Herrick, the retiring American Ambassador to France. The committee purposes to have its own warehouse and will take an inventory of everything sent from the United States to France. The work will be under the personal direction of a director-general, whose name will be announced later. The French committee, of which Gabriel Hanotaux, president of the Franco-American Commission for the Development of Political, Economical, Literary and Artistic Relations, will be chairman, will work in conjunction with the organization. It is intended also to form a Belgian committee.

In the United States the branch of the clearinghouse will be in charge of R. A. C. Smith, dock commissioner of New York City. In Paris the committee will be a large one. Its membership will include Robert Bacon, former American Ambassador, honorary chairman; H. Herman Harjes, chairman; J. Ridgely Carter, treasurer; Charles Carroll, secretary, and T. Piexotto, Whitney Warren, George Munro and Edward Tuck.

for keeping quiet the details of their romance. Not until yesterday did it become known that Croker was engaged, and the name of his fiancee was not revealed until today. Then it came, not from Croker, but from the father of a friend of the bride-to-be in Memphis.

From the time the first inkling of the engagement came out, both Croker and his fiancee were besieged by friends and newspapermen, but few facts were forthcoming. Croker evinced a desire to discuss European war news, and Miss Edmondson said she would prefer to say nothing until after tomorrow morning.

Finally, however, she did talk just a little. She said her family had known Croker many years. She met him at the Democratic national convention in 1900, when her father was a delegate from Oklahoma. They have met often since that time. Since Croker returned from abroad, after his first wife died three months ago, Miss Edmondson has been seen frequently in his company, but no one suspected a romance was budding.

Miss Edmondson is widely known in educational and suffrage circles. She was born in Indian Territory, but has been in the East frequently. Her first public appearance in New York was during the suffrage parade in 1913, when, attired in an Indian costume and mounted on a mustang, she represented Oklahoma. She has sung frequently in public and has written and lectured on the Cherokees.

The girl's father went to Oklahoma long before it was opened to homesteading. As a child Miss Edmondson was sent to an Indian school at Tahlequah, Okla. Later she attended the University of Chicago and a school in Boston. She has been in New York for the last year, studying.

This will be Croker's second marriage. His first wife died in Austria.

It is understood that the bride and groom will go to Florida on their honeymoon trip.

WHO IS OSTBERG?

Man Claiming to Bear Message from King Gustav of Sweden Said to be Unknown to Legation Officials.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Per Ostberg, who announced himself as a special messenger from King Gustav bearing an important message for the Legation of Sweden, when he landed in New York yesterday, remained a mystery to Minister Ekengren and other Legation officials today. Communication with the Stockholm Foreign Office failed to develop the identity of the man who said he was a royal courier.

Commentary.

OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUES FROM THE GREAT WAR.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 25.—The following communication from the Russian General Staff was given out here tonight.

"The fighting near Lodz continues. The large German forces which on November 20 broke into the region of Strykow, Brzeziny, Koluszki, Rzgow and Tuszy (all these places are in the vicinity of Lodz,) are pressed on every side by our troops, and are now attempting by a supreme effort to cut through toward the north.

"To the south of Koluszki station some scattered units are roaming about. We captured prisoners, some heavy ordnance and field guns.

"The outcome of the battle of November 24 was to our advantage.

"In the fighting near Czenstochowa and Cracow our troops manifestly have the upper hand.

"Beyond the Carpathian passes we are surrounding large bodies of Austrian troops in the vicinity of Mezolaborcz. In this region we captured a general, forty officers, more than 3500 soldiers and convoys and machine guns. Near the pass giving access to the Hungarian plains we occupy the city of Homonna."

That the Turkish forces are still retreating before the Russians in the region around Erzerum is asserted in the following statement from the General Staff of the Russian army in the Caucasus made public here tonight:

"In the direction of Erzerum our troops continue to chase before them the bulk of the Turkish forces they have defeated. We are capturing many prisoners and much ammunition and stores.

"The roads along which the Turks are retreating are strewn with the frozen bodies of their dead.

"Prisoners taken are unanimous in declaring that the defeated army is making haste with a view to seeking shelter behind the forts at Erzerum and Deve-Boyun.

"The situation elsewhere remains unchanged."

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Nov. 25, 10:30 p.m.—The following official communication was issued tonight:

"This was a quiet day. There was no alteration of any part of the entire front."

The official statement given out by the French War Office this afternoon said:

"From the North Sea to Ypres there have been no infantry attacks. Between Langemarck and Zonnebecke we have gained territory. In the vicinity of La Bassee the Indian troops recaptured from the enemy certain trenches which had been taken from them the evening before. From La Bassee to Soissons there has been almost complete quiet.

"We have made slight progress near Berry au Bac and in the Argonne. At Bethincourt, northwest of Verdun, a German attack has been repulsed. A suspension of hostilities requested by the enemy has been refused.

"In the region of Pont-a-Mousson our artillery found it possible to bombard Arnaville.

"Nothing has happened in the Vosges."

OFFICIAL GERMAN REPORT.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—In the official communication issued by the German General Staff today the Germans claim to have made progress at Arras, France; to have repulsed all the Russian attacks in East Prussia, and to have checked the Russian counter attacks in Russian Poland.

The text of the statement follows:

"Yesterday the enemy's ships did not repeat their expedition against the coast of Northern France.

"The situation in the western war theater remains unchanged. We made some slight progress at Arras.

"In East Prussia our troops repulsed all the Russian attacks.

"In the counter offensive of the Russians from the direction of Lowicz, Strykow and Brzesiny they failed.

Here Is Good News for Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This done, the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by all druggists.

SURE WAY TO SAVE AND BEAUTIFY HAIR

Stop Hair Falling—Grow More —Fluffy, Lustrous, Beautiful.

Right now—this very minute—that dull, lustreless, slowly-dying hair of yours is literally crying for help. The scalp is clogged with dandruff that imbeds itself into every pore and follicle and smothers hair life. Nature's oil secretions are cut off. The hair is parched and choked. No wonder it is falling out, breaking off, dry, brittle, without life, scraggy and thin. Your hair needs Harfina—it must have it—or you will go from bad to worse—then baldness! Harfina is a hair grower, a hair feeder, a scalp stimulant, a producer of real hair beauty. A single 50-cent bottle will prove to any one in Los Angeles how it gives the hair a fascinating gloss, fluff and lustre, makes it strong, stops it from falling, removes—and keeps away—every trace of dandruff or itching. And, best of all, Harfina actually causes fine, new downy hair to sprout out all over the scalp—hair that, will grow long, beautiful and luxuriant—because Harfina goes right down into each hair root and supplies the life-producing properties that make the hair grow.

These results are absolutely guaranteed by all druggists who sell and recommend Harfina, and who will refund price to any dissatisfied purchaser.

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 25.—A dinner given tonight by the Earl of Beauchamp, first commissioner of works in the British Cabinet, in honor of the officers of the United States cruiser collier Jason, the Santa Claus ship, closed a day in which the Mayor, Foreign Office and the citizens of Greater Plymouth manifested in every possible manner the keenest appreciation of the King and the country for the 6,000,000 Christmas gifts sent by the people of the United States to the unfortunate children in the war zone.

Following the arrival of the Jason at Devonport today American flags floated over every public building in Plymouth and from the masts of all warships and commercial craft in the harbor until sunset. Hundreds of women visited the docks at Devonport, two miles from Plymouth, after the official reception on the vessel. Among them was Mrs. Waldorf Astor, who presented Lieutenant-Commander C. H. Cox, U.S.N., in charge of the ship, with a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums on behalf of the women of England.

Admission to the navy yard at Devonport was only by card, but thousands of persons stood outside the gates viewing the Christmas ship from a distance.

Fifty covers were laid for the dinner tonight, which was served in the Royal Hotel. The dining-room was a mass of roses and chrysanthemums. The British army and navy were represented by the commandants of the Plymouth fortress and the dockyard. Mayor Baker of Plymouth and Maj. Waldorf Astor were also the guests.

The Earl of Beauchamp proposed the toast, "The King," while Sir Lewis Dyke Acland, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, responded to the toast, "The President of the United States." Lieutenant-Commander Cox, in replying to a toast to "The Christmas ship," said:

"The American navy is glad to have been in charge such a mission of peace and service which appeals to the heart of every man. Thousands of little ones across the sea wish the Jason godspeed."

John Cadman O'Laughlin, representing 260 newspapers throughout the United States which assisted in collecting the Christmas gifts, responded to the toast, "The children of Europe," reviewed the history of the movement which made possible the Christmas ship. The collier playing the role of Santa Claus, he said, was a tribute to the children of the nations.

During the dinner Sir Herbert Beauchamp read the following telegram from Lord Kitchener, the British Secretary of War:

"Please express on my behalf and that of the British army my deep appreciation and grateful thanks for the kind thought of the American people. The welcome given to Jason carries with it a message to the homes of many of the soldiers' fathers are away."

Mr. Acland said Sir Edward Grey, British Secretary of Foreign Affairs, had asked him to express on behalf of Sir Edward had been touched by the greetings of good will from the American children.

"We set much store by the peaceful and friendly relations with the United States," continued Mr. Acland, "and the act of such kindly sympathy will only increase that good feeling and I am sure that the rising generation is in accord with the same feeling."

The Earl of Beauchamp, in proposing England's appreciation of the peace treaty between England and the United States, said he was sure that within the next few years the possibilities of future peace would not be along the lines pursued by President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan. In conclusion he said:

GREAT RECEPTION FOR THE JA

DEVONPORT (Eng.) Nov. The steamer Jason, laden with gifts for children in the belligerent countries from children in the United States, arrived here today.

A flotilla of British warships, destroyers, flying the Admiralty flag, met the Christmas ship and escorted her into the harbor. Her docking was delayed for a time on account of the visit of the Earl of Beauchamp and Rear Admiral Under Secretary of the Admiralty, together with representatives of the London Board of Trade, to meet the Christmas ship. She finally docked only a few hours from the point where she had sailed for America three weeks ago.

The Earl of Beauchamp extended welcome to Lieutenant-Commander C. E. Courtney, U.S.N., in charge of the ship, and to Ian O'Laughlin, who represents newspapers which subscribed to the gifts which were carried by the Jason. Harbor craft gaily decorated, playing at the same time, and the Christmas ship with flags of the Royal Marine Light Infantry on the pier the Royal Marine band played the national airs. The Jason's crew and other gifts were then landed immediately. These were received through English and American members of the American Food Commission. The landing was rough trip, but the ship arrived without incident. She will leave here for Antwerp, where she will discharge her cargo of gifts for Belgian children.

ANY FRICTION WITH COLOMBIA.

Neutrality Case Settled, Say Bryan and Spring-Rice.

Statement Before Commons Denies Review of Old Charge.

Promises to be Good have Satisfied England.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The statement in the House of Commons today by Charles Roberts, Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, that Great Britain and France had appealed to the United States to exercise its good offices with Ecuador and Colombia to secure a strict observance of neutrality by them was regarded by both Secretary Bryan and Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, who received the dispatches, as merely a review of early developments in the case.

Both of the two separate notes sent by Great Britain and France on this subject were made public here a fortnight ago, and since then, according to officials of the Colombian Legation here, Great Britain and France have been satisfied of the sincerity of Colombia in observing neutrality.

No reply was ever made by the United States to the two notes which suggested that the United States might use its good offices in the question.

President Wilson told inquirers at the White House that the United States did not consider it any obligation or duty to undertake the enforcement of neutrality laws of South America.

ACTION OF BRYAN.

Secretary Bryan addressed inquiries to the American ministers at Bogota and Quito to learn the facts so that they might be developed between European countries and Ecuador and Colombia. The American government is fully informed and could act in the matter of course accordingly. Neither Mr. Bryan nor Mr. Lansing, however, was instructed to take up the matter with the Colombian and Ecuadorian governments, although they conferred unofficially of course. On initiative with government officials. In the same way the secretary of the Colombian legation here discussed the subject voluntarily with Secretary Bryan.

It was learned today that the Bogota government made clear to Great Britain and France at the time her minister at the course of those countries in ignoring the sovereignty of the republic of Colombia and discussing the matter with the United States. Knowing the sensitiveness of Colombia in this connection, it is understood that the State Department and the Colombian government it desired to intervene and had been represented in press reports as seeking to interfere. These assertions, according to Colombian officials, received with much satisfaction in Bogota.

The Colombian Legation here it is understood that the wireless regulations of the United States had been violated by Colombia and were being enforced.

ARATION OF THE COMMONS.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Great Britain and France have appealed to the United States to exercise its good offices to compel Colombia to observe strictly the requirements of neutrality. Otherwise the allies, it was declared in the House of Commons today, would be compelled in self-defense to take whatever measures they deemed necessary for the protection of their interests.

Charles Roberts, under secretary of the Foreign Department, speaking on behalf of the Foreign Office, made this announcement in the House of Commons today. He said that information in the possession of the government indicated that the governments of Colombia and Ecuador had assumed in certain respects to observe an attitude of strict neutrality in the war, and that their failure to do so was highly detrimental to the interests of Great Britain. The particular cause of complaint against Colombia has been the use of a high power wireless station by the British Charge d'Affaires at Bogota repeatedly, said Mr. Roberts, to induce the government to withdraw the staff of Germans at the wireless station, and institute strict measures in order to prevent the transmission of messages to belligerent warships lying in Colombian waters. In this, the charge d'Affaires has been successful, and the station closed. He had received from the charge d'Affaires a telegram stating that, in doubt whether steps taken by the Colombian government are of a sufficiently drastic nature.

WORSHIP CRITICISED.

Mr. Roberts added that the British minister at Washington, who had gone to Colombia to investigate matters there, found that the wireless station was nominally under censorship, but that in reality it was entirely under German control. He considered it of importance to suppress the operation of the station.

He also reported that German vessels in ports of Colombia had been allowed to use their wireless apparatus, although ostensibly disabled. It therefore appeared to the British government, said Mr. Roberts, that representations to Colombia were not likely to be of any avail. The allies had decided to appeal, in conjunction with the French government, to the good offices of the United States to procure a more strict enforcement of Colombian neutrality.

Mr. Roberts stated that in the event of Colombia continued to maintain an attitude the allied governments would be compelled in self-defense to take such measures as they deemed necessary for the protection of their interests.

Mr. Roberts went on to say that a similar communication had been sent to Washington with regard to Ecuador, whose Foreign Minister had himself informed the British and his French colleague that certain warships had been fitted into naval bases."

Mr. Roberts said that the government had failed to comply with the request of Great Britain to exercise proper control over its operations. The British government was of the opinion that the Colombian protests to Ecuador were unfounded, and not being prepared to support Ecuador's obligations to neutrality, judged it expedient to communicate with the government of the United States, who had consented to communicate with Colombia and Ecuador, which Great Britain was not yet aware what result had attended that action.

In reply to a question by Earl Ronalds Hay Mr. Roberts said that in the communication to Washington, no assertion had been made that these breaches of neutrality had resulted in the loss of the cruisers Good Hope and Monmouth, which were sunk in an engagement with the German Pacific fleet off the coast of Chile.

CHILE SENDS DESTROYERS TO WATCH WARSHIPS OF GERMANS.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

VALPARAISO (Chile) Nov. 25.—In pursuance of its announced intention of enforcing strict neutrality, the Chilean government today dispatched the destroyers Capitan Merino, Tarpa and Capitan O'Brien to the Juan Fernandez Islands, Chilean possessions, 400 miles off the coast. The warships sailed under sealed orders.

The authorities at the Port of Antofagasta removed vital parts of the engine of the German steamer Karnack, notwithstanding the promise of the German Minister that German steamers would not leave Chilean ports.

An official statement of the Chilean maritime authorities yesterday said it has been proved that German warships had violated the neutrality of Chile by staying for several days in the Juan Fernandez Islands.

Member of Parliament Asks Asquith if He is Aware Cousin of King George is Serving in Kaiser's Army, While Great Britain Pays His Mother.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The question whether big annuities were being paid to certain relatives of the reigning royal family when members of their families were fighting for Germany against Great Britain, was raised in the House of Commons today by William Young, M.P., for Perthshire.

Mr. Young asked Premier Asquith whether he was aware that Prince Albert of Schleswig-Holstein, son of Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, a daughter of the late Queen Victoria, and aunt of King George, was engaged as a combatant with the German army; whether the Prince was in this county at the outbreak of the war, and whether any effort had been made to detain him.

Mr Asquith replied curtly that he had been informed that Prince Albert "was serving in a military capacity in Germany," but that he had no knowledge when he left England. Mr. Young then suggested that the status of the Prince's family, who he said evidently were German citizens, should be inquired into. He asked the Premier whether he considered it "just and expedient that the British taxpayer should be called upon to pay $20,000 per annum for the upkeep of this family."

To this Mr. Asquith made no response.

The propriety of continuing a similar pension tot the Duchess of Albany, widow of a son of Queen Victoria, whose son, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, is fighting for Germany, also has been questioned.

Discuss Status of Steamer Olson and Mahoney Now Loading in San Francisco for Chile.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—With the dubious voyage of the steamer Sacramento in mind, a conference of Federal officers assembled here today to consider the status of the steamer Olsen and Mahoney, chartered to the Golden Gate Transportation Company, newly organized by James and George Flood. In attendance were Rear-Admiral Pond, Collector Davis of the Port of San Francisco, J. W. Preston, United States Attorney; Lieutenant-Commander Wallace Berthol of the naval training station on Yerba Buena Island, and Lieutenant-Commander C. V. S. Huston of the cruiser St. Louis. The Olsen and Mahoney is about half laden with a cargo which closely corresponds to that of the Sacramento except that the vessel carries no coal and the port of destination is likewise Valparaiso.

It has been reported that the Sacramento was held up by German warships and her status is now under investigation by the Chilean authorities. She carried foodstuffs, engine-room supplies and coal.

CANDLES BURN HUNDRED YEARS.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION AT OLD PLAZA CHURCH.

Replacing of Ancient Wall and Restoration of Interior to be Made Vehicle for Season of Rejoicing. Elaborate Programme to Open Festivities this Evening.

The centennial celebration of the laying of the cornerstone of the Catholic Church of Our Lady of the Angels, generally spoken of as the Old Plaza Church, will begin this evening and close Saturday evening, prefacing the solemn services of dedication of the restored church and priests' residence surrounding that patio in the rear, in which the celebration will be held.

The cornerstone of this familiar old landmark was laid one hundred years ago this month, and the old adobe wall that surrounded the patio for nearly three generations has disappeared, being replaced by modern concrete construction, with massive arches and pillars, the parish residence being built into and forming the main portion of the wall.

The celebration is in charge of Father Michael Onate, C.M.F., rector of the parish, and the ceremonies on Sunday will be of an elaborate nature, in charge of Bishop Conaty, assisted by Bishop Francisco Mendoza of Durango, Mex. The first ceremony of the day will be the unveiling of a bronze tablet in the front patio commemorating the event, at 10 o'clock a.m., followed by the dedicatory ceremonies. The tablet is the gift of the Knights of Columbus. A feature will be the singing of the mass by the members of the Young Men's Institute and the singing of the offertory by Mrs. Carmel A. de Hospital.

In addition to elaborate programmes of singing and dancing on the three evenings preceding Sunday, a dinner will be served under the arches in the patio and all kinds of refreshments and articles of various kinds will be on sale.

The concert tonight will be under the direction of Miss Violet McMartin, and the accompanists will be Miss C. Otten and Miss Lupe Rodriguez. An opening address, dealing with the ancient surroundings and the laying of the cornerstone one hundred years ago will be delivered by Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes. The remainder of the programme will be as follows:

Miss Virginia Arquello, song; Miss Herta Imhof, umbrella dance; Mrs. Nettie R. Robeson, reading; Miss Violet McMartin and Miss Mary Brown, "La Jota," Spanish dance; Miss C. Otten, piano solo; Miss Virginia Arquello, song; Miss Martha Pfennig, Highland Fling; Manuel Castaneda, "El Tambor Mayor;" Mrs. Rose Bruks, vocal solo; Miss Martha Pfennig, "Sailor's Hornpipe;" F. E. Stahl, cornet solo; Miss Mary Brown, toe dance; Mrs. Rose Bruks, vocal solo; F. E. Stahl, cornet solo; Miss C. Otten, piano solo.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Nov. 25.—[Reported by W. D. Fuller, Observer, temporarily in charge.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.06; at 5 p.m., 30.00. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 64 deg. and 76 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 20 per cent.; 5 p.m., 10 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 11 miles; 5 p.m., west, velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 80 deg.; lowest, 58 deg. Rainfall for season, .52 of an inch. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The pressure continues unusually high over the greater portion of the country, the crest of the high area stretching from Tennessee to Nevada. A barometric depression is outlining itself in the British possessions north of Montana, but is apparently unattended by precipitation thus far. While fair weather prevails generally over the country, heavy precipitation is reported from Texas, 4.42 inches having fallen at Galveston since Tuesday morning. Light sprinkles of rain, or snow flurries are reported from New Mexico, Missouri, Illinois and New York. Freezing weather prevails over Nevada and the higher elevations of Utah and Colorado, but generally speaking, it is warmer throughout the United States. The pressure conditions prevailing indicate fair and pleasant weather for Thanksgiving day in Los Angeles and vicinity, probably without marked temperature changes, though it is likely that day temperatures prevailing will be somewhat lower than for the past few days.

LOCAL FORECAST.

STATE FORECAST.

"...say it honestly, that ...waste is waste and that ...endow a vagrant with ...personal responsibility he ...is better out of the way. Yet all our system of dealing with unemployment and vagrancy and criminal problems is merely a shoving of the problem along—not solving it.

"After a while when we shall become honest with ourselves we will give every man a place to work and if he won't work we will class him as so much waste matter.

"Personally, I believe that though a sweep of business depression, with its accompaniment of unemployment, leaves many with blunted sense of responsibility in the economic scheme, this sense can be reawakened by providing them with work. If need be, and the sense is too much blunted to make them want to work, more stringent remedies should be provided."

MERE MAKESHIFTS.

Summing up his observations while on his eastern tour, Mr. Watson stated that most of the palliatives provide for the unemployed problem are mere makeshifts, that the root of the evil has not yet been attacked.

One problem on which Mr. Watson is working for the State Commission is that of providing farm colonies for unemployed. The idea is to have several counties combine in purchasing locations for these farms and using them as instrument to reawaken the latent sense of responsibility in those that prove recalcitrant after municipal treatment through the "work test" of the lodging-houses. In other words, the confirmed "I won't work" will be given the nth degree in a final effort to reform him.

TWO DOZEN FAST CARS.

Pacific Electric Orders Them at Cost of Sixteen Thousand Each.

In preparation for 1915 traffic the Pacific Electric placed an order yesterday with the Pressed Steel Car Company for twenty-four fast interurban cars to cost a total of $384,000. The cars are for use on the Los Angeles-San Bernardino-Riverside high-voltage lines and will be the finest ever placed in service out of here.

"While, like every other corporation," said President Shoup yesterday in discussing the order, "the Pacific Electric is sailing close-reefed in somewhat stormy financial weather, we have no doubt that Southern California traffic next year will justify these additional units. For that matter, we have not lost any of our optimism as to the future of Southern California in any respect."

The cars will be of all-steel, anti-telescopable, with Dean end construction and lately-designed seats and heating and lighting arrangements. The General Electric Company has the contract for the electrical equipment. The order supplements an order placed earlier in the year for twenty-one cars.

After a Year.

REHASH WITH NO SENSATION.

Grand Jury Files a Brief Final Report.

Scores County Clerk and County Auditor.

Recommendations go with Many Bouquets.

The county grand jury in its final report submitted yesterday severely criticises County Clerk Lelande for alleged carelessness in handling public money, charges extravagance in the maintenance of city schools, pats nearly all of the county officials on the back, and recommends the establishment of an adequate system of inventory providing for the accounting for all personal property belonging to the county to prevent loss or theft. The report is the least sensational and the shortest of any handed down within recent years. It is really a rehash of a dozen special and partial reports filed by the jury since the nineteen members were sworn in December 30, nearly a year ago. The entire report is contained in eighteen pages.

The report criticises County Auditor Lewis's office from an accounting standpoint and asserts that the office is not what it should be from that angle. The jury alleges that it found that after Auditor Lewis had completed his audit of his office, erasures were made in certain books and figures substituted for the original figures.

"There are 220 parcels of land from the tunnel to Ninth street along Broadway that pay half of the assessment," said Councilman Conwell, "and their owners are not asking for a reconsideration of the matter. The property has been assessed upon the principles of benefits derived, and, if anything, the people who have the just complaint against the assessment are the owners of the property along Broadway as far as Ninth street."

The property owners who attended the demonstration yesterday will hold a mass meeting tomorrow night at Temple and Broadway to take further steps toward making a last legal fight against the improvement. Meanwhile the City Attorney is preparing a report to the Council as to its rights in the matter, and the chances are that the protestants will be obliged to sue for an injunction if they desire to carry on their fight against the improvement.

Public Works Board Ready to be Told How.

Invites Efficiency Director to Explain Himself.

Mayoralty Contest Crosses Charter Wires.

Next June's Mayoralty contest crossed wires with the coming December's charter amendment election yesterday when Director of Efficiency Burks took official cognizance of political gossip and denied that the proposed city manager plan was devised for the purpose of making Councilman Conwell Mayor and himself city manager.

Mr. Conwell is chairman of the Council Efficiency Committee and one of the men behind the proposed city-manager plan. Mr. Burks is credited with authorship of the scheme, which is different from any so far tried.

Simultaneous with the denial of Director Burks there was circulated about the City Hall a list of eight "eligibles" for Mayor. This list, which is printed in the usual form of pre-primary tickets, has the names of Mayor Rose, President Whiffen of the Council, Chief of Police Sebastian, Justice of the Peace Summerfield, Councilmen Conwell, Snowden and Wheeler and H. S. McCallum.

"A report is being actively circulated by some of the self-appointed candidates for the Mayoralty that the ten charter amendments now before the people have been worked up to bring about the election of Mr. Conwell as Mayor and appointment of myself as city manager," said Mr. Burks.

"This is a deliberate, petty, malicious, unqualified and futile lie."

"How many alleged candidates for Mayor have circulated the Conwell-Burks ticket story?" he was asked.

"Two of them," replied Mr. Burks.

"Who are the two?"

The heels and flying coat-tails of the tall and sinewy efficiency director were flashed around the corner of the City Hall and he disappeared without giving names.

While all this was going on, the Board of Public Works followed the lead of the Public Service Commission by demanding that Director Burks appear and show a way to save $1,000,000 annually, as he claimed that that amount is wasted on public work. A resolution, offered by Capt. Osborne, was adopted by the board, as follows:

AN INVITATION.

Whereas, The director of the Efficiency Commission, in submitting to the City Council proposed amendments to the city charter, is reported to have stated that $1,000,000 per year could be saved in the public work of the city by doing all such work direct by the city, instead of the present system of advertising for competitive bids and awarding contract to the lowest bidder, and by the city manufacturing at its works at Monolith all cement entering into public works; and

Whereas, The city charter and the State laws require that all public

FLOOR OF BROADWAY TUNNEL TO GO DOWN.

Minority Property Owners Objecting to Assessment for Lowering Grade Seek to Halt Important Improvement, but the Council Doesn't See it that Way. Will Make Downtown District Much Easier of Access.

LESS than half the property owners north and east of the Broadway tunnel assessed for the proposed lowering of the floor were defeated in their spectacular demonstration before the City Council yesterday when they tried to halt the proceedings so far taken, and were told that the important improvement must go on.

The City Council told the protestants, who are in the minority, that the work has now gone beyond the Council and the only recourse of the people is in the courts. Attorney Haas for the protestants presented a statement of the protestants which was referred to the City Attorney. As the final day for paying assessments is December 4, the City Attorney will review the legal side of the controversy and report to the Council at once whether it has the power to modify or change its attitude. Otherwise, the property owners must sue for injunction before December 4—next Friday.

The demonstration in the Council yesterday was made by the same persons who fought the improvement from the beginning, and who were defeated at every step. Many of these, Councilmen stated, own property which will be directly benefited. Joseph Mesmer was chairman of the delegation, and was chief spokesman against the tunnel lowering, saying it would not benefit the people who are assessed, and that the work should be done under the bond act instead of by special assessment.

CONTRACT ALREADY LET.

The legal foundation for the lowering of the grade of the tunnel had been laid, the contract let and the assessments are being paid under protest. Half of the cost of the tunnel work will be borne by owners of business property between California street and Ninth street, along both sides of Broadway, but none of the property owners along this street has protested. In fact, while they pay more proportionately they all favor the lowering of the grade, and making much easier of access the downtown district, besides relieving traffic congestion through the improved bore.

There are 16,700 parcels of land assessed in the tunnel district, 220 parcels of which along Broadway bear one-half of the entire cost. The contract price is $184,800, damages to adjoining property, $56,645 and engineering and other expenses sufficient to bring the total cost of the improvement to $285,180.75. The contract has been let and the work will proceed as soon as the money is collected. Most of the assessments now being paid are paid under protest. The largest assessments, those against South Broadway property, are not being paid under protest.

The Business Stability Association, through Homer Laughlin and Miles S. Gregory, asked that the work be carried on, as now planned, and Attorney C. F. McFarland, speaking for merchants along North Broadway, urged that there be no delay in the prosecution of the actual work, now that the legal proceedings have been taken.

Chairman Mesmer of the protestants called upon a number of speakers who reiterated the grounds of their objection, and President Whiffen interrupted the oratory.

"WASTING YOUR TIME."

"You are all wasting your time," said he. "We are pleased to hear your grievance, but we can't do anything. We are obliged to follow Mr. Mesmer's proposition that your attorney's statement be sent to the City Attorney to ascertain as to whether your claims for a cessation of the proceedings are valid."

Los Angeles-The Hague.

SINGLETON'S WIDOW BRIDE OF A BANKER.

A FOREIGN romance which began in Holland and led a lover to America took a definite turn yesterday, when Mrs. John Singleton, widow of the late gold-mine operator, and Count G. A. M. de Pauw of The Hague were married in Los Angeles. The wedding was not a surprise to the bride's friends.

When the widow of one of the discoverers of the famous Yellow Aster mine came to Los Angeles from Holland last July to take over the half-interest in the $215,648 estate left by her picturesque husband she was preceded by one day at the Alexandria by Count de Pauw.

After remaining at the hotel a few days the widow and her adopted daughter, Mary Lillian, 11 years old, transferred to apartments at the Alvarado Terrace Hotel. The Count remained at the Alexandria. Guests at the hotel noticed that the polite foreigner was very attentive to both the widow and the little one. Yesterday morning the Count engaged one of the most expensive parlor suites in the hotel.

In the marriage license issued yesterday the age of the groom is given as 32 and that of the bride as 31. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. O. Nash at the Universalist Church, Hoover and Alvarado streets, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Among the few guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Mooers, Mrs. R. J. Connors and Mrs. Anna Ambrose.

Count and Countess de Pauw were given a wedding supper at the Alexandria. The bride and groom will take a short wedding trip in Southern California. They do not expect to return to Europe until war conditions improve.

Friends of the bride say that it is a real love match. The groom is a banker and rated wealthy. The acquaintance which resulted in yesterday's marriage was formed during the bride's residence of two years in Holland, where she went to educate her adopted daughter.

The little girl speaks several languages and is a talented musician. The Singletons adopted the child in New York City. They were so impressed with her beauty and intelligence that they obtained permission from her father to make her their child by law.

John Singleton died May 20, last. He was the last of the trio of Argonauts who discovered the rich mine in Kern county.

Mr. Singleton and his wife separated in 1910, when she brought divorce proceedings, which later were dismissed. Mr. Singleton transferred 10,000 shares of the Yellow Aster mine stock to her in 1908. He had previously given her valuable property.

Countess de Pauw's maiden name was Miss Stella Graham. Before her marriage to the mining man she was an actress.

EASY MONEY COMES HARD.

New Indictment May be Returned Against Scion of Nobility in Jail for Postal Fraud.

The Federal grand jury is investigating a complaint against Ronald True, a young Englishman, who, it is charged, stole three money orders from Cement Plant, a postoffice in Solano county, some months ago.

True got rid of one of the orders, made out for $100, in Oakland, and is now serving a term of fifteen months in the Alameda County Jail. It is alleged that he disposed of two in Los Angeles, the Kelso brothers, cafe proprietors, and the Salt Lake ticket office being the victims.

True was apprehended in New Orleans, as he was trying to make his way out of the country into Mexico. The grand jury will make a report on the case next Tuesday. It is said by friends of True that he is the son of a titled Englishman and that he has other high connections abroad. If an indictment is returned the instrument will be held until True serves his sentence in Oakland, when he will be brought here for a hearing.

SUING THE RAILWAY.

Judge Wellborn and a jury in the United States District Court are hearing the evidence in a suit brought in behalf of James and Mary Evergreen against the Los Angeles Railway, asking damages for injuries alleged to have been received in April, 1913, at Central avenue and Sixteenth street. A carriage occupied by the Evergreens was struck by a car. In the case of Mrs. Evergreen damages in $20,262 are prayed for and for the husband $2173.

They Take the Oath of Office.

Sheriff-elect Cline and Under-Sheriff White,

Central figures last night in a remarkable affair at the home of E. R. Werdin. Ex-Sheriff White's appointment as Under-Sheriff had not been announced by Mr. Cline, who is also an ex-Sheriff.

DIAMONDS AND GOLD FOR NEW OFFICIAL.

THE COUNTY CLERK'S office was moved temporarily last night from the courthouse to the beautiful home of E. R. Werdin, No. 1620 South Hobart boulevard, where among twenty of his closest friends Sheriff-elect John C. Cline took the oath of office. The unusual procedure was further emphasized by a double ceremony, the oath also being administered by County Clerk Lelande to W. A. White, Mr. Cline's appointee for undersheriff.

Following the official ceremonies the Sheriff-elect was presented with a badge, the emblem of the office he is soon to assume. The badge is one of the most gorgeous and costly ever given to an officer of the law. It is made of solid gold and set with hundreds of dollars worth of diamonds. Engraved on the front is the name of the recipient, while the word "Sheriff" is written in diamonds, and surrounding this cluster are similar but larger gems.

The presentation speech was made by Attorney George P. Adams, a lifelong friend of Mr. Cline, who paid a high tribute to the Sheriff-elect. He said the gift came from his nearest friends, the men who had learned to honor and trust him, and concluded by saying he hoped and knew that the trust would never be betrayed.

Mr. Cline in his reply declared that words failed him, that he was at a loss to express his feelings and high regard for the men who had supported him so faithfully in his campaign, and who had such great confidence in him. "Rather than betray that confidence, rather than fail to live up to all that is expected of me, I will die," he said in closing.

As host, Mr. Werdin, who has been closer than a brother to Mr. Cline for more than twenty-five years, was voted the last word in entertainment. An elaborate banquet was thoroughly enjoyed, after which the guests told stories, talked politics, past and future, decided the city-manager proposition, named the next Mayor and even went so far as to determine how long the war will last.

PLAYING NEW GAME COSTLY.

One Killed, Five Injured, in Three Accidents.

Scurrying "Jitney" Busses Reap Heavy Toll.

Woman Takes Joy-ride as Driver Sleeps.

The "jitney" busses, the little automobiles that guarantee to carry you almost anywhere for 5 cents and scurry about the streets in seemingly-reckless abandon, reaped their toll yesterday. One body is in the morgue, four persons are in the County Hospital, and one other is in a serious condition at home, all victims of three different accidents.

L. F. Dorsey, a clerk, 35 years of age, living at No. 2317 West Thirtieth street, climbed on the running board of a 5-cent automobile traveling south on Main street. The driver and owner, A. Hasewinkle, of No. 1023 West Thirtieth street, says that he told Mr. Dorsey to climb inside, but that the latter refused, stating that he was all right on the outside, as the machine was crowded.

As they passed Fifteenth street at 2:30 o'clock a dull thud was heard. One of the passengers looked back of the machine and saw a crumpled body in the road. The driver stopped; all noticed that Mr. Dorsey was missing, and then they backed up to the body. It was that of Mr. Dorsey's. He had somehow slipped from the machine and in falling struck his head on the pavement. He was immediately rushed to the Receiving Hospital, but his life had passed away before medical aid could be rendered. The body was taken to the Bresee mortuary.

DISASTROUS PLAY.

The playful sally of a woman auto driver yesterday afternoon in taking her hand from the steering gear and asking for "jitney" fares caused the overturning at Ninety-sixth and Main streets of an automobile taken by her while its owner slept. She and her three guests were injured.

The car is a 5-cent livery automobile and is owned by H. G. Schroeder of No. 2819 Griffith avenue. Following what he said was a custom, he drove to the house of Mrs. E. L. Campbell, a friend from Iowa, at No. 217 West Sixty-sixth street, which is near the end of his route, and took an afternoon nap.

Without his knowledge, Mr. Schroeder said yesterday, Mrs. Campbell took the automobile, which she has run for but a short time, and invited the tenants of her property next door to accompany her.

The party took a course out Main street and at Ninety-sixth Mrs. Campbell, seeing an auto in "jitney" service, put a hand over the back of her seat saying:

"This is a 'jitney,' too. Five cents each, please."

In the tonneau were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawth and their 3-year-old daughter. Mr. Hawth was reaching for a nickle to call the bluff when the car swerved sharply to the left. Mrs. Campbell turned the steering gear to the right but control of the machine had been lost. The car went into a ditch and toppled over, throwing all four out.

Mrs. Campbell was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where, beside a possible fracture of the skull, she suffered numerous abrasions and contusions over the body.

Mrs. Hawth suffered from a slight concussion and cuts over the eyes. The baby's head was also cut and many scratches were inflicted upon Mr. Hawth's person.

Last night the four were taken to the County Hospital.

While peacefully coming down North Broadway at 9 o'clock last night with his horse and buggy, C. A. Sanderson of No. 1914 Pasadena avenue was violently thrown from the rig at Avenue 19, when a "jitney" bus with an unknown driver crashed into his outfit. In an unconscious condition Mr. Sanderson was taken to the Receiving Hospital. Later he was removed to his home. He is suffering severe cuts and abrasions on his head and shoulders and other injuries.

After the accident the "jitney" bus driver drove a little ways on and stopped. Then seeing Mr. Sanderson cared for by others he disappeared. The automobile he drove carried license No. 100333, which is listed under the name of Richard W. Middleton, No. 576 North Pritchard street, Los Angeles. Later in the evening the driver, who proved to be Mr. Middleton, surrendered himself at Central Station. He was released.

POLITE WITH GUN IN HAND.

THAT IS WAY YOU WILL FIND ALL OFFICERS AT NIGHT DURING CRIME WAVE.

"Be courteous—but with your gun handy" is the pith of a general order given plainclothes officers and others of the nocturnal watches yesterday by Chief Sebastian.

"Alertness" is another quality the Chief would impress upon his men. He wants officers to send into the detective bureau all persons who behave at all suspiciously. In that way he hopes that many undesirables of criminal tendencies will be "turned up."

But before an officer can send his man "in" he must get hold of him and before that the officer probably would stop him and talk to him.

Therefore, that Mr. Citizen and Taxpayer shall take no umbrage should a plainclothes officer accost him, or, worse yet, mistake him for a footpad and let a bullet fly, the order has gone out that detectives or plainclothesmen in halting any person must:

First say, "I am a police officer."

Second, display his badge.

But perhaps courtesy may be entirely wasted upon the person halted. He may be neither a citizen nor a taxpayer. He may be a transient whose chief baggage is a "45." Therefore the Chief says:

"Also, be prepared to defend yourself in the event that the person you have halted is not a law-abiding citizen; it is not necessary to take chances, so exercise caution."

HER BOOK CLOSED.

Mother-in-Law of Well-known Local Capitalist Passes—Husband Traveling in East Notified.

Mrs. John H. Ebeling of No. 411 North Avenue Sixty-four, mother-in-law of Roger M. Andrews, a well-known capitalist of this city, passed away suddenly yesterday at the age of 69 years. Beside the widower, John H. Ebeling, formerly head of one of the largest milling firms at Green Bay, Wis., she leaves two sons, one of whom is a resident of this city, and a daughter, Mrs. Andrews.

Mr. Ebeling, who retired from business some years ago and moved to California, has been traveling in the east looking after certain business interests which he possesses there. He is speedily returning to this city. No funeral arrangements will be made until his arrival.

Mrs. Ebeling was a native of Saxony, Germany, and came to this country about fifty years ago. She was married about forty-six years ago. She was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Childhood's Offering.

LITTLE HANDS BUSY IN CAUSE OF BEAUTY.

FIVE square feet of planted ground for every one of the 500,000 inhabitants of the city will be the school children's contribution tomorrow—fall planting day—to the great cause of beautifying the gateway city in preparation for 1915.

Through the agricultural department of the city schools, $1,200 packages of flower and vegetable seeds were distributed yesterday to the 90,000 pupils of the public schools. These are for planting tomorrow in accordance with a plan worked out by the school authorities and the City-beautifying Committee of the 1915 Committee of Los Angeles County and City for Entertainment and Celebration of the Opening of the Panama Canal.

The result will be, according to members of the committee, a planting of 3,120,000 square feet of ground, allowing one ounce of seed to ten square feet. The planting of shrubs and plants will also be large.

This most spectacular of movements for the beautifying of the city originated with C. L. Shufeldt of the agricultural department of the public schools as an educational movement, and early gained marked momentum. With the backing of the 1915 Committee, arrangements were made last week by which 150 of the city's teachers most learned in planting lore were detailed to visit the homes of children and assist them in the solving of their problems. Seed men and nurserymen also gave marked impetus to the movement by quoting cost rates for all seed and plants, either to the schools or to individual pupils.

Added incentive to plant is given by the attractive cash prizes offered by the Committee for School and Home Gardens. There are prizes of from $5 to $35 for home gardens in each of the 150 school districts of the city, also prizes of from $150 to $400 for the best school gardens.

Nor can the children go far wrong in their work—they cannot consign a Canterbury-bell seed to the same dark depths that would suit a sweet pea seed, for instance—for 30,000 copies of a "Home Garden Manual," compiled especially for their use, were distributed yesterday, one to each home. This "Manual" represents the earnest effort of Mr. Schufeldt, assisted by horticulturists of note, to create a guide suited to the childish understanding, and is a real contribution to Southland plant literature.

With the razing yesterday of a number of temporary sheds along the Figueroa-street side of Exposition Park, the first step was taken in a scheme for the creation of a most pretentious garden of native plants there. The gathering of these plants and shrubs has been under way for some months, under direction of Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Floral Committee of the 1915 Committee. There will be five acres devoted to the garden and the plowing will begin tomorrow and the planting within a few days. The entire cost of the work will be about $18,000.

Though the "kiddiets" will monopolize attention tomorrow in their great work of "primping up" the city for the next year, fall planting day is for all, by proclamation of the Mayor.

"Let us all plant," said Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday, "big and little, even if it is only one seed. Think what a wealth of beauty would result if every family planted a rose, for instance!"

GREEN OR NOT GREEN.

Bureau of Chemistry Lets Citrus Growers Into Secret of When an Orange is Immature.

With the proviso that requirements may be made more strict after data from several crops are available, Benjamin R. Hart, chief of the Western District of the Bureau of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, issued the following notice to citrus growers yesterday through the Citrus Protective League:

The Bureau of Chemistry has received repeated requests to define the terms immature and maturity as used in food inspection decision 183 relating to the coloring of green citrus fruit. Such a definition seems desirable in view of the uncertainty now existing regarding the scope of this decision. As a result of the investigations carried out during the season 1913 and 1914, the Bureau of Chemistry considers California oranges to be immature if the juice does not contain soluble solids equal to or in excess of eight parts to every part of acid contained in the juice, the acidity of the juice to be calculated as citric acid without water or crystallization. Owing to the fact that opportunity has been given to study the composition of California oranges during one season only, the ratio set at this time is lower than that which is believed to be the minimum for properly-matured fruit. It may therefore be expected that the requirements will be made more strict after data from several crops are available.

ALLEGED COUNTERFEITER BEGS FOR NO PUBLICITY.

Former Reputable Business Man, in Jail for Making and Passing Spurious Coin, Blames Criminal Associations, but Work Indicates He is an Old-timer.

James Elwood Kentner, alleged counterfeiter, faced a new charge when arraigned before United States Commissioner Williams yesterday afternoon.

The original complaint sworn to by Secret Service Agent Hazen charged Kentner with passing counterfeit coin. The amended complaint alleges that he also had in his possession the molds, metal, etc., used in the manufacture of counterfeit coin. This information was secured when a search was made of his room in the Miller Hotel, No. 230 East Second street. In default of $2000 bail Kentner was committed to the County Jail to await the action of the grand jury. The preliminary examination was fixed for next Wednesday.

The investigation made by Mr. Hazen indicates that at one time Kentner was a reputable business man, representing the wholesale liquor house of Samuel Werthheimer & Son, Nos. 117-118 South Third street, St. Joseph, Mo., on the Pacific Coast. Later on he conducted a chicken ranch at Morena, near San Diego. But the chicken business did not pay, and he quit it last spring. He was arrested for stealing a horse and buggy, and was afterward released by Judge Willis on probation. He has a married daughter in this city.

The molds and metal seized indicate that Kentner is a most accomplished counterfeiter. He made a specialty of dollars, halves and quarters. He treats the coin with a new process that adds to their appearance as easy spenders and the molds from which they are made impress Mr. Hazen as far above the ordinary in construction.

He has several names in addition to James Elwood Kentner, the list including James Powell and James Elwood. In fact, but for the fact that he has business cards bearing the name of James Elwood Kentner, there would be no certainty that such is his name.

Last summer, soon after the release of Kentner from the County Jail, it was reported to Chief of Police Wilson of San Diego that a package containing a set of counterfeiting tools had been picked up in the depot of the La Jolla Railway. Word was immediately sent to Agent Hazen, who advised that the package be watched, but nobody called for it. The molds are of a peculiar make, following the lines of those found in possession of Kentner, and it is believed the stuff belonged to him, as Kentner admits having lived in that vicinity at the time of the find.

Kentner is over 70 years of age, and long ago was a druggist in Kansas City. He has a brother, Oakley Kentner, a business man of Mound City, Kan., and he has been communicated with. The old man begged piteously that his married daughter, who lives on Arlington street, this city, be kept in ignorance of his arrest. He claims that all he knows of counterfeiting he learned in the County Jail, when he was confined there last summer on the charge of horse stealing. This is doubted by Agent Hazen, who says that his work indicates that he has been in the game a long time.

CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS.

Seven More Clemente Island Crawfishermen are Arrested on Sheep-stealing Charge.

Fresh mutton hanging outside their tent on San Clemente Island led to the arrest of seven more crawfishermen, Tuesday. They were brought back by Deputy Sheriff Adams and taken to the County Jail. Deputy Adams left the harbor Tuesday morning on the launch Imp and returned early yesterday morning.

This makes a total of more than twenty men who have been arrested on the island upon the charge of stealing sheep belonging to Howland Bros. With the opening of the lobster season the island became the camping ground for nearly 100 fishermen. With plenty of sheep running at large, the temptation of fresh mutton was too much for some of them. Howland Bros., who have a grazing lease from the government, have been making war on the fishermen to stop the raids upon their flocks.

MERCHANTS PROTEST AGAINST PRESENT POLICY.

M. and M. Petition Southern Pacific to Purchase in Los Angeles Instead of San Francisco Supplies Used Here and Thus Eliminate Any Discrimination.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association addressed a communication yesterday to H. V. Platt, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific Railroad, protesting against the policy of the company in purchasing supplies for the local division in San Francisco and elsewhere. The following letter was sent by Secretary Zeehandelaar by order of the board of directors:

"Within the last few weeks we have received several communications from our merchants complaining that the Southern Pacific Railway Company buys very little, if any, products in the Los Angeles market and requesting this association to call your attention to this deplorable condition and to request you to intercede in the behalf of our commercial welfare. The purchasing for the local division is almost entirely done in San Francisco and the goods shipped for consumption to Los Angeles. You will admit that this is eminently unfair to our merchants and to this city, inasmuch as the Southern Pacific derives a tremendous revenue in freight and passenger traffic from Los Angeles and the surrounding country. We believe that the merchants and manufacturers of Los Angeles and Southern California are entitled to the patronage of your corporation, at least to the extent of those articles that are used in your division, and we can conceive of no reason why goods that are in the local market should be bought in San Francisco for consumption here, to the detriment of our commercial and financial interests.

"Based upon these facts, a strong feeling prevails among our merchants that this city is being discriminated against by your company in favor of San Francisco, and it will be to the interest of the Southern Pacific Railway Company to give the matter careful consideration and, if possible, in the future patronize our merchants and manufacturers to the extent indicated herein."

FOREST RANGERS SAVE MILLIONS.

MORE FIRES, LESS LOSS PAST SUMMER THAN EVER.

Nearly Fifteen Hundred Blazes in Woods with only Ninety-thousand-dollars Damage, Fire Fighters Saving Property Valued at Over Three Million—"Tenderfeet" at Fault.

The forest fires in California the past summer directly threatened to destroy government resources worth more than $3,000,000, according to the official reports just submitted. The forest rangers, however, succeeded in preventing most of the loss, so that the actual damage suffered by the government will not exceed $90,000.

The fire season was the worst in the history of the forest service, 1468 fires occurring as against a normal average for this district of 798. Conditions of wind and temperature were at times extremely favorable to the spread of fires, and only the utmost promptness on the part of the rangers prevented more of them from developing into serious conflagrations. A total area of 53,763 acres was burned, of which 44,463 acres were brush.

The government's protective system has been greatly improved in the past four years. Telephone lines have been extended, look-out points equipped and manned and the forest firemen have been stationed at more advantageous points. The result has been that last season 1200 fires were put out in their early stages, nearly 1000 more than in 1910, and the 268 that got away were fought out before they had burned an area of a half-mile square.

On the basis of reports submitted to the district forester, it is estimated that the loss averted by the quick action of the rangers, is $3,013,000. This figure is believed to be conservative. It is corroborated to some extent by a comparison with 1910 when a little more than one-third as many fires caused an actual loss of $500,000.

"Tenderfeet" were responsible for most of the preventable fires, having caused 240. The Southern California forests suffered particularly from this form of carelessness. In seven forests in Northern California incendiarism was prevalent, causing 212 fires. The government paid out $115,820 during the season for fire-fighting in California.

Tit for Tat.

MAN WHO'S HELD UP CAPTURES BANDITS.

TRICKED into pocketing his revolver, an armed bandit and his partner were early last night captured by Chester de Lovelace after they had attempted to hold him up behind the counters of his restaurant at No. 1115 North Main street. In the city jail the bandits gave the names of W. B. McDaniels and Lorenzo Sarri, and both declared that they are only 17 years of age.

Walking into the restaurant at 10 o'clock, McDaniels whipped a large revolver from his hip pocket and ordered De Lovelace, the only one in the place, to throw up his hands, which he did. The two young men then ordered the restaurant keeper to open his cash drawer.

With his hands still in the air Mr. De Lovelace asked the two bandits why they were holding him up and told them that if caught they would receive punishment. The men then declared they were hungry and must have food. "I tell you what let's do," said Mr. De Lovelace, "you fellows put up your revolver and I will give you the best meal you have had for some time." Without more discussion the bandits put up their revolver and seated themselves at the lunch counter. Mr. De Lovelace then sprang to the cash drawer, drew a revolver, and captured both men.

Searched at the East Side Police Station, a large amount of jewelry was discovered in McDaniels's possession. Sarri, according to the police, carried no revolver and had no jewelry. Both young men confessed to the police that they had intended to hold up Mr. De Lovelace.

According to the story told by the prisoners, they arrived in Los Angeles yesterday on a freight train from Sacramento. The revolver and the jewelry McDaniels declared he got from a "drunk" he robbed in Sacramento.

Detectives Hicky and Edwards believe these are the bandits who for weeks have been working throughout the east side. The story told by the bandits is not believed by the police.

Make 'Em Work.

SAWTELLE, Nov. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Annually the problem of the unemployed, the hobo, the yeggmen and other misdemeanor cases crop up. I would suggest the following:

Work for everyone who wants work. And make everyone who is able with no visible means of support work. This would include vagrants, yeggmen and all misdemeanor offenders.

Create a State law for all public work to be done by the State, such as reclamation of swamp land, public roads, irrigation and drainage canals and any other public works.

Divide the State into districts with a supervisor for each district. Give every man who wants work who has resided in the State six months or more a job at a wage which shall be established by law.

As this would be an emergency law I would suggest that the pay should be about 50 or 60 per cent. of normal rates so that there would be no inducements for men to seek State work to the detriment of others. Make all misdemeanor offenders pay a fine or work it out on the State public works.

Provide for the men of families or their dependents that they shall have same pay as voluntary laborers get, and said money shall be paid to their dependent ones, while the party is serving his time.

E. A. SPREEGLE.

A Protest.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am surprised beyond comprehension that supposedly good men and women would advocate secrecy as to the worst crimes known among men, thereby encouraging men in trusted positions to destroy innocent children, as is often done. Committing suicide only proves guilt. My sympathy goes to the destroyed, not the destroyer. I have my opinion of some of those leading sympathizers of great intellectuality. The public when paying for the news should get it, and know what is happening among the high as the low officials, so they can act accordingly. Otherwise they would or could bribe others and the public be at their mercy until something extraordinary in the course of time as in the Lewis case. That the public committed their children for protection and training. The victim and not the criminal should be bemoaned. MRS. A. ELDERSON.

BANKERS WOULD BRING GOOD TIMES IF THEY COULD

Occasionally a man is heard to remark, "If the banks would loosen up and loan their money, good times would soon return." Or sometimes a man enters a Bank and inquires, "Why are the Banks holding on to all their money?" If such persons had a very simple understanding of the first principles of banking, they would soon become aware of the weakness of such remarks.

The law absolutely requires a Bank to keep a certain percentage of its deposits on hand in cash, in order that it may be able to meet promptly all demands that are likely to be made upon it. Customarily, most Banks carry at least 25% of their demand deposits on hand in cash. Some Banks carry regularly as high as 35% or 40% if the line of their deposits is of such nature that they are likely to be suddenly drawn upon for large sums, and consequently subject to great fluctuations. The Officers of each Bank, familiar with the character of its own deposits, are the best judges as to what is a safe percentage of cash for the Bank to carry.

If the Banks could safely loan out every dollar of this reserve cash, nothing would suit them better. That would enable them to accommodate a large number of their friends and customers, and would tremendously augment their earnings. But this cannot be done, as the banks have no source from which they can draw a never-ending supply of money. They have but two sources from which they can secure funds with which to maintain or replenish a decreasing cash reserve; viz., from cash brought in by depositors, or by requiring borrowers to repay their loans. A Bank dislikes to call its loans, as that accentuates any stringent conditions which may, at the time, exist.

When deposits are not increasing and a Bank has but its normal cash reserve on hand, it has no surplus funds to loan. A demand, therefore from uninformed people that the Bank continue to loan freely is not only unwise but illogical. Neither would it be fair or right to accede to such a demand. The Bank's plain duty is not to loan its cash reserve for the accommodations of an insistent public, nor for its own increased profit, but to maintain it intact in order that the demands of depositors—to whom the money rightfully belongs—may be promptly met.

As a class, the Bankers of the country are an honorable and conscientious body of men, earnestly striving to serve the public efficiently. As vitally as any other class of men that can be mentioned they are interested in a return of prosperous times; and if it depended upon any action the Bankers could take, that action would be taken and good times would soon be here.

IF YOU have neither time nor opportunity to join the family group in person, you are not entirely barred from taking part in the home festivities on Thanksgiving Day. The telephone will enable you to mingle your voice with their voices and share in the spirit of reunion.

Public telephones are found wherever busy men may be, and it is so easy to step to the telephone and send your voice to those from whom you must be separated on Thanksgiving Day.

Bring happiness to yourself and to the folks at home.—Telephone.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) With reserves steadily increasing, and the demand increasing, the money situation has reached its easiest stage since the great war in Europe began. Interior banks are now finding it difficult to place loans in central reserve cities, and rates are constantly growing cheaper. First-class securities have been placed at their best price, with a steady inquiry. October net earnings of the Santa Fe showed an increase of $375,000. Announcement of the reopening of the Coffee Exchange next Monday had a stimulating effect in that market. Sales of wheat for export amounted to 1,500,000 bushels for the day.

(Abroad:) Russia announces she will not allow her Siberian butter trade with Europe to suffer because of the war restrictions on shipping, and is now sending steamers loaded with butter through the Panama Canal on to London and Havre.

(For details see financial page.)

INADEQUATE.

American marines acted as watchers at the Santo Domingo elections. We are sorry to say that, from our limited experience with American election boards, we fail to see what guarantee this assistance could have been to our Southern friends.

RATHER LATE.

A man of 71 has been arrested in this city for counterfeiting. While we would not discourage any clever youngster from the pursuit of his ambitions, we cannot help feeling that this man is beginning a dangerous apprenticeship rather too late in life to hope for success. Competition in money-making is getting closer every day.

EXPRESSIVE.

In a play given by the Hollywood High School the children painted their own scenery, made their own costumes, did their own printing and provided their own music as well as their own actors. This gives a fine idea of the excellence and utility of the modern school. Nowhere in the world are the public schools superior to those of Los Angeles.

BE HUMAN.

This admonition sounds unnecessary and easy. It is both to readers of The Times, but think of the other fellows! In nine cases out of ten he is away up in the clouds, never touching the common lot at all, or else he is so far below standard that he doesn't understand the rest of us in the least. The world needs a race that will go after the wholesome and stick when it finds it.

THE WAY OF LIFE.

President Wilson could only spend Thanksgiving in the home of a married daughter. Three years ago he was a peaceful college professor with a happy family. Life placed him at the head of a great nation, but death took his wife and marriage two of his daughters. He has suffered neither more nor less than other men perhaps, yet his position has brought the drama of his life before the eyes of the world.

QUITE SIMPLE.

There seems to be nothing complex about the system of Villa. He simply decided what he wanted and went after it. He wanted Mexico City, and he is at the gates. Mexico seems determined to have a military dictator, and Villa will not worry a lot about who is to be the President in name so long as he is in command of the army. He seems in a fair way to get what he wants and perhaps it will be better for Mexico and the rest of us when he gets it.

MEN AND MONKEYS.

A gentleman who is very much in est about life the other day saw a monkey that he wanted for his little boy. He is a rich man, but he did not buy the animal, although it was offered at a low price. His argument with himself was that this is not the moment of monkeys. The fitness of monkeys depends upon the way conditions are with other men. This man could afford a monkey or a whole menagerie, but he knew a dozen fellows in his own block who are having a hard fight to survive the business squeeze of a few months ago in his little town and he didn't feel like a piece of extravagance, however innocent and pleasing, if it would look like waste to the others. He turned around and wrote a check for a charity three times the price of the simian. His neighbors cannot chide him for this, for they will know nothing about it.

THE PRINCE OF MONACO.

The Prince of Monaco, who owns Monte Carlo and other places dear to Americans, likewise has a very beautiful chateau in a place called Sissonne, in France, wherein are stored some of the science and art treasures of the world.

When the Germans captured Sissonne they demanded a war levy of $100,000 from the fifteen hundred inhabitants of the little town. It wasn't forthcoming, so the Germans sent two delegates to the Prince of Monaco demanding that he forthwith provide the money or see his chateau leveled to the ground.

The Prince was commendably haughty. He replied direct to the Kaiser, ignoring the general who had made the demand. If, he said, his chateau remained intact and unharmed at the end of the war he would undertake to make himself responsible for the money as between reigning ruler and reigning ruler. Otherwise they could go to hell. It certainly seems a reasonable enough quid pro quo—C.O.D. as it were.

FOUR THANKSGIVINGS.

The first Thanksgiving service in this country of which there is record was held on the deck of the Mayflower in Plymouth Harbor on the 22nd day of December, 1620. The historian, Abbott, says of it: "The morning dawned chill and lowering. A wintry gale swept the bay and pierced the thin garments of the Pilgrims. The eventful hour had now come in which they were to leave the ship and commence their new life of privation and hardship in the New World. It was the birthday of New England. In the early morning the whole ship's company assembled upon the deck of the Mayflower, men, women and children, to offer their sacrifice of thanksgiving and to implore divine protection upon their lofty and perilous enterprise."

"There were men of hoary hair
Amid that Pilgrim band;
Why had they come to wither there,
Away from their childhood's land?

"There was woman's fearless eye,
Lit by her deep love's truth;
There was manhood's brow, serenely high,
And the fiery heart of youth.

"What sought they thus afar?
Bright jewels of the mine?
The wealth of seas—the spoils of war?
They sought a faith's pure shrine.

"Ay, call it holy ground,
The soil where first they trod;
They have left unstain'd what there they found—
Freedom to worship God."

For what did the Pilgrim Fathers return thanks as they stood upon that slippery deck, swept by the wintry wind, and reverently bowed their heads in prayer?

They returned thanks that they had escaped from a country which fettered their thoughts and choked their prayers. They returned thanks for the civil and religious liberty which was now their own. Their hymn of thanksgiving, swelling from gushing hearts and trembling lips, blended in harmony with the moan of the wind and the wash of the wave and reached even to the forest on the shore.

"Amid the storm they sang,
And the stars heard and the sea;
And the sounding aisles of the dim woods rang
To the anthem of the free."

One hundred and fifty-six years passed away. The descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers were now a part of three millions of people, who, controlled in large measure by the Pilgrim spirit of love of freedom and dauntless defiance of British power, inaugurated at Lexington and Bunker Hill a contest which was to place a new nation among the powers of earth. The birth certificate of that nation was written at Philadelphia in the immortal words, "We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created with equal rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

In a hundred cities and villages east of the Alleghenies thanksgivings were celebrated annually from 1776 to 1783. The people returned thanks for those patriots who fought with clubbed muskets at Bunker Hill, who crimsoned the snows of Valley Forge with their shoeless feet, who followed the gleam of Mad Anthony's sword up against the streaming fire of Stony Point, who cheerfully suffered hunger and cold and wounds, and who shouted the songs of liberty as they went down to the red death of battle in order that this republic might live; live as a beacon of hope to the world; live as a heritage of liberty to mankind.

The men of the revolutionary era returned thanks for John Adams, the Boston lawyer—patient and determined; for Samuel Adams, the Boston merchant—enthusiastic, passionate and uncompromising; for Benjamin Franklin—philosopher, humanitarian and patriot; for Thomas Jefferson—foreman of the grand jury that indicted a king; for the Virginia Lees—descendants of plumed cavaliers; for Sherman and Trumbull—descendants of Cromwell's Ironsides; for Philip Livingston—descendant of the grim Dutchmen who opened the dykes and gave their land to the ocean rather than surrender their liberties; for Robert Morris—who tossed his wealth into the vortex of revolution as lightly as a lover bestows upon his mistress the hard-won favors of the tourney, and for George Washington, who wrested victory from the jaws of defeat and, with his ragged and hungry and half-armed Continentals sent the trained veterans of Britain dying in disaster from every field between the Hudson and the Schuylkill.

Eighty-two years after the surrender of Cornwallis and the secure establishment of the United States of America as one of the great powers of earth the people of a nation which had grown in those years from three millions to thirty millions of people and which had carried its flag from the eastern mountains to the western sea assembled to give thanks for the preservation of their Union. They gave thanks for Abraham Lincoln and the freedom he had proclaimed so that no slave's presence dishonored labor in all the land. They gave thanks for Grant:

"Patient of toil, serene amid alarms,
Inflexible in faith, invincible in arms."

They gave thanks to the heroes of mighty fields. They gave thanks that the old flag waved once more unchallenged from the Potomac to the gulf.

Nearly fifty years have passed since then, and today in this queen city of the queenliest realm beneath the sun, in this fairest of all the fair daughters of America, we gather around the plenteous boards and thank God that the war and sorrows and desolation of the lands beyond the sea have touched us not.

With pride and joy and thankfulness we enumerate the blessings that are ours. The world is fed from our bounteous harvests; it is clad with fabrics woven from our textiles. American fuel oil and gasoline are used on the coffee plantations in Java. American reaping machines cut the wheat fields in Siberia. American typewriters are found in the counting-rooms of Brazil and South Africa. American sewing machines are clicking in the households of every nation in the world. American locomotives are climbing the heights of the Andes and coursing up the valley of the Amur.

Ours is the foremost nation in all the world; foremost in letters, arts and arms; foremost in freedom, prosperity and power. One hundred millions of people, inhabiting forty-eight great commonwealths, three Territories—mighty States in their swaddling clothes—and 3000 islands of the Orient own the Stars and Stripes as their flag.

For these blessings and privileges in ten million homes from the Arctic to the Caribbean, from Bangor to Hawaii, we return thanks today to the God who sways the destinies of nations and of man.

Much to Be Thankful For.

THE PRESIDENT AS A LETTER WRITER.

President Wilson has announced his intention to "fundamentally affect the coming history of the world." This he will accomplish by "a little [oh, such a little] wisdom, a little courage, and a little [a very, very little] self-devotion."

The President cannot give time to travel and oratory and didactic eloquence, but, with the aid of relays of stenographers, he can develop his epistolary art in letters which for style and substance would make Lord Chesterfield's letters to his son look like thirty cents.

The President's letters, although directed to individuals, will really be addressed to the nation. They will, says the Boston Monitor, "be used as mediums for persuasion as well as congratulation." They will "intensify the feeling of popular confidence and hope so much needed to enable the nation to take advantage of its present opportunities in a way worthy of its power, actual and potential."

The President's letters will be used as "bull" and not as "bear" State papers. There will be no retreat from the imposition of tolls on coastwise ships passing through the Panama Canal. Free sugar will continue to come in, to the ruin of Louisiana planters. Free wool will be admitted, to the disgust of Rocky Mountain sheep shearers. Reduced tariff on citrus fruit will still lessen the number of autos bought by California orchardists, and Gompers, with his salary raised from $5000 to $7500, will continue to shout hosannas to a President who helped to force free boycotting into the Clayton anti-trust law.

A WARNING.

Householders and property owners would do well to look with care to the tenants they take in during the next two or three months. Already the new "Red Light Abatement Act" is beginning to have its effect. The undesirable and doubtful characters who are forced out of downtown lodging or rooming-houses will naturally look to the residence sections of the city for shelter.

It will be very easy for the innocent and unsuspicious woman who rents a room or two, or a small apartment, in order to "help out" with expenses, to be deceived and find herself with an "impossible" occupant on her hands. And it's much easier to get such people in than it is to get them out when once they are located. The people who wish to avoid trouble had better take pains to find out where their applicants come from and insist on satisfactory references before renting their rooms.

The situation may work hardship on some worthy women. But it looks as though a rather large class of women who have been living perilously near the edge of respectability would either have to "assume a virtue if they have it not" or have difficulty in finding a habitation.

It is all right to have full casts of American opera singers, but we shall not have all that belongs to us until some American writes a real opera. Is the race, both in this country and Europe, extinct?

Dr. Anna Shaw is easily the leader of her sex in this country in the campaign for the ballot, yet we are too gallant to refer to her as The Grand Old Woman of suffrage.

You ought to do your Christmas shopping early so as to make it safe for those who use automobiles. It is a very sad thing to see a machine run down by a Christmas shopper.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

WORTH MONEY.

Folks often say of Jasper Hunks, "That man is worth a million plunks." Which means he has a mighty hoard in some sly place of safety stored. His value, though, to fellow-gents, would not amount to fifty cents. He never helped a human soul since he acquired his bulging roll; he never lets a dime get loose, on any pretext or excuse, unless he knows that it will earn another dime, and then return. He judges all men by their wads; the millionaires rank with the gods, and men who have no pile of kale to Jasper seem both cheap and stale. He kicks at every forward move; he hates to see the town improve, because he fears that better times may tax him for his sacred dimes. He never thinks of aught but cash; all other things to him seem trash; the only books he reads are those which tell of how a fortune grows; the only pictures which appeal to his old heart of rusty steel, are those which on banknotes are seen—which decorate the good long green. He's worth a million, so they say. Oda bodkins! Alackaday! I wouldn't give ten cents a throw for fifty Jaspers in a row!

WALT MASON.

"THE MANICURE LADY."

BY WILLIAM P. KIRK.

"Some gent that was in here to have his nails did was saying the other day that Monte Carlo is closed on account of the war," remarked the Manicure Lady.

"It's been closed some time," replied the Head Barber. "I used to think that some day I would go over there and break it, but now there ain't much likelihood of it ever opening again. I am afraid this war is going to change Europe more than people realize now."

"If you couldn't play the wheel any more lucky than you play the horses," said the Manicure Lady, "I don't think you'd ever break no Monte Carlo bank. Wilfred was talking about the war the other night. He thinks some of going over and offering his services, the way Lord Byron offered his services to Greece. It gave father a great laugh, and that didn't make my brother feel none too brave and manly, but the old gent ain't humoring Wilfred much these days, mostly on account of the kid not coming across lately with no board money. It seems Wilfred was reading something about King George issuing a moratorium, which means that for the present debts in England need not be paid. It wouldn't make no difference to my brother if he lived over there, as he is the original moratorium kid anyway, but since he has read about issuing that declamation he ain't had even the faintest notion of settling for nothing, and that's why father don't look at him these days with tender and undying affection shining out of his dear old eyes.

"I wouldn't blame the poor people over there for not paying what they owe during these terrible times. The war will leave them without a cent anyway, so I don't suppose moratoriums are necessary. Gee, George, it seems terrible to think about folks hating each other in these civilized times."

"Times ain't so civilized, it seems to me," said the Head Barber. "Folks was just beginning to think we was civilized when along comes this fierce big disturbance, and all the civilization and kindness men have talked about is thrown into the discard and forgotten. This war may not take very long, but it will take a long, long time to get over the effects of it."

"Wilfred says he hates to talk about it because he is a poet and it makes him sad. I always thought other people could be sad, too, but he says dreamers see so many things in the future that other people cannot see. The old gent said he wished he could see far enough into the future to know when brother would get something to do, and when Wilfred started to read a poem that he had wrote about the Greatness and Grandeur of Glory the old gent told him to take it out on the fire escape and read it to the old clothes man that was hollering down in the court. All I remember was

"The greatness and grandeur of glory
Are most in our minds today;
And many a wonderful story
Will come from this war, I dare say."

"I wish he could take a little run over there and get a job with some of them powers," said the Head Barber. "Men are getting shot there for less than writing that kind of poetry."

HOLY BIBLE ON THE SODOMITES.

"Brutal Journalism" in Old and New Testaments.

God's Denunciations of Violators of His Law.

[Editorial.]

"And there were also sodomites in the land, and they did according to all the abominations of the nations which the Lord cast out before the children of Israel."—[I Kings, xiii:24.

"And he took away all the sodomites out of the land and removed all the idols that his fathers had made."—[I Kings, xv:12.

"And the remnant of the sodomites which remained in the days of his father, Asa, he took out of the land."—[I Kings, xxii:46.

"Thou shalt not bring the hire of a prostitute or the price of a dog into the house of the Lord, thy God."—[Deuteronomy, xxiii:18.

"And he brake down the houses of the sodomites which were by the house of the Lord."—[I Kings, xxiii:17.

"There shall be no prostitute of the daughters of Israel nor sodomite of the sons of Israel."—[Deuteronomy, xxiii:17.

"They die in youth and their life is among the sodomites."—[Job, xxxvi:14.

"A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation he shall not enter into the congregation."—[Deuteronomy, xxiii:2.

The Above selections from the Bible are commended to the attention of the noisy local sympathizers with the sodomites arrested at Long Beach—the editorial sympathizers and others who have been berating the "brutal press" that pilloried and exposed the shameless brutes.

It was just such another case at Long Beach as that of Lot at Gomorrah, described in holy writ as follows:

"But before they lay down the men of the city, even the men of Sodom compassed the house around, both old and young, from every quarter. And they called unto Lot and said unto him, 'Where are the men which came in to thee this night? Bring them out unto us that we may know them.' And Lot went out at the door unto them and shut the door after him and said, 'I pray you brethren, do ye not so wickedly.'"—[Genesis xix:5-7.

Then the gang turned on Lot, berated him as a brutal journalist, and returned to the errors of their ways—and God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah.

The Pharisees, who are denouncing a courageous press for its expose of the licentious libertines at Long Beach and elsewhere, are doing nothing new.

Hypocrites and disciples of cant and pietism have been known and scorned ever since the day that Jesus went into the temple of God and cast out all of them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money changers and the seats of them than sold doves.

Is it "brutal journalism" to expose to the scorn of decent people, as the Bible did, the orgies of the lustful and brutal; to give pitiless publicity to doings of those who sin against God and man and their own natures; to hold up to execration and anathema those who pose as disciples of sweetness and light, while within they are ravening wolves?

We are not of those who affect to believe a cankering sore, that spreads its poison throughout the body, can be cured by seeking to cover the spot from which exudes the contaminating discharge. We are of the opinion that the only radical cure is to rip up the sore, chop out the infection and taint and give the balance of the body an opportunity to recuperate.

In a community where men in the image of their Maker befoul their Master and plead guilty to practices that ought to make one hang his head in shame, we take it to be the duty of the press to hold up to the execration of decent people the moral lepers who do those things, just as God denounces them in His Book. Not to indict a community, but those who are pointed out as the guilty ones and from whom no denial is forthcoming.

And who are those who are lifting up their hands in holy horror at the recital? They are those who hold in their keeping the morals of the community; those who pretend to many things not susceptible of proof; many of them charlatans of the deepest dye; hypocrites all, for it lies in the mouth of no man or set of men to complain because the sins of individuals are set up as a warning to others. It is not "Brutal Journalism," that is a term coined by a puny press conducted by a prince of journalistic dissemblers and for his own purposes; it is the exposing of the human charnel houses that are fair on the outside walls, but within are the abode of the lust-carnality, lechery and animal appetite for a devotee of pleasure.

NEW TESTAMENT VIEWS.

The Holy Scriptures are full of views concerning the hypocrite, for in the days of Christ on earth He had to deal with them as they must be dealt with now. Job says "that the triumph of the wicked is short, and the joy of the hypocrite but for a moment." And in St. Matthew: "Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye." And in St. Luke: "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye are as graves that appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them." Again Job says: "For what is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his soul."

The frauds who in the days of Christ were putting up a false front, are referred to by St. Matthew again, when he says: "Many will say to me that in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in Thy name, and in Thy name have cast out devils, and in Thy name did many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you; depart from me, ye that work iniquity." These words were no doubt used in connection with certain men in Jerusalem who were writing to the contemporaneous press and giving their views on "Brutal Journalism."

What is to be gained by covering up transgression and moral delinquency? Secrecy only begets further iniquity. No good citizen will argue that pitiless publicity does

More and more the motorist wants to forget the mechanism of his car. But if it is a water-cooled car he never can forget the cooling; he has got to think of it, care for it, and it must be lugged around all the time. The Franklin motorist can and does forget that he has such a thing as a cooling system. He could not do anything with it if he wanted to.

BOB BURMAN'S PEUGEOT IS OUT OF THE RACE.

Big Staff.

A MILLION HEADLIGHTS ALL POINT TO CORONA.

Thousands of Visitors are Poured into Circle City.

Mrs. Burman had a Hunch that Something was Wrong with Her Husband's Car—Rickenbacher Invents Special Headgear for the Big Race—Nikrent Brothers Arrive and will Work in Pit.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

CORONA, Nov. 25.—Corona has one big night each year. This is that night.

The streets are almost crowded. There are probably twenty automobiles to every 100 of the population of the place, which tonight has been swelled until it approximates 10,000. Tomorrow Corona will be one of the largest towns in Southern California, for it will have, it is estimated, at least 100,000 visitors.

From the hills east of Corona one can see headlights by the score all pointing this way and on every road. Already every bed in the place is as full as a sailor, straw piles have gone up ten points in the last hour, blankets are selling by the square inch, and even the town dogs have been routed out of their kennels. And tomorrow is the big day.

Three accidents or break-downs today made anxious moments for crews and backers. Burman is quite out of it. Nikrent broke a piston and had to send to Los Angeles for the duplicate car, which he will drive. Earl Cooper had a trifling difficulty with his motor and was towed to Riverside, but the trouble was corrected in one minute by the clock and the Stutz crowd is promising great things.

Incidentally the arrival tonight of Joe and Kenny Nikrent completes a rather remarkable quartette of brothers. In one team Louis drives the Mercer, Fred is his mechanician and Kenny and Joe will be in the pit for them. There are probably no other four brothers in the world in one team.

Assistant Starter Frank Lowry is telling tonight a story concerning the intuitive sense of Mrs. Bob Burman. When, this morning, Bob failed to flash by the grand stand in the workouts Mrs. Burman called to Lowry and asked him if he would send out on the course to look Bob up. "I feel that something has gone wrong," she said.

Lowry laughed at the idea and told Mrs. Burman her husband had undoubtedly gone to garage. But the lady insisted that her hunch was a good one. A few minutes later Burman came dragging in with a sad tale of trouble, and Mrs. Burman smiled at Lowry.

In almost every camp tonight there is an anxious-faced woman or two and they watch the mechanicians and the drivers putting on the finishing touches with eyes that tell tragic stories of suspense, affection, and hope for the best. Some thirty-six or thirty-eight men will go out from the starting flag tomorrow morning with their lives in their hands, risking everything.

But up in the stands, or crouching in obscure corners about this fast and dangerous course, there will be almost as many women to whom the flash of the checkered flag some time after noon tomorrow will spell much more than it conveys to drivers or mechanicians or crowds or owners. Men go to war, but it is the women who know what war means.

BURMAN'S CAR OUT OF RACE.

DE PALMA'S NARROW ESCAPE. INCIDENTS OF LAST DAY'S PRACTICE.

Bob Burman will not drive the fast Peugeot No. 7 in the Corona race today. The car is a wreck. In the last day's practice, Burman broke a wrist pin and the connecting rod shaft drove the piston through the cylinder and the car went out of the race. Burman will act as relief driver for Rickenbacher of Peugeot No. 6.

Rickenbacher's headgear.

This queer device was invented by Eddie Rickenbacher especially for the Corona race. The continuous curve to the course prevents slowing down and conversation between driver and mechanic so Eddie had this rig made to order. It has a tube running from each man's mouth to the other's ear. The whole thing is head guard, goggles, face mask and speaking tube in one.

A Game Bunch.

SALT LAKE MAKING A BIG FIGHT FOR A FRANCHISE.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

SACRAMENTO, contrary to general belief, hasn't its little old ball team cinched up for next season.

Salt Lake City covets said team, and may yet succeed in running off with it.

The Utah metropolis is on the verge of making a bid for the sixth Coast League franchise which it will be difficult for the league to resist. The inducements offered will be so compelling that it would not be surprising to see the Missions transferred to that city.

HEADY.

Salt Lake, it seems, stands ready to assume obligations far in excess of anything that Sacramento has contemplated.

That Salt Lake is a serious contender for a place in the league became evident for the first time yesterday on the arrival here of Edward A. Vandeventer, managing editor of the Salt Lake Evening Telegram. Mr. Vandeventer, who is representing a group of mining and business men, is en route to San Francisco to lay the claims of his city before Allan T. Baum, president of the league.

Baum, it develops, passed a day in Salt Lake recently, on his way to Omaha, and investigated conditions to a certain extent. He asked for complete data regarding weather conditions, probable attendance and railroad fares between there and Coast League cities.

ALL THE DOPE.

Mr. Vandeventer comes loaded down with just this kind of information. He has gone so thoroughly into the subject that he can tell you offhand on exactly what days it has rained in the past thirty-three years, what the attendance will be on Tuesdays and on Sundays, what the railroads will charge per mile for hauling players upgrade, downgrade or on the level, and what the profit will be per 5-cent sack on Utah peanuts and popcorn when sold in the grand stand.

To sum up his statements concretely, Salt Lake stands ready to raise $50,000 as a starter, provide a roomy park within walking distance of the business center and guarantee receipts of not less than $2000 a week throughout the season.

WHERE IT GOES.

Twenty thousand dollars of this money would be turned over to the league to defray the indebtedness accumulated by the Missions this season. The residue would be used for rehabilitating the team, putting it through the spring training and equipping the park.

But seven or eight members of the Mission club as it now stands would be retained. Men of wealth, it is said, are back of the Salt Lake offer, and they intend to give that city a regu-

DUNDEE ARRIVES AND IS BOOSTER FOR HARRY WILLS

JOHNNY DUNDEE, who is to fight the last fight in California, hurried in from the East yesterday in time to see the next to the last fight, which will be between Sam Langford and Henry Wills at Vernon this afternoon.

"I would like to see those automobile races at Corona," said Johnny. "But I wouldn't take any chance of missing those black babies. Whoever wins this fight, will be able to beat anybody, black or white, in the world.

"If Wills isn't scared to death before the fight starts, he will stand a fine chance. He is younger than Sam and so strong that I saw him pick up Joe Jeanette and throw him around the ring like a baby. I never saw such a hitter. He has a punch like an explosion of dynamite.

"The trouble with most of the fighters who get into the ring with Sam is cold feet. When old Sambo spits on his hands and rubs his knees, they begin to look for the way out.

"Which ever way the fight ends today, I look for a knockout. One of those two smokes is surely going to be carried out of the ring. Both of them are too strong and hit too hard to have the fight end in any other way."

Black Sam Langford made a profound sensation yesterday by parading round town in a big automobile. Every time he stopped at a curb, the police had to disperse the crowd.

A contract was closed yesterday for the taking of moving-picture films of the fight. As the pictures would be worthless if Langford wins, it seems that the promoters consider Langford to be in danger.

Whoop!

SHERMAN PLAYS L.A.A.C. ELEVEN.

Most of the Indians are Veterans.

Several New Men Strengthen Clubmen.

Murphy and Mosely May be Heroes.

BY HOWARD W. ANGUS.

The Sherman Indians, once the terrors of the Pacific, return to football today. They play the L.A.A.C. eleven at Washington Park this afternoon for the benefit of the Children's Hospital.

The strength of the Braves is an unknown quantity. They started the season late and have not appeared against any of the southern varsities. If they play the football of old they are conquerors. In the days of Nephus, Payne, Williams, Lubo, Bowles and Scholder, they were the champions west of the Rockies, and held their own with Carlisle. Old fans still get excited over their Stanford and California games. But here Braves with different names of the same weird variety will play today.

Football is the Indians' game. Their natural stamina, cunning, strength and speed make them marvels at the American game.

Most of the members of this year's eleven have played football before, some in Arizona and some at Haskell. They have gone after football with enthusiasm. It was barred to them so long that their appetite for it has become a craving.

The L.A.A.C. will be at its full strength. All of the cripples are healed. Several new members of ability have been added. Chief among them are Murphy, a Dartmouth quarter-back, and Mosely, captain of the U.S.C. freshmen team. Mosely is a half-back, who runs excellent interference. He and Kelly Doyle should work well together, while Murphy is touted as a general from the first whistle. A football head is what the L.A.A.C. has lacked.

The game should be well worth the seeing, because it brings the Indians into the limelight again and on paper looks like a rattling good game.

The teams will line up as follows:

Shermans.	Position.	L.A.A.C.
Francis	L.E.	Dowd
Bates	L.T.	K. Doyle

CORONADO WINS FIRST BATTLE.

MIGHTY DRURY IS SLIGHTLY OFF COLOR.

Riverside Rooters Believe Friday Game will be so Heavily in Their Favor that Tourney will be Theirs—Coronado Finishes Very Strong.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 25.—Coronado drew first blood in the two-day polo tournament which opened this afternoon at Chemawa Park. The visitors finished with a score of 6¼ to Riverside's 4.

The score was tied at 3 to 3 up to the fifth chukkar, following which Coronado succeeded in putting the ball through for four goals during the last four periods. Penalties for safeties reduced the total score by ¾.

Riverside's teamwork was not up to standard, and poor luck attended her goal shooting. Even the mighty Drury was unable to pull the team through for a victory.

Local enthusiasts, however, predict that Friday's match will result in a surplus of goals sufficient to win the tournament for Riverside. They base their prediction on the assumption that the two teams are about equally matched, with the balance somewhat in favor of Riverside because of Drury's horsemanship and ability as a goal shooter. Friday's game will commence at 2:30.

Today's line-up follows:

Coronado.	Position.	Riverside.
Erick Pedley	No. 1	H. G. Pattes
M. Weiss	No. 2	Hugh Drury
R. Weiss	No. 3	H. Lett
Mal. Ross	No. 4	F. Hudson

It is probable that America will issue a challenge in March next to the Australian holders of the Davis cup, the international lawn tennis trophy. Should the challenge be accepted, the matches would be played about December 1, 1915, in Australasia. Both Anthony F. Wilding and Norman Everard Brookes, the Australasians who captured the cup, are fighting along the trenches in Belgium.

U. S. C. Is at Tacoma.

TROJANS WORK OUT AT TACOMA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TACOMA, Nov. 25.—The University of Southern California football varsity and the Oregon Aggies arrived in this city this morning. They will play at the Stadium tomorrow afternoon. The gate of the game will go to the Belgium benefit fund.

Coach Glaze, the former Dartmouth star, had his Southern California players work out in the Stadium this afternoon. The team ran through signals and handled punts.

Coach Glaze said that his men would give a good account of themselves in spite of the long train ride. All of the southerners seemed to be in excellent condition. Fred Kelly, the champion hurdler, will play part of the game.

The Oregon Aggies held signal practice immediately after the Trojans. Art Lutz, also punted to the backs. The Aggies looked much larger than the southerners.

The Commercial Club of Tacoma expect to see the Stadium filled to its capacity. It seats 25,000 persons.

Huns Play Arizona.

POMONA TEAM IS CRIPPLED.

ARIZONA, HOWEVER, ALSO HAS SEVERAL STARS ON THE SIDELINES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Nov. 25.—The Pomona football varsity, champions of California, arrived here last night ready for their Thanksgiving Day game with the Arizona University eleven.

Coach Stanton of Pomona expressed himself as confident of victory, but said that Pomona would be weakened by the loss of Elliott, a halfback; Meade, an end, and McCullough, a tackle, who would be out of the game with injuries.

Pomona did not practice here today. But Coach McKale said they had a wonderful team or they would not have won from Occidental.

Arizona is hopeful of victory. Hendry, a tackle; Jackson, an end, and Beach, one of the guards, will be out of the game. This will weaken Arizona. But all the other members of the team are in excellent condition and have been training hard for the game.

Pomona has just gone through three hard games and cannot be in very fine condition.

Coach McKale expects to see his men win because of Pomona's lack of condition and the fighting spirit his team has shown the last week. The subs who will play for Arizona are strong men, almost as good as the three who will be on the sidelines.

This game ends football for the year here.

Chaffey Dangerous.

PEATLANDERS IN VERY BAD SLUMP.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 25.—Coach "Dutch" Shutt will send his Chaffey Union football machine against the undefeated Santa Ana team here tomorrow. If the Peatlanders win, the Southern California prep championship is theirs.

Santa Ana has had a hard schedule and the men are showing a tendency to slump. Coach Hall has been taxed to his wits' ends to keep the players from going stale. They have been slipping ever since the hard Pasadena High game.

Chaffey is playing its best football of the season. The team started late and did not hit its stride until well on in the season. Its defeats by San Diego, Pasadena and Long Beach put it out of the championship running. But Shutt's men are feared.

The Ontario team plays the Stanton type of football, with its shifts and slashing off-tackle bucks. This attack has given all of the preps trouble. Santa Ana's strong point is its defense. The Peatlanders hope to stop the machine and win by a field goal at least.

Santa Ana is not so strong on the defense. But in Morrison, the quarter, and the toe of Irvine, Coach Hall has a scoring duo. Morrison is hard to stop. He is a small man, but is able to fight his way through the tacklers. Irvine is sure to score on a place kick if Santa Ana can get within Chaffey's 30-yard line.

Pasadena-Long Beach

HIGH SCHOOLS ARE HOT RIVALS.

PASADENA AND LONG BEACH EACH HOPES TO BE WINNERS.

The football teams of Long Beach and Pasadena High Schools play the closing and biggest game of the prep season at Pasadena this afternoon. The Pasadena eleven has not been defeated and played Santa Ana to a tie. The Long Beach team was defeated by two place kicks at Santa Ana, but has never had its goal line crossed.

Football enthusiasts in the ocean city are loud in hailing the Orange and Green eleven as the strongest that has ever represented Long Beach. Coach "Duffy" Seay has been the "miracle man" at the Crown City, building up a sensational machine out of seemingly nothing.

Both Pasadena and Long Beach began their seasons early, while Santa Ana started late. When Long Beach met Santa Ana it was in a slump. Pasadena was just beginning to go. But both teams are coming out of it now and will be at their height today.

Long Beach has weight and strength. Pasadena has speed, but is light. Long Beach plays the plowing game—steadily smashing its way down the field. Pasadena plays open, spectacular, streaky football. When the Crown City team has the breaks, it is a wonderful scoring machine. It rolled up immense scores in San Diego and Whittier.

The beach men have a stronger defense than Seay's men, although the latter held Santa Ana and smeared all its attempts to put the ball between the goal posts from a place kick.

During the last weak three coaches have been hammering football into the Long Beach players. The result is that the eleven is stronger than it has been at any time this season. No crippled handicap its chances.

SOUTHERN TEAMS ARE TO BATTLE.

VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA MEET AT ATLANTA TODAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Nov. 25.—Two elevens, undefeated by any southern football team this season—Virginia and North Carolina—will meet at Richmond tomorrow in what is expected to be one of the best southern gridiron struggles of the year. Few unbiased critics have hazarded a guess as to the outcome.

COPLAND IS BACK FROM WAR SCENE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Alexander F. Copland, the American athletic trainer who went to Europe last spring to coach the Austrian candidates for the next Olympic meet, has returned because the European war left him without any duties. Conscription for service practically depleted the ranks of athletes in both Austria and Germany, Copland said on his arrival here yesterday from abroad. He questioned whether the 1916 Olympic games would be held in Berlin as planned.

PURSUIT RACE FOR SKATERS.

SOMETHING NEW PLANNED FOR THE RACING EVENTS TONIGHT.

An innovation in skating circles will be established tonight at the Broadway rink by the Roller Skaters' Association of Southern California in the nature of pursuit races on rollers. Skaters will start a certain distance apart, and the winner is the skater who passes all other entrants. As soon as a skater is passed, he is required to drop out. Entry lists are open to all until the starting of the race. Clifford Howard, chairman of the Contest Committee of the R.S.A.S.C., is managing the affair.

The distance between Salt Lake and other Coast League cities has been regarded by many who have investigated the situation only superficially, as prohibitive. Mr. Vandeventer and his associates have armed themselves with statistics which show this to be erroneous. Six hundred dollars a week, they have it figured out, would meet the increased expenses of travel incurred by including Salt Lake and effacing Sacramento. That the former will more than outdraw Sacramento this much per week they seem absolutely certain.

THREE ROADS.

With three railroads competing for the business of hauling the players, they feel certain that exceptionally low rates can be obtained.

An exhaustive study of the railroad schedules and time tables also has developed the important fact that Salt Lake is not quite so isolated as some opine. A club closing there on Sunday night can reach any other city in the league in time to open the following Tuesday afternoon. That city is thirty hours from San Francisco and Oakland and twenty-three and a half hours from Los Angeles.

Also, Salt Lake is closer to Portland than is San Francisco. A lot of persons who have not looked at their geographies recently may not believe this, but measurements have been taken which show it to be the truth. The difference is something like six hours in favor of Salt Lake.

It had generally been believed that Salt Lake was impossible from a geographical standpoint, but this seems to have been a false alarm.

THE PLANS.

Should Salt Lake be taken in, Portland would open and close the season there. For this reason, a point was made to pry into the general behavior of the climate during April and October. The result of these investigations, it is said, which extended back thirty-three years, is to show that the weather there from April 1 to April 15 and from October 16 to October 30 is much more balmy than it is in San Francisco. On the basis of this data, Mr. Vandeventer says, the loss incurred by rain during the first and last months of the season would be negligible.

For its size and shape, Salt Lake is one of the best sporting towns in the country. This has been shown in numerous ways. For one thing, it supported bicycle racing for years after every other city had forgotten about it. A town which will do anything like that must be strong for the amusement. Also, it must be very game.

COMPARISON.

Occupying the "cigar box," a pigmy park a full mile from the business center, the class D Salt Lake team of the Union Association has played to $1400 and upwards in a single day, and the interest shown in that was mild to what the fans would display if the class AA article were on the market.

The foregoing are a few of the things gleaned from a few minutes' conversation with Mr. Vandeventer.

Another point in favor of including Salt Lake is that it would give the league the appearance of being less of a one-State organization, and the addition of that city unquestionably would increase interest throughout the circuit.

Arrangements have been made for grounds. Auerbach Park, a piece of ground 610 feet square, and within walking distance of every part of the business district, is available. Mr. Auerbach has offered the use of this site free for the first three years, with the privilege of retaining it at a very reasonable rental for the following seven years.

BIG ENOUGH.

This would be several rods the largest baseball park in the country as far as playing space is concerned.

It is the plan, in case Salt Lake lands the franchise, to play all Sunday morning games in Ogden, which is only an hour's run to the north, and it is possible that the Tuesday game also would be played there. Ogden has a population of 40,000, and craves baseball deeply.

In order to be in the best possible condition for the opening, the club would each year do its training in Southern California.

"The team would be backed by a company composed of six or seven very wealthy men," said Mr. Vandeventer. "This business of having one or two thousand stockholders, as is purposed in Sacramento, will not be found necessary in Salt Lake. There will not be the slightest difficulty in raising the $50,000 needed. It can be secured on a few hours' notice.

"In Salt Lake proper and the mining camps and other towns within a short ride of it, we would have a population of more than 200,000 on which to draw for the support of a ball team. Many of these camps and towns have no form of amusement, and the men would flock to Salt Lake for Sunday games. We would turn out some Sunday and holiday crowds that would cause the larger cities to sit up and take notice.

"Salt Lake is hungry for high-class ball. Also it has a certain civic pride in wanting to get in a class AA league. People there feel that the city is big enough to support that grade of ball, and are eager to demonstrate it. Frankly, I believe that Salt Lake will prove to be one of the best cities in the circuit—far outdrawing all rivals in proportion to its population."

SAN DIEGO TO PLAY WHITTIER.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 25.—San Diego High School will close its 1914 football season here tomorrow afternoon in a game with Whittier High School. The season for both teams has been rather disastrous. Pasadena High School gave both San Diego and Whittier the worst defeats they have suffered in years.

The local High School has recovered from the Pasadena game. Word has come from Whittier that its eleven will put up its best game of the year.

Enough of Rugby.

PUBLIC STRONG FOR AMERICAN FOOTBALL.

Revised Game is at Height of its Popularity Throughout the Country—Rugby a Great Pastime, but Americans Fail to Get Enthusiastic About It—Only a Few Schools Cling to Alien Sport.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

THERE is hope for young America. The decision of Hollywood High to play football with the American code in it, and the straw vote of Old Dwellers showing a strong preference for the home product, is encouraging and shows an improvement in the patient's pulse.

Two things are believed by many to mark the beginning of the end of the rough, agony, at least in this immediate end of our fair State. In fact, the first step in that direction was taken by U.S.C. when said institution declared that Rugby couldn't be assimilated, and its athletes discarded their coats for regular football uniforms. With all the southern colleges playing the American game, it is almost inevitable that the prep schools will eventually fall in line.

After several years experimenting with Rugby, it seems to be the consensus of opinion that the imported game will not do.

Several years ago, when Rugby was first instituted in this clime, which like other things is hospitable, and took to and forth its tender shoots, many predicted that the game would languish and die, or else evolve to suit American ideas. Exactly what happened to it on the Pacific Coast is one of the curiosities of the country. Rugby, the game, was imported in the form that probably was the first brand of football played in these United States.

Some eastern university coaches who saw where it could be improved upon, lopped a man off here and there, injected an original idea now and then and thought out new situations. Thus the game, naturally the American version of it, lost practically all resemblance to the parent game, and became distinctly a United States.

The early experience of Rugby in this country seemed to furnish satisfactory proof that the game is not suited to American ideas and temperament. But the lesson was lost, and many of the eminent educators who put it on an unwilling public in the last few years ago thought that they were springing something new. Rugby does not die a natural death in California, it will in time be improved so as to conform to American ideas. There already has been a list of important revisions.

In England, the cradle of Rugby on the coast there is a howl during that period of fervid when a lot of "nuts" and wild-eyed reformers suddenly decided that the game from football to city, State and national government needed fixing.

The country was submerged in a flood of mollycoddleism, and it was only for a time that some high-brow guy who hadn't had a hair-cut for months would introduce a bill in the Legislature demanding that the League adopt a yarn ball to lessen the liability of injury to being "beaned."

Then the American game had become lumpy, and ran too largely to set formations was generally advocated and steps were at once taken to make the changes which would, if so, increase its interest to the fans and lessen the liability to injury.

These changes in progress seemed to be no valid excuse for the introduction of Rugby. Then the "reformers" got in their work, and it came. Then they imagined that they could put out something soft and easy for the noble college student.

Rugby is a rough, hard game, and so fit kind of sport for men. It is fully as dangerous, if not more so, than the new American game. Rugby is virile and manly, and we cherish a certain regard for it, but its roughness is not comprehensible to the average fan. To be intensely interesting, it is a hopeless jumble, just as a game probably would appear to the

In this Place.

Rugby is a good name—for those who like it. So is cricket—for those who like it. These are great sports in England and Australia, but we have no room for them over here any more than they do for baseball over there. American football and baseball are indigenous to this country, Rugby and cricket are to England. Each is popular in its place. Neither of these sports can be equally popular in the two countries, there is a reason, deep-seated in education, training and temperament which will have to be reckoned with. Rugby never has had any real hold on the people over here. School spirit alone has assured it of any patronage. And after playing it for years, our best university teams find themselves mere tyros at the game.

Every objection formerly made to the American game has been removed by judicious revision. It sparkles with open action and dramatic effect, is intelligible to the mass of people and fits the United States temperament. Its popularity is increasing, as evidenced by the record-breaking crowds in the East, and the improved attendance here. This season saw the country swept by the greatest wave of football enthusiasm in its history.

Under these conditions, it is difficult to comprehend why few schools on this rim of the continent alone should seek to nurture an alien sport which has no real hold on the affections of the people.

What a fine thing it would be for California, from Oregon line to Mexican border, to swing over into the American football column.

Nothing But Dark Meat.

Today will be the first time in something like seven years that two gentlemen of color have assayed to entertain the local public in a main event.

And it was Sam Langford who was mixed in on that affair. On November 12, 1907, at the old Naud swat stadium, Langford made his maiden Los Angeles appearance by thumping young Peter Jackson, then young in name only, all over the place for a twenty-round decision.

Since that time, until Harry Wills appeared like a black cloud on the horizon, McCarey has not been called upon to settle any great issue involving members of the colored race.

In the old days at Hazard's pavilion, the sunburned athletes were quite the rage. Jack Johnson boxed Sam McVey and Denver Ed Martin twice in that ring, and on each occasion the historic old building was packed to the mud guards.

Langford's toughest fights all have been with men of his own race. Few of the lily white athletes have been able to make Sam perspire, and it has been the consensus of opinion in sporting circles for some years now that when his measure finally was taken it would be by some strong Senegambian.

He boxed three hot draws with Jack Blackburn, who probably caused him as much permanent trouble as any man he ever met. Johnson, McVey and Young Peter Jackson, all were given decisions over him at one time or another, but he later whipped McVey and Jackson. In fact, Johnson was the only man who ever shaded Langford on whom Sam did not take a later revenge. There was a good reason for this. Jack wouldn't give him the chance. After that awful Chelsea fight, Johnson would walk several blocks out of his way to avoid Langford.

Wills is credited with having given Langford something resembling a life-size licking in New Orleans. Whether Sam will be able to carry out his customary programme and whale Wills in return for this is a question of more or less moment on which the critics, so-called, seem to be divided.

Sam is getting along in Uncle Remus's class when it comes to age, and one of these days he is going to get walloped so thoroughly that he won't be looking for any return engagements.

At the present writing he appears to be fairly robust, while as far as can be observed Wills does not seem to be ailing.

It is not often that two such healthy gentlemen get together in the same ring.

ELEVEN GAMES IN THE NEXT WORLD'S SERIES.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—The world's baseball series for the world's championship will consist of eleven games next year instead of seven, and prices will be lower, according to B. B. Johnson, president of the American League, when he made public tonight a letter he had received from August Herrmann, chairman of the National Baseball Commission.

The question of cutting prices for the world's series was considered at a recent meeting of the American League here, and after a tentative agreement was reached Johnson submitted the proposal to National League club owners.

Herrmann's letter said the National owners had agreed to the change and that a plan would be worked out and adopted at the annual meeting in January. Some of the club owners, he said, had objected to cutting the prices on the grounds that it would decrease the amount given the players. According to the proposed change, the players will share in the first five instead of the first four games, so their total will not be decreased.

Exciting.

LADIES SHOOT FOR BIRDS AT MIDWICK CLUB TODAY.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

THE Midwick Country Club has devised a thrilling competition for this morning. No less than a turkey shoot for the ladies. No mere male need apply.

During the course of an exciting controversy it transpired that quite a number of the women members of the Midwick considered themselves first-class shots. Many more were assured that they had the necessary "shooting eye." So it was decided to put this important matter to the test forthwith and hold a proper shooting competition on the golf links, with real, live turkeys for the prizes. In order that those turkeys, which will be the very aristocrats of the tribe, may be put to their appropriate and predestined end, the shoot will take place at 10 a.m., today, leaving plenty of time for cook to achieve the epicurean result.

The largest gun used will be a 22-caliber rifle. The first prize will be a blue ribbon gobbler, a veritable king among gobblers, with a royal pedigree and, let us hope, the ability to die like a gentleman and leave tender memories behind. The second prize will be a red ribbonite, minor royalty, and the third will bear a yellow ribbon, nothing less dignified than a knighthood at all events. A distinguished commoner will be offered as consolation prize in the person of a duckling of unimpeachable lineage.

They expect that at least twenty ladies will take part, but the known shots of ability are Mrs. E. R. Williams, the golf champion, who holds both the Coast and southern titles and is likewise a first-class tennis exponent; Mrs. S. P. Pierce, Miss Phila Miller, the attractive daughter of J. B. Miller; Mrs. McWilliams, Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. E. M. Fowler.

There will be a lordly masculine audience, needless to say, and the occasion is causing any amount of fun and interest.

There are rumors, too, that there is to be an aeroplane competition at Midwick at no distant date, but details of that exciting event are being kept a dead secret.

Much Doing.

SAN DIEGO TO HAVE ALL KINDS OF SPORT TODAY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGANS will have plenty to keep them busy Thanksgiving Day if all the events planned take place as per schedule.

Beachey's 1025th loop-the-loop will be the main attraction, taking place in the morning at the exposition grounds. He will rise from the ground between the concession on the isthmus. This is a narrow street and will be a test of the wonderful airman's ability.

The annual fall regatta of the San Diego Rowing Club will start at 9:30 o'clock, followed by a reception to the women at noon.

The marines at North Island have arranged a field meet for Thursday morning.

Football between San Diego High School and Whittier will take place in the afternoon, as will also the opening baseball game of the Winter Baseball Association, Cycle and Arms versus Bennett's Orphans.

Lakeside, a suburb of San Diego, has arranged a big programme which will not end until the early morning hours. A turkey shoot is scheduled to start at 10 a.m., with some of the best shots in the country listed among the entries. This will be followed in the afternoon by a double-header baseball game, a concert in the evening and an all-night dance with midnight supper.

The various charitable organizations have arranged for Thanksgiving dinners, and the Y.M.C.A. has invited all men away from home to come and participate in their celebration.

WARM WEATHER DRIVING DUCKS OUT TO THE OCEAN.

WARM weather is driving ducks to the ocean, where they are likely to remain until a storm brings them in for shelter, according to statements of various dissatisfied hunters.

Harry Hoyt, who is just returned from Arizona, noticed at once the prevalent conditions, reflecting on the plentiful game which he left in the Copper State because he didn't wish to fork over $35 for a hunter's license.

Harry reports many deer, turkey and quail extant there, with many wild fowl at the mouth of the Colorado River. The Phoenix Gun Club tournament, in which Hoyt participated, was a very successful affair, both amateur and professional marksmen making high scores.

Ed Tufts, Paul North and B. L. Graves shot yesterday on the Pacific Gun Club grounds, and returned with a pessimistic report, Tufts having only fifteen birds and the others ten each. While many shotgun men would consider this a nice day's work, not so these nimrods, who frequently bag their limits in a couple of hours.

Sprig, teal and redheads comprise their kills.

Pete Peterson went down to Nigger Slough yesterday morning to look over the Domingues Club grounds, which are to be open today, and secured a good hours' shooting at redhead, teal and sprig. He found good conditions, with large flocks of redhead and canvasback in sight. Decoy shooters were doing well.

THE BEST AND NEWEST

continues with a generous second installment to be published in our NATIONAL SUNDAY MAGAZINE next Sunday. Readers of this powerful six-part serial are already pronouncing it to be the greatest story Sir Gilbert Parker has ever written — the high-water mark of his genius. In fact, it is more than a story, for Bill Minden, the reformed bandit, is a flesh-and-blood character drawn from life.

Having arrived and established himself in Asbatoon, Minden takes the bull by the horns and calls at the Pinley home to plead his cause — to be allowed to see his daughter now and then without disclosing his identity to her. "Just to be near her," he pleads, "to watch her, to see her look this way an' that, an' speak this how an' that how, an' doin' the little things that show a woman off. That's why I'm goin' to be school trustee, that's why I'm goin' to be Mayor, if I can, just to make me look a bit all right in her eyes." The Marchand illustrations tell a story in themselves.

THE SHAME OF AMERICA—SECOND-HAND ART

By Gutzon Borglum

Art in America is marked by a dead mediocrity, with comparatively few exceptions. Among these are George Innes, Winslow Homer and William Rimmer of Boston, the latter of whom is unknown to 99 per cent of American artists, says Gutzon Borglum in this frank-spoken editorial. Mr. Borglum, himself a foremost sculptor, declares that "the great riff-raff of American painters, sculptors and architects have little or no interest in anything out of their own line of work." But read it — and be prepared to applaud or get mad.

COUNTRY TOWN SAYINGS

By Ed. Howe of Atchison

Just as Emerson was the sage of Concord, Whitman, the sage of Camden, and as Hubbard is of East Aurora, Ed Howe is the sage of Atchison — the Kansas town he has put on the map. His COUNTRY TOWN SAYINGS will, from time to time, be a feature in the magazine and richer nuggets of wit and wisdom would be hard to find.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

David Warfield, who opened last night at the Mason Operahouse in "The Auctioneer," always exchanges telegrams with his mother on Thanksgiving, and Christmas, no matter in what part of the world he may be. His mother lives in San Francisco, and he said yesterday that it seemed sad to be so near and yet so far, on the great American day.

Mr. Warfield says he feels he has cause to be especially thankful this Thanksgiving Day, on account of having come safely through all those Texas and Arizona one-night stands!

A colorful career has been that of Mr. Warfield, from the old days when he was an usher in the Bush Theater in San Francisco at $4 a week, up to his present exalted position as one of the foremost of American actors. Mr. Warfield admits, himself, that the tale ought to have soft music!

When an usher, he says he never neglected an opportunity of studying the methods of the actors who appeared at the Bush. By and by, after repeated rebuffs, he got a chance as a super in "Siberia," produced by Bartley Campbell in San Francisco.

"I certainly was one of the most widely unknown people in the world at that time," said Mr Warfield. "I don't think I was even a very good super but, as they kindly explained to me, they just had to have somebody. But I improved, and after awhile I got a chance in a fly-by-night troupe. But I had bad luck and returned to San Francisco flat broke, so poor I couldn't have paid a nickel to see the resurrection. The experience was repeated again, and I began to realise that I must go east."

Mr. Warfield relates that, after paying his fare, he landed in New York with $20 in his pocket. Then his real struggle for recognition began. He sought work first in the concert halls and suffered many heart-breaking experiences. Often he would return disheartened to his little attic room on Thirtieth street, where the snow drifted in through a broken skylight, and where it was so bitter cold that he used to warm his hands over a candle.

But the tide turned at last, and after making good as an entertainer at $15 per week in a concert hall, he went from one position to another, until he was engaged by the late John Russell for "The City Directory" and later for a piece called "About Town."

And then David Belasco saw him one night, and though he was playing burlesque the great producer recognized in the actor under the queer make-up and fantastic acting the remarkable power and genius which makes the name of David Warfield what it is.

The result was that the two Davids came together, and then the problem was how to bridge over successfully the wide chasm between the Jew of the laugh-exciting burlesque, and Simon Levi, the all-around human being with pathos as well as comedy in his make-up. The problem was solved in "The Auctioneer," which at once made Mr. Warfield famous.

Ken Victor of the Hip is back on the job with his dangerous and spectacular loop-the-loop act, despite his injuries, and the hand he gets before he assays his feat attests the public's appreciation of his grit.

So is Bob Leonard, of the famous elbow in "The Campus," who is playing Harry Gribbon's part.

Doughnuts and cider are to be passed 'round between shows at the Burbank this afternoon, in honor of Thanksgiving. The men will smoke the cigarette of peace, and the ladies will fletcherize the lint.

Wednesday at Quinn's Garrick the genial proprietor, J. A. Quinn, had as his guests pretty nearly all of the children in Los Angeles to see Thomas Jefferson in "Rip Van Winkle."

Of unusual importance from a theatrical and humanitarian standpoint will be the benefit to be given under the auspices of the Los Angeles lodge of the B'nai B'rith at the Majestic Theater Sunday afternoon, the proceeds of which will be used in the relief of starving and helpless people of Europe. The programme will include a dozen acts, including the horse race scene from "The Whip," now playing at the Majestic Theater; Rube Dickinson from the Orpheum, the big vaudeville play, "The Sheriff of Shasta," with Theodore Roberts, Hobart Bosworth and others, and a number of other big numbers. There will be only the one performance on Sunday afternoon.

pear. It is reported on the way from the East, but failed to arrive yesterday. Unless it should arrive by express this morning, the Bergdoll will not start.

No very terrific attempts were made in the last of the practice yesterday. Eddie Pullen of the Mercer team made the fastest time registered. He made one lap at an average speed of 100 5-10 miles. Ruckstell in a Mercer averaged ninety-six miles an hour. Louis Nikrent of the same team nursed his engine along in his last test of the track, taking no chances.

During the morning practice, Oldfield, Pullen and De Palma happened to come together on the track and a sensational speed battle took place with the final honors about even.

On account of the bits of flying rock, all the drivers and mechanics will appear in the race with heavy masks. Rickenbacher of the Peugeot has invented an astoundi g-looking apparatus which will make him look like a deep-sea diver. It is a combination of face mask, head guard, goggles and private telephone. On account of the incessant speed the drivers and mechanics on this course have found it impossible to talk to one another.

In most race courses there is some special turn at which the drivers slow up and take this opportunity to communicate with each other. The course of Corona being a continuous curve, the cars are not expected to slow up. Consequently the drivers and mechanics will have to depend upon telepathy or some such contrivance as Rickenbacher has made.

The necessity for some kind of face protection was brought home to the drivers yesterday by an accident to Ralph De Palma. While attempting to pass Pullen, a small rock was thrown by one of Pullen's tires into De Palma's face, breaking one of his goggles and throwing bits of glass into his eye. A physician was called in and the glass fragments were removed. De Palma will be able to drive today.

Rickenbacher had a narrow escape from an accident yesterday, breaking a wrist pin while driving at a high rate of speed. He stopped before any great damage was done. Bob Burman and a corps of mechanics worked on Rickenbacher's car last night until a late hour, repairing the damage.

Barney Oldfield was out on the track for a while yesterday, but his speed was conservative. Billy Carlson spent the morning making short speed dashes in the Maxwell. The Duesenberg did the best work yesterday that it has shown since its arrival.

The Sunbeam was given a thorough overhauling and was pronounced to be in the best shape that it has shown for any American car. The Marmons were reported to be in good shape, but No. 11 was not out.

A great feature of the [illegible] terday was the work of the [illegible] crew in changing tires. [illegible] has designed a big jack which [illegible] ens the time of lifting the wheels [illegible] order to familiarize the [illegible] with the device, the Mercer tires were changed twenty times. The [illegible] finally was able to change the four tires in fourteen seconds flat, the four tires in fifteen and one-fifth seconds. The drivers remain seated in the car while the tires are changed.

Cooper, Lewis and Hicks of the Stutz team worked out well, but on the last turn Cooper had some trouble and had to be towed in. The Stutz mechanics worked all afternoon and evening on the car, which will be in shape for the race this noon.

De Palma's Mercedes was in excellent shape, but De Palma made no special effort to get great speed out of it. Guy Ball in the King car was also out and did some speedy work.

The cars will be started in groups of four, one minute apart, the first four at 10:30.

In the first group Maxwell No. 17 will have the pole with Marmon 11, Puegeot 7 and Stutz 2 in order. The second group will be started one minute later with Sunbeam 9 on the pole, Mercer 16, second, Mercer 4, third, and Puegeot 6 on the outside. The second group will consist of Maxwell 14, Stutz 3, Gordon Special 5 and Klein-King 15 in the order named. The fourth group will be composed of Duesenberg 10, Stutz 8, Mercer 12 and Sunbeam 18. The last quartette, starting four minutes after the first group, will be Duesenberg 20, Marmon 1, Mercedes 22 and Duesenberg 19. The fact that there will be four minutes between the first and last quartettes makes it quite apparent that the first and second bunches will have made a complete circuit before the last bunch starts, so that it will be somewhat confusing at the first to keep the score.

The Sunbeam was given a thorough overhauling and was pronounced to be in the best shape that it has shown for any American race. Both Marmons were reported to be in good shape, but No. 11 was not out.

A great feature of the practice yesterday was the work of the Mercer crew in changing tires. George Bentel has designed a big jack which shortens the time of lifting the wheels. In order to familiarize the mechanics with the device, the Mercer tires were changed twenty times. The crew finally was able to change the four tires in fourteen seconds flat, the front tires in fifteen and one-fifth seconds. The drivers remain seated in the car while the tires are changed.

Cooper, Lewis and Klein of the Stutz team worked out well, but on the last turn Cooper had engine trouble and had to be towed back. The Stutz mechanics worked all afternoon and evening on the engine, which will be in shape for this afternoon.

De Palma's Mercedes was in excellent shape, but De Palma made no special effort to get great speed out of it. Guy Ball in the King car was also out and did some spectacular work.

WARFIELD AT MASON.

Gertrude Hoffman in Ballet Brilliante, Orpheum.

Live Wires for Vaudeville and Movies.

So widespread has been the interest in David Warfield's revival of "The Auctioneer," now appearing at the Mason, and so overwhelming has been the demand for seats to view the beloved actor in his greatest success, that the management has succeeded in having Mr. Warfield's one-night-stand engagements between here and San Francisco cancelled.

Mr. Warfield will therefore remain another week at the Mason, and those who have been unable to see him this week may view his performance during the next six days.

Evan Williams Recital.

Evan Williams, America's foremost tenor, will make his second appearance in this city at Trinity next Saturday afternoon. His first appearance was in 1893 as the boy tenor with Primrose and West's minstrels, immortalizing Harris's song of that period, "After the Ball is Over." A feature of that visit, besides the Evan Williams singing was the marching in the parade with Williams, Primrose and West, a local team from the old Los Angeles Theater, Manager Harry Wyatt and Len Behymer, on a wager which the theater management lost and the minstrel boys won.

Majestic.

"The Whip," having proven a tremendous success at the Majestic this week, will be given again next week.

Theatrical authorities who have been claiming that good, old-fashioned melodrama is dead have been more than astonished at the triumph of "The Whip," which is frank, unadulterated melodrama. "The Whip" ran for two years in London and one year in New York.

Morosco.

"Louisiana Lou," the famous laugh show with music, in which Sophie Tucker made her great New York success, and in which Bessie de Voie appeared at the Mason season before last, is to be the offering of the Gaiety company next week. The full strength of the Gaiety company will be utilized in the production, and there are to be beautiful new costumes and settings.

Grace Edmund, Bessie de Voie, Harry Gribbon, Barney Bernard and Mae Emory are to have the leading parts.

Burbank.

Thomas Broadhurst's romantic and picturesque drama, "The Right of the Seigneur," has been proving one of the most successful and enjoyable of the recent Burbank plays. It will be given during the remainder of the week.

Beginning with the Sunday matinee, the offering will be an elaborate production of the world-famous farce comedy, "Charley's Aunt," the play that for many years has been bringing laughter to thousands, and which apparently, "age cannot wither nor custom stale."

A carefully-selected cast of the Burbank players, including the newest Burbank acquisition, Howard Scott, a great favorite with Los Angeles audiences, will give the piece.

Orpheum.

The famous classic ballet dancer, Gertrude Hoffman, with her own revue company of fifty, two cars of scenery, crew of mechanics and augmented orchestra, will be the Orpheum's headliner next week. The attraction rivals Sarah Bernhardt's performance in point of demand for seats.

Miss Hoffman's act is divided into twelve scenes of varied sort, and will run for an hour and ten minutes. The ballet is said to be sumptuous in setting and costumery, and will present varied scenes, including Arabian, Japanese, travesty, tango and other dance numbers, besides ensemble singing. Of course the costumes, while beautiful, are not particularly profuse, so to speak.

An excellent vaudeville bill surrounds the headliner.

Loewen's Century.

Loew's Empress.

Beginning with Monday's matinee, the noted character actor, Thomas J. Ryan, with his company, will present "Mac Haggerty's Father."

Others on the bill will be Harry Thomas, the original "Mayor of the Bowery," presenting a scene in a night police court; "Rags" Leighton and Robinson, song writers and dancers; Cycling McNutts, Grace de Wintress with new ideas about ventriloquism, and Lucy and Ethel Baker in songs and dances.

Pantages.

Jimmy Clabby, middleweight champion, will be the box-office attraction at Pantages next week.

A special feature of next week's bill will be an all-girl minstrel show by the Colonial Minstrel Maids. Hugo Lutgens, known as the "Swede Preacher," is promised, as are also Leon and the Adeline Sisters in Pantomime. Work and Play in comedy acrobatics, and Elwood and Snow in ventriloquism stunts.

Hippodrome.

"At the Foot of Kilauu," a Hawaiian spectacle, which promises great beauty of setting and production, is the headliner at the Hip next week. The big tank has been converted into a lake, where expert kanaka diving maids will disport themselves, and amid beautiful tropical settings hula dancers will perform to sensuous native music.

Another feature will be the "Blue Jacket Four," a quartette of jolly tars. Ted MacLean and Genevieve Lee will offer "Let Well Enough Alone," and other good acts are promised.

Republic.

William J. Burns, the greatest living detective, and Conan Doyle, originator of Sherlock Holmes, appear as joint stars at the Republic next week in the sensational detective photoplay, "The Five Million Dollar Counterfeiting Plot."

The scenes were taken at the Treasury Department, Washington, at Moyamensing prison, Philadelphia, in New York City and a number of points in the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Mr. Burns, in supervising the playing of this picture, insisted that he go over his original field of operation. Detective Burns himself appears in nearly all the scenes.

"The Drug Terror," showing how the cocaine habit and white slavery go hand in hand, taken as the result of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt's campaign against the traffic, continues to be a big drawing card at the Republic.

Tally's Broadway.

"Aristocracy," the drama of society life, with Tyrone Power, is pleasing Tally audiences this week.

"The Rose of the Rancho," with its famous and beautiful star, Bessie Barriscale, in the leading role, will be the offering next week. All the important members of the cast are the same as those who originally presented the play under the direction of David Belasco, and this insures excellence of production.

The film is said to have cost over $50,000 to produce, great care having been expended on each detail in order that the production might be a convincing and beautiful one.

Clune's Auditorium.

"Julius Caesar," the vividly beautiful historic photoplay which is pleasing huge audiences at Clune's Auditorium this week, will close its run Sunday.

Next week Tom Mix, in his daredevil feats of skill and horsemanship, in the great Selig spectacle, "The Days of the Thundering Herd," will be the attraction. In the Tom Mix play the pioneer days of the plains come to life.

Clune's Broadway.

The spirit of Thanksgiving will prevail at Clune's Broadway for the rest of the week. "The Cause of Thanksgiving" features little Bobby Connelly, the well-known Vitagraph boy actor.

George Ade will add to the enjoyment with a modern fable, "Aggie and the Aggravated Attack," and Slippery Slim will come to life in a Snakeville film.

Mozart.

Mary Pickford, in "Such a Little Queen," is showing to appreciative crowds at the Mozart, as this film is one of little Mary's greatest successes.

"The Patchwork Girl of Oz," a tale to delight children and all those who haven't forgotten how to be young, is the attraction next week.

Miller's.

One of the funniest comedies ever written, as laughable on the screen as in the book or on the stage, is Montague Glass's Potash and Perlmutter story, "The Perfect Thirty-six," which is making 'em laugh at Miller's this week.

The balance of the programme is very good, including comedy films and the latest Selig weekly pictorial, which latter includes a colored film of one of the ancient cities of France.

The Woodley.

"Lola," the sensational Shubert photoplay of life after death, portraying a girl whose soul has been claimed by death while her body still lives, continues to draw big crowds at the Woodley. The spectacular and weird photography, combined with the fascination of the story, make the film a very attractive one.

Next week "The Dancer and the King," adapted from George Barr McCutcheon's novel "Graustark," will be shown.

Quinn's Superba.

The picturization of George Barr McCutcheon's famous novel "The Rose in the Ring" that is being shown at Quinn's Superba this week under the name of "The Circus Man," is even more thrilling than the book. This is due in a great measure to the fact that the principal role is intrusted to the distinguished dramatic character actor, Theodore Roberts, who can always be depended upon to bring the salient points of a role into prominent view with an art that is unsurpassed. The story is one that appeals to the imagination and is conceded to be the best work of McCutcheon. On Tuesday night Mr. Roberts appeared upon the stage, in person, and charmed the audience with a most entertaining address on the growth and improvement in motion pictures.

Quinn's Garrick.

The Rip Van Winkle pictures at Quinn's Garrick are pleasing big audiences daily. Mr. Jefferson as "Rip" gives an interesting and careful interpretation of the part. He brings into prominence all the subtle character distinctions that make the role stand out from the surrounding strong cast. The story holds the interest and in many parts gains over the dramatic version. The dramatized play, hampered by mechanical effects of the theater, can only dimly suggest the beauties shown on the screen. The incidental music by the big orchestra adds no little to the enjoyment.

CHURCH PIANO THE LOOT.

Police Allege Negro Sold it to Furniture Company and Only for Forty Dollars.

A large grand piano in the Second Baptist Church (colored) early yesterday afternoon proved too much of a temptation for M. H. Davis, a colored man who lives across the street from the church at Eighth street and Maple avenue. After due thought and much planning, Davis, the police declare, stole the piano and sold it for $40.

According to the police and Officer Watson, who made the arrest, Davis called at the Stavnow Furniture Company and offered the piano for sale for $40. The offer was accepted by the company and a truck sent to the church for the piano. A colored woman who had charge of the church property called the police shortly after the piano had been removed, and Davis was placed under arrest. He refused to make any statements.

ELEVATOR VICTIMS IMPROVING.

Golden.

GREAT ARTIST AT THE MASON.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK.

Warfield of the old power and sweetness, the David Warfield of fifteen years' dominance of the American stage—fifteen years golden and complete, came to the Mason last night with "The Auctioneer," his first great success, to hold Los Angeles under the spell of his rare and gentle art the rest of this week and all of the next. His presence is light, his voice a benediction, his play the tears of happy laughter.

After this when Warfield's name is spoken I will hear low music, I will see soft lights. I will hear mothers teaching babies to lisp their first prayers; I will hear the Angelus ringing. I will remember how, at the age of 6, I was awakened at 2 o'clock one morning to look up at a blazing comet central in a southern sky—a long white flame, trailing amazement through a golden multitude of perplexed stars. And this besides shall come to me like a tear unbid—the memory of the one kiss that touched my soul, the one face that even death shall scarce erase. I will see a white moon upon billows of crimson clover. I shall see a red moon upon ripples of yellow wheat. The moon fell red upon her hair that night, fell like a final ecstacy, and then no more, no more, in all the years, no more. I have since pursued a thousand sunsets and have lingered with the twilight shadows, in which they lost their glow, that I might dream her face anew within each changing light. How sad the beauty of the world when the one with whom we are mad to share all beauty is forever lost! Ah, Warfield, whose voice echoes through dimlighted, half-forgotten corridors, and falls with gentle healing upon old wounds that still so well know how to hurt, yours is indeed the great gift, the divine inheritance of a golden personality!

Warfield's greatness is his simplicity and sincerity. Clever men we admire, the sincere we love. Talent is something, good taste is much, but the fire and the gold, the velvet and the ardor, these belong to the genius that towers and to the love that understands.

There is something about Warfield that makes you feel like promising yourself never to hurt the feelings of anybody else again as long as you live. He is himself that spirit of gentleness, he has that something big and simple and good which knows so well how to forgive. He is like a hurt child turning with sure faith to its mother's arms. We all go back to her in memory or in fact when the world hurts. We all go back and she never, never fails. Oh, I think the magic of Warfield, and all the glory of him is that when you have seen him in any play you want to be a better man or a better woman.

"The Auctioneer" is very old. It is only a comedy, mixed with very humble melodrama, yet Warfield brings to it a mirth so gentle that it hurts. Without him it would be nothing, with him it is the flower of the stage. Words cannot do it; it is the bigness and the sweetness of the man placing the arms of love about his audience and binding them all in a golden friendship for the hour.

His personality makes "The Auctioneer" a classic, as Jefferson made "Rip Van Winkle." He is to it what Mansfield was to "Beau Brummel."

Marie Bates is with him again as Mrs. Egan, and he has further delightful support in Guy Milham, Frank Nelson, Lola Moynelo, Harry Llewellyn, Jennie Moscowitz and a host of others. The street scene is exceptionally realistic.

AMATEURS PLEASE.

Amateur performances should be confined to the immediate relatives of the performers. They are to be suffered or endured, but it never occurred to me that they might be enjoyed. When I go to one I make up my mind to look pleasant if it kills me and on the way home I try to forgive and forget.

I congratulate myself that this prejudice has finally been overcome by a handful of children of the Hollywood High School. They presented an original version of "Little Women" on the stage of their auditorium Tuesday night and repeated it last night with unexpected merit and unbelievable stagecraft.

Miss Nelye Dickson must possess exceptional ability for direction to have given this pretty play such a setting upon a high school stage and to have brought out the speaking parts from untrained young people with such beautiful emphasis.

The interior of the Marsh home as it was here presented was more faithful in detail and lovelier in appointment than the big New York setting at the Majestic last winter. It approximated the natural to an amazing degree. I am told that both the drop curtain, giving the outward view of the homestead, and the orchard scene were painted by students of the art department of the school, that the costumes were made and designed by the domestic art department, that the scenery was built in the High School shops and the programmes printed by the High School press. This could not do other than bring the two big audiences under a spell of admiration for the versatility of the clever youngsters of this institution, and the efficiency of their instruction.

The first favorable impression I received was a sense of completeness. One seldom has the good fortune to witness a show of any character where every feature seems in exactly the right proportion and relation. The quality of the acting was another surprise. The principals were Joyce Percey, Samuel Holsinger, Claribel Constant, Ralph Bayley, Marie Branger, Jack Seager, Tom Jones, Marion Woodley, Norma Gleason, Carol Shults, Tim Sellar and Jean Webster. The robin's song was whistled by Robert McKee. The music was by the High School orchestra.

While it is always unfair to pretend to criticise the work of amateur performers by professional standards, it is not an exaggeration to say that with a little training Joyce Percey could be substituted for the Jo of the big road company without suffering too much from the comparison, and that Ralph Bayley created a Laurie of so much charm that one cannot doubt his promise. Miss Percey had many really big moments to offer, and Miss Woodley read the closing lines with beautiful emphasis.

A CHIEF AMONG LOCAL CHEFS.

MAN WHO HAS COOKED THE WORLD AROUND FINDS ANGELENOS INTELLIGENT.

"Never have I visited a place," said Chief W. L. Wyman, "where the women are as intelligent or where such close attention is given to the heart of the home, which is its cookery, as in Los Angeles."

This unqualified tribute to the women of our city was voluntarily paid and was the result of observation during several weeks of lecturing on the art of cookery which Mr. Wyman has been giving in the household department of Hamburger's.

Mr. Wyman has cooked his way around the world, having acted in important capacities in nearly every country on earth, led by a genuine love of his art and a desire to know the special dishes of every country, civilized or savage.

During his travels he has made it a point to assimilate the special dishes of the countries visited and to appropriate them to his own uses, seasoning them with that grain of common sense which makes all things assimilable. His genius has composed, decomposed and recomposed the recipes which he has found and as a result Mr. Wyman has in his repertoire of cookery many original and delectable dishes. From the curried foods of the Orient, to the fat doggies of the South Pacific Isles, from polenta to poi, from caviare to chile; from cafe au lait to tiffin and from puree to vel au vent—throughout the entire range of cookery, of all countries, times and seasons, M. Wyman has secured the secret. He has followed Cookery to her native lair, wheresoever that lair might be, and has brought away with him some precious fragment of the quarry.

"In observing the unusually well informed women and especially young girls who have attended my lectures in your city," said Chef Wyman, "I was led to investigate into the cause and I have thought that you must have here an exceptionally fine domestic science training in the public schools."

Mr. Wyman is charged with the mission of preparing and maintaining at the San Diego exposition the Model Kitchen; and that it will be a model kitchen and moreover a kitchen from whence will issue not only recipes of rare value but a philosophy of food which is a necessary accompaniment of prevention if the highest results are to be attained, is the conclusion of those who have listened to the lectures of the past few weeks.

Practical dishes and ways of preparing foods in a manner to cut down the high cost of living has been a subject of especial interest during these lectures. An entire day was recently devoted to the subject of "left over" when many palatible and economical dishes were demonstrated. For instance here is Chef Wyman's way of utilizing that dish from the emergency shelf, canned tuna. With a can of tuna use an equal quantity of left-over potatoes. Run the potatoes through the ricer and mix well with the fish. Add a beaten egg and mold the mixture into balls after having seasoned with salt, pepper and chopped parsley. Place on a flat baking dish in the oven and cook until brown, serving over each croquette a sauce either white or with the addition of herbs.

A favorite meat sauce of this chef is made as follows: Pare and slice thin two tart apples and add one medium-sized onion sliced thin. Cook until soft and run through a sieve or colander. Add salt, paprika and two teaspoonfuls of curry powder. Thicken with a teaspoonful of arrow root, cooking to proper consistency. This is an excellent sauce to serve with meat or fish.

Fire caused by crossed wiring, early last night, totally destroyed a warehouse at No. 1715 Industrial street, owned by Carl Leonardt, a contractor. The loss of the warehouse and contents is estimated by Mr. Leonardt at about $5000. The building was insured for $2500.

Having its origin in the wooded roof of the building, which was 100 feet in length and thirty in width, the fire soon spread to the entire building and by the time the fire department arrived was beyond control. Several freight cars standing on the siding near the warehouse were saved by the firemen, although one of the cars was damaged.

Sacks of cement, wire fencing, bales of hair, and a small planing mill, which occupied one end of the warehouse, were destroyed. A small amount of oil stored in the warehouse in cans exploded and hurled burning oil over several firemen, but the men were saved from injury by their thick coats. Five engines and one truck fought the fire for more than an hour before the flames were extinguished.

Three large warehouses which flank the Leonhardt warehouse were fired by the heat upon several occasions, but the blazes were quickly extinguished by the firemen.

PHYSICIAN ENDS OWN SUFFERING.

Formerly Head of Hospital, Here for Health.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Nov. 26.—On the eve of Thanksgiving, shortly after 7 o'clock, the lifeless body of Dr. F. C. Leonard of No. 2009 North Marengo avenue, was discovered by a neighbor who went to pay the Leonards a visit.

Smelling gas which was penetrating into the other rooms, she went into the bathroom, where she found the physician lying on the floor, death having come only a short time before, as his body was warm.

Just at this time Mrs. Leonard returned from a neighbor's, and was almost overcome by shock.

The women picked him up in their arms and placed him on a bed, and then called the police. Officers Rogers and Police Surgeon Coates answered the call, and with the use of a pulmoter tried to revive him, but life was extinct.

Dr. Leonard and his wife came to Pasadena for his health a number of years ago from London, where he is said to have had charge of a large hospital for a number of years. For several years he has been in very poor health, and it is surmised that after brooding over his condition, he decided to end it all. He had taken a bath, and after carefully shaving himself, turned on the gas from a jet near the floor and presumably lay down with his face near the wall.

BRILLIANT REOPENING.

The formal opening of the Hotel Maryland tonight promises to eclipse in brilliance and size of attendance any social function given in the Crown City for a long time.

Nearly 1000 reservations have been made for the opening dinner and supper dance. And to accommodate the great crowd dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock and again at 8 o'clock.

At 11 o'clock the supper dine will begin, in addition to the ball to be held in the new ballroom, which is one of the largest in Southern California, and when the doors are thrown open between the dining-room and ballroom the floor space is even larger than that of the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles, and the whole wonderfully beautiful in its white and gold trimmings.

WANT JUVENILE COURT.

If the Parent-Teacher Federation is successful in its efforts, Pasadena will have a juvenile court.

Just as soon as Judge Curtis Wilbur returns from the Imperial Valley a committee headed by George Wesson will wait upon him and present their plans to him.

Mrs. Jerome O. Cross, president of the federation, and twelve others on the committee are doing all they can to have a juvenile court established here.

TAXPAYERS SPLIT.

A tense moment followed the resignation of seventy-five members of the Taxpayers' Protective Association at their meeting last night. They gave as their reasons for resigning several things, the most important of which is that members of the association have become too radical and for that very reason had defeated some of the things they had wished to accomplish.

JAPANESE ISSUE.

Members of the Twilight Club, which met Wednesday evening, are divided on the question of whether or not Japanese should be allowed to own land in California.

Benjamin E. Page is in favor of the ownership of land in California by Japanese. Other speakers for and against it were Frank S. Wallace, Judge G. A. Gibbs, Dr. James H. McBride, Dr. Charles D. Lockwood, Dr. Charles Frederick Holder, Dr. Garrett Newkirk, Torrey Everett and A. E. Edwards.

Out of respect to the memory of Dr. Robert J. Burdette and Dr. E. L. Conger, who were members of the club, resolutions were adopted.

You will be thankful all the rest of your life if you once visit Grace Nicholson's Famous Pasadena Shop for your wedding and Christmas gifts.

FINE CHURCH IS TO BE DEDICATED.

HIGH PRELATES WILL ATTEND THE CEREMONIES TODAY; OTHER NEWS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Nov. 25.—Bishop Thomas Conaty, head of the Catholic diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, and Archbishop Francisco Mendoza of Durango, Mex., will be among the Catholic dignitaries and a number of priests who will attend the dedication tomorrow morning of the new brick St. Anthony's Church, Sixth and Olive avenues. This church cost $75,000, and is a beautiful structure of Tudor Gothic architecture, 125 feet long and seventy-five feet wide, seating about 600.

The procession of the clergy will leave the parish house at 10 o'clock, when the exterior of the church will be blessed. Fifteen minutes later the interior will be blessed. There will be prayer and the singing of the litany at 10:30, followed by solemn high mass with Rev. Monsignor McCarthy of Fresno as the officiating prelate. Father Gallagher will deliver the dedicatory sermon. An audience of from 3000 to 4000 is expected to witness the dedication.

OSTEOPATHS TO REVEL.

Friday an army of osteopaths will descend on Long Beach and hold high revel at a picnic in Bixby Park, under the auspices of the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons of Los Angeles. The crowd will alight at Sixteenth street and American avenue, and will proceed to the campus of the high school, where the sports will be held. A basket feed at the park will follow.

MONEY FOR BONDS.

The sum of $25,000 in gold was turned over to City Treasurer Norton this afternoon by the bonding house of H. P. Mounton, to take up half the issue for the Belmont pier bonds. The work of constructing the reinforced concrete pier will be begun immediately by the contractors, Trounce & Stoecker of San Diego.

WINDOW YIELDS LOOT.

Robber Smashes Front of Jewelry Store and Gets Eight Hundred Dollars in Plunder.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, Nov. 25.—With a rock picked up in the street, the show window of the Adamson & Thompson jewelry store was smashed last night and through the aperture a haul of about $800 worth of jewelry taken. A stick about two feet long was used for raking up the rings, bracelets and other articles.

The robbery is one of the most daring in the history of the city, as the store is on a prominent corner and the street and store were fully lighted.

This morning several of the blocks on which the rings were mounted were found on East H street, but so far there has been no definite clew to the robber or robbers.

DINNER TODAY FOR MANY NEEDY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Nov. 25.—The local Fruit and Flower Mission, in accordance with its annual custom, has completed preparations for Thanksgiving for the needy of this city, after several days of strenuous work. The hundreds of school children of the city have donated liberally of foodstuffs and provisions, and bountiful baskets have been prepared and delivered to those families who would not otherwise have supplies.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held tomorrow forenoon at the First Christian Church, all of the Protestant churches of the city uniting in the programme. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Harry White of Trinity Methodist Church.

TON OF TURKEY AT STATE HOSPITAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 25.—The biggest Thanksgiving dinner in Southern California is being prepared near this city tonight. At the Southern California State Hospital for the Insane at Patton 2110 patients will be fed tomorrow, and more than a ton of turkey alone will be prepared for the dinner. The dinner will include 2600 pounds of turkey, 1000 pounds of mince meat, making a quarter of an acre of pie; thirty gallons of cranberry sauce, twenty sacks of sweet potatoes, twenty-five sacks of white potatoes, several hundred pounds of fruit, oysters, celery and other embellishments.

San Bernardino.

TAKE ROBBERY SUSPECT FOUND AT GIRL'S HOME.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 25.—Charged with one of the most brutal crimes that has come to the attention of the local officers, Edward Lilley, formerly gardener at the Arrowhead Hotel, is in the County Jail here. He was arrested late last night at the home of a friend, Miss Bessie McDonald, in Altadena, the officers, led by Sheriff Ralphs and Under Sheriff Ward of this city, surrounding the home.

The arrest was made after officers had surrounded the house and Sheriff Ralphs had gone to the door and ordered him to give himself up. He rushed out through the back door, however, making a wild dash for the canyon, which he expected to reach in the darkness. The officers were too quick for him, however, and, pouncing down upon him, handcuffed him after a desperate struggle, in which he drew a gun.

According to the officers, Lilley has served two terms in prison.

He has been employed in Los Angeles as a carpenter, but had been stopping at the McDonald house for several days, and it was not until Wednesday evening that the San Bernardino officers learned that he might be in Altadena.

Lilley is accused of waylaying Leroy Johnson, a bell boy at the Arrowhead, in a lonely spot on the Arrowhead road on the night of October 14. Johnson was on his way to San Bernardino on his motorcycle. Lilley stopped him and asked for a match. Then, according to Johnson's story, Lilley slugged and robbed him. The bell boy awoke early the next morning and dragged himself to the hotel.

After the assault, he had been taken several hundred feet and thrown into the brush down the side of the canyon, with his hands tied behind him. His assailant failed to make the motorcycle work and threw it, too, into the brush.

Johnson said he lost about $20 and a watch.

Lilley was once in the navy and served a term in the marine prison for beating up an officer. He was armed when arrested. He had admitted, it is said, that he stopped Johnson, but denies having beaten or robbed him.

STAGE LINE MAY ENTER MEXICO.

NEGOTIATIONS ON FOR LINE TO REACH ENSENADA.

Autos Would Make Run from San Diego in a Day, Supplementing Steamer Service—Wireless Plant in Baja California Seized by Government; Owners Under Fire.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 25.—Negotiations are pending for the establishment of an auto stage line between San Diego and Ensenada, Mex., which, it is expected, will be closed in a few days. Should the concession for the stage line be granted, it is probable mail privileges will be allowed. The service is to be daily. The distance is ninety-three miles, and although the run will take practically a day, it will undoubtedly be more comfortable than by way of boat.

Another contemplated bus line is one to bridge the gap between Oceanside and Temecula. This is proposed by Chauncey Hayes, an Oceanside realty man, provided he can get the co-operation of the Santa Fe officials.

The break in the Temecula line, which is a short cut to San Diego, is about twelve miles, and occurred several years ago in a washout. This break has never been rebuilt. Hayes proposes to run auto stages from Fallbrook to Temecula, if the Santa Fe will run trains the remainder of the distance from each end. He believes much of the congestion on the Los Angeles-San Diego branch of the Santa Fe might be relieved during 1915.

BOGUS CHECKS.

The city has been flooded since Monday with bogus checks, purporting to be pay checks issued to laborers by the "Costello Construction Company," signed "P. T. Costello, Manager." The checks are drawn on the First National Bank of San Diego and the First National Bank of Los Angeles.

Delay by the holders of the checks in turning them into the banks enabled the operator to pass more than a dozen, ranging from $25 to $75, since Monday. The checks have been cashed by an individual of heavy build, brown hair and apparently a workingman, about 35 years old.

It was stated at the First National Bank and the City Building Inspector's office today that there is no Costello Construction Company known in San Diego or Southern California. The first of the bogus checks was discovered today when it went through the clearinghouse.

WIRELESS SEIZED.

The Mexican government has made a grand coup in the case of Harry Vondenburg, arrested for violating the neutrality laws at Alamo, Baja California, by confiscating the wireless outfit which caused the trouble. The Mexican government has wireless stations at Guaymas, San Jose del Cabo, Tres Marias Island, San Rosalia and Mazatlan. This new station at Alamo is said to be a valuable asset.

Vondenburg and his friends are in custody at Ensenada, and while released on bail, cannot leave Mexico until the case is disposed of.

Vondenburg's defense will be that the electrical apparatus was intended for the location of a gold mine.

COLLIER TOO LATE.

The British collier Dunraven, from Wales, arrived in port this morning with a load of coal intended for the British Admiralty fleet, which engaged in battle with the German cruisers off the coast of Chile recently, when two were disabled. After taking on water and food the Dunraven left for Vancouver, where she will await orders.

NUPTIAL LEGERDEMAIN.

FRESNO, Nov. 25.—An intricate feat of legal legerdemain was performed today to accommodate a Fresno couple who desired to be married on Thanksgiving. When the love god had maneuvered his clients through the Superior Court and the County Clerk's office, the Q.E.D. of his problem was: Mrs. Crissie Clifton, mother of Anna J. Edmondson, was the guardian of Glen R. Edmondson, 18 years old. Anna J. Edmondson, 30 years of age, triumphantly walked away from the marriage license clerk's desk with a license to wed Glen R. Edmondson, made possible by the appointment of the guardian. Mr. Edmondson is no blood relation to his prospective bride, although of the same name.

WANT BETTER ROAD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA SUSANA, Nov. 25.—Improvement of the Ventura side of the road over the Santa Susana Pass is the primary object of the Simi Valley Board of Trade, the first steps in the organization of which were taken at a meeting attended by more than 100 persons here last night. Many other plans for betterment and beautification of the Simi section will be taken up by the organization later. Estimates following a survey made some time ago are that a road with a 6 per cent. grade, two and one-half miles long and twenty feet wide, will cost $25,000.

OIL MEN VICTIMS OF MOTOR WRECK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, Nov. 25.—Two Olinda oil men, A. Alumbaugh and P. Grubbs, were hurt last evening when their Hudson car swerved from a culvert and overturned a mile east of La Habra. Mr. Alumbaugh was injured internally, while Mr. Grubbs suffered a broken nose and bruises about the face. Both were taken to Brea for attention. The machine was wrecked.

A Mexican was struck by an automobile this morning west of this city and bruised sufficiently to be taken to the Whittier Hospital. The driver of the car is S. C. MacIntosh of Los Angeles, and the Mexican was struck when he jumped in front of the MacIntosh car as it attempted to pass another machine.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Dayton F. Gooch, a well-known and prominent business man of this city and Rivera, died suddenly at his Rivera home early yesterday afternoon. Heart trouble was the cause of his rather unexpected death. For some months Mr. Gooch had not been in good health, but his serious illness was short.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Gooch of Rivera, and leaves a wife, his parents, and several brothers and sisters.

Mr. Gooch was assistant cashier of the Whittier National Bank until his resignation a few months ago, and had been connected with the bank for eleven years. He was 31 years of age.

The funeral will be held from the home of deceased at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and interment will be in the Whittier Cemetery.

SALARY, NOT FEES.

Acting on a request of City Recorder Taylor, the City Trustees last evening fixed the salary for that office at so much per month, instead of the office fees. In presenting his request to the Trustees some time ago, Mr. Taylor stated that very few City Recorders are now paid by the fee system and that it is objectionable on account of its liability to abuse. He therefore asked that the office be placed on a salary basis. The Trustees fixed the salary at $35 a month to begin with the New Year.

SLOGAN FOR FILLMORE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FILLMORE, Nov. 25.—"Fillmore, Fortune Favored" is the slogan that will be used on publicity matter and stationery of the city's organizations hereafter. One hundred suggestions were submitted in the contest just closed, the one of Judge Merton Barnes winning the prize of $5, which the judge donated to a local charity.

Theodore O. Garlick Asks Court to Remove Odor from It by Changed Spelling.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Nov. 25.—Theodore O. Garlick does not like the odor of a part of his name, and he has petitioned the Superior Court for permission to change it to Garlishe, which name his father assumed ten years ago. The father deserted the family name for the same reason that it fails to appeal to the son, whose petition states that "it is offensive on account of its similarity to an unpleasant smelling vegetable by the name of garlic." Theodore is now almost 21 years of age, and he desires to enter his majority with none of the fumes of his old name hanging to him.

PAGEANT OF PEACE.

Grammar School Children Frolic in Gay Representation of Progress World Has Made.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, Nov. 25.—All of the children of the grammar grades participated this afternoon in a pageant of nations on the High School grounds, which was the most elaborate affair eveg attempted by the children. Its purpose was to impress on them the importance and significance of the peace movement.

The pageant was staged on the athletic field. Tableaux presented a series of interesting scenes depicting the progress of the world from mediaevalism to the present. It started with a parade of nations, in native costumes, past and present, followed by flag-raising exercises, to which the children sung "The Star-Spangled Banner." This was followed by human chariot races, pushmobile races, athletic pyramids, the dance of the nations and the joust of the knights.

Closing the entertainment was four Maypole dances with sixteen girls to each pole dressed in the costumes of four different nations, led by the United States. The plaiting represented the binding together of the nations in peace after many years of strife. The flag was then lowered, the nations all joining in saluting "Old Glory."

SEEK LOCATIONS FOR CANNERIES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Nov. 25.—The San Pedro Chamber of Commerce has appointed Ray Mitchell, A. Ferber and E. M. Moores a committee to take up with the Harbor Commission the matter of tuna cannery locations. Several enterprises have been seeking locations on the waterfront and have been unable to make satisfactory arrangements either with the city or owners of private property on account of lack of suitable improvements on frontage removed from the needs of commerce.

The plans of E. P. Goodrich, the New York expert employed to make recommendations for a comprehensive improvement of the harbor, provide for a fishing harbor east of Deadman's Island, where the entire fishing industry could be removed from the shipping interests. Several canneries have located at Long Beach recently after failing to get locations here upon as liberal terms as were offered there. The Chamber of Commerce will call attention to the importance of the tuna industry and attempt to show that a fishing harbor upon the Goodrich plan would be a paying investment for the city.

IMPROVEMENTS PROGRESS.

Rapid progress is being made in municipal harbor improvements. In the outer harbor, 1100 feet of the big steel transit freight shed is now ready for the roofing and the remaining 700 feet will be done in about three weeks. Foundation tests are being made for the big six-story warehouse to be built back of the shed on municipal dock No. 1 and a satisfactory base has been found. Work is rushing on the paving to connect the dock with the Pacific-avenue boulevard and this work will be completed about the first of the year.

In the inner harbor, shed No. 2 is now nearly completed. It is reported that the Luckenback Steamship Company has made application to berth its New York steamers at pier A, upon which this shed is being built.

DID BULLET ON BRAIN CAUSE BULLION THEFT?

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 25.—That a bullet which lodged in his head twelve years ago, when he was accidentally shot while hunting, has caused the rather eccentric career of Winfield Scott, son of a local capitalist, and finally led up to the wild plan to loot the treasure house of the Dale mine, for which he is now held in the County Jail, along with Clarence Loyst, Bible student, who has confessed, is the belief of friends.

The bullet has never been removed, and may have caused a pressure on the brain. His head may be examined before the case comes to trial.

Loyst, who was lodged in jail here early today, had not yet been given an opportunity to confront Scott with his confession.

Sheriff Ralphs today received word from Constable Charles Brown at Dale that he had given Scott and his companion $55 to show him where they had buried the gold, the bullion having become too heavy to carry. Scott showed him and Brown then released the two at Mecca. It is inferred from his letter that he made the guarantee that the company would not prosecute them. Brown took bullion said to be worth $1000 back to Dale.

BIG OIL GUSHER RUINS HOMES; THREATENS MEN.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 25.—The No. 25 well of the Kern Trading and Oil Company (Southern Pacific,) on section 1, 32-23, near Taft, which came in yesterday afternoon with a flow which went over the derrick and at the rate of 10,000 barrels a day, broke loose again at 9 o'clock last night and is now spouting out oil at the rate of 30,000 barrels a day.

The company's camp is only a few hundred feet away, and several homes have been ruined, including those of Supt. Wallace Canfield, Don Hatfield and Mr. Duncan. At latest reports all the employees had their trunks packed and were ready to move, but the interesting sight was keeping them on hand until the last possible minute.

The well was completed into the oil sand at a depth of 2100 feet with six-inch pipe. The well has been giving much trouble for the past two weeks because of the heavy gas pressure.

A side pipe was used for the past ten days through which the gas and oil escaped, that the crew might be relieved of danger from drowning in oil. The oil produced is twenty-six gravity.

This is the greatest gusher the Midway has ever had with the exception of the No. 39, on the same section, which came in during November, 1912, and flowed for four weeks.

URGES RECALL OF OFFICIALS.

Grand Jury Takes Fling at Supervisors.

Would Get Bond Election to Better Hospital.

Foreman Signs Report Under Solemn Protest.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 25.—A moment of dramatic interest featured the filing of a supplemental report of the grand jury today. Foreman George M. Mack refused to sign the report. The court refused to accept the report unless signed. For a brief moment intense stillness prevailed. Then Mr. Mack arose and, addressing the court, declared he would place his signature to it under the strongest protest.

The grand jury was organized last March. The inquisitors made a preliminary report at that time, calling to the attention of the Supervisors the conditions at the County Hospital, which were declared a crying disgrace. The grand jury directed that the Supervisors take immediate steps to call an election to vote bonds for a new hospital building. In taking a recess at that time the grand jury adjourned to the call of the foreman, which was not to be postponed longer than March 15, as the inquisitors determined to get after the Supervisors unless their urgings were obeyed.

The report filed today declares: "We were notified that no further meetings would be held unless ordered by the court to convene. We were hampered and stopped by not being allowed to continue our determination in this matter of reform.

"We find now that the time is much too limited and we feel that if this body had been allowed to follow up a reform much needed ninety days ago a change would have resulted in the Board of Supervisors."

The report characterizes the grand jury system as a farce and an unnecessary expense to the taxpayers, and declares that the Supervisors have not given the grand jury recommendations as much consideration as would have been accorded those of private individuals.

The report makes the declaration that the "disgraceful condition" which has existed for many years at the County Hospital, having been ignored by the Supervisors, a recall be had and proper county officials placed in charge.

In the recall suggestion the report says: "We recommend to the people of Santa Barbara county that a bond election should be called, which election was agreed on by the Supervisors and promised by others to be put on the ballot on November 3, but such agreement and promise were ignored, and we now ask that a bond election be called as soon as the law will allow for an amount to meet the requirements of a new County Hospital.

"Having been ignored by the Supervisors for a reasonable length of time to provide for the comfort and necessities of the unfortunate inmates of this institution, we would suggest that a recall be made and proper county officials placed in charge."

The report also recommends the appointment of a county purchasing agent and declares an immense saving to the taxpayers could be made.

INDORSE ROAD BONDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FULLERTON, Nov. 25.—The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, at a special meeting last night, indorsed the proposition to vote bonds for paving the Brea road to the city limits. The cost is estimated at $35,000. The Chamber of Commerce also indorsed this proposed improvement at a recent meeting.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAWTELLE, Nov. 25.—The brush fire that has been raging in Sepulveda Canyon, back of this place, is controlled. Its spread was stopped today by a force of 200 men, who had worked for twenty-two hours at the task. About 1000 acres were burned over.

FIVE-MINUTE FREEDOM.

Attorney Hewlett is Released from Custody and then Arrested Again on Similar Charge.

Justice Forbes yesterday dismissed the complaint charging Eugene E. Hewlett, clubman and friend of millionaires, with obtaining money under false pretenses from Reginald H. Gernon of Altadena.

Five minutes later, however, Mr. Hewlett was re-arrested on a new complaint filed in Justice Summerfield's court, charging him with a similar offense. He was arraigned and released in $5000 bail. The attorneys for the lawyer-defendant asked for a speedy hearing, which was granted, and the case will be fought out December 2. Mr. Hewlett is alleged to have defrauded Mr. Gernon out of $30,000 in a real estate deal.

WANTS TO SELL OUT.

An application was filed yesterday with the State Railroad Commission by the Rodeo Land and Water Company requesting permission to sell its water, gas, and electric systems to the Beverly Hills Utilities Company in return for $200,000 capital stock of the latter company.

The former represents the Seventy-second District and the latter the Sixty-third. The delegation consists of twelve Republicans, eight of whom are from Los Angeles county. The Los Angeles delegation is the largest from any county in the State.

IMPERIAL COTTON READY FOR MARKET, BUT——

English Agent Appeals to Harbor Commission but Finds no Bottoms. All December Boats via the Canal have Capacity Cargoes—Two New Lines Available in January.

Imperial Valley compressed cotton is available for shipment to England if steamer space can be found, according to a letter from L. S. Atkinson, Imperial Valley agent for a Liverpool cotton brokerage house, to the Harbor Commission, received yesterday. This is available for shipment from Los Angeles harbor during December or January, says Mr. Atkinson. Traffic Manager Matson says that nearly every steamer is booked to capacity until the end of December, but he states the Imperial cotton may be shipped in January by either of two routes, one of which will be a new ship line. The two lines are the East Asiatic Steamship Company, now operating from this coast to Copenhagen, and the Johnson line, represented by W. R. Grace & Co., the latter of which will run its first line in January.

The Harbor Commission yesterday pointed out that the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company is now operating its ships between this port and Honolulu without going to San Francisco, as heretofore.

Against Billboards.

Resolutions from civic bodies against the unsightly billboards were presented to the City Council yesterday. All the resolutions speak of the growing nuisance of the billboard and commend the Council's apparent effort to either abolish or minimize the nuisance. Among the clubs which have adopted resolutions are the Travel Club, the Wednesday Morning Club, the Ebell Club, the City Planning Association and the University W.C.T.U.

Notes of the Hall.

"Marie B" writes indignantly to Mayor Rose, protesting against holding an election on December 31, when the ballots will have to be counted on New Year's Eve. She considers this an unjust discrimination against the election officials, who will have to forego New Year's Eve festivities.

The Council yesterday referred to the Finance Committee the matter of appointing additional police officers for the winter, but the committeemen expressed a doubt as to whether it could be done, owing to the city's stringent financial condition.

Further indication that prosperity is here and now, was received yesterday by the Mayor from Kountze Bros., bond brokers of New York City, who asked for Los Angeles bonds. This is the second bonding house making the inquiry, and the information that the city has $6,500,000 in power bonds ready for sale was sent at once.

WILL OF GREAT OLD FIGHTER.

Estate Consists of Kansas Realty and Mining and Insurance Stock, Total Value (Real and Personal) Being Estimated at Twelve Hundred and Fifty Dollars.

In a brief will written by himself, Lieut.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, who died on the 1st inst., gives all of his property to his widow, Mrs. Annie Rockwell Chaffee, and appointed her executrix without bonds. She was given power to sell all or any part of the estate without an order of the court. The witnesses to the will are W. F. Shelley and W. B. Mathews. It was executed June 30, 1910.

The petition for the probate of the will was filed by the Security Trust and Savings Bank, which asks to be appointed administrator of the estate, Mrs. Chaffee releasing her right to act as executrix. The estate consists of 1,815 shares of the capital stock of the Clara Consolidated Gold and Copper Mining Company; thirty shares in trust of the Title Insurance and Trust Company; 191 shares of the Great Republic Life Insurance Company, and twenty acres at Junction City, Kan.

The value of the stock and the acreage is not given in the petition, which states that the value of the real and personal property is $1250.

The heirs named are the widow, Mrs. Annie Rockwell Chaffee, No. 1 Chester place; Mrs. Kate Chaffee Hamilton, a daughter, of Ilo Ilo, Philippine Islands; Lieut. Adna R. Chaffee, Jr., Seventh United States Cavalry, Camp Stotesburg, Philippine Islands, a son, and Mrs. Helen Chaffee Howard, a daughter, of this city.

VALUABLE SECURITIES.

FIND WAY INTO COURT.

Stocks and bonds valued at $60,000, exhibits in the suit of Carrie R. Case against Frank West, on trial before Judge Prewett, were turned over to the custody of W. L. Price, clerk of Extra Sessions One, for safe-keeping during the lunch hour yesterday. So much wealth was a test on Mr. Price's nerves, and he did not breathe easily until he got them back to the courtroom.

The suit involves stocks and bonds valued at $17,680, which Mrs. Case alleges she turned over to James P. Carroll during his lifetime, the income from which was to be used for his support. These securities were a portion which Mrs. Case says were given to her by her brother, S. Horace Roberts. She says he told her that when he died everything he had was to be hers.

Mr. Carroll was a friend and companion of her brother, Horace, and resided with the family. When Mr. Roberts died Mrs. Case gave Carroll one-third of the securities on the understanding that they were not to be sold or disposed of during his lifetime. Mr. Carroll died May 20, last, transferring the securities to Frank West.

It is claimed that the transfer was ineffective and did not convey title. It is also alleged that the delivery of the stocks and bonds to Mr. Carroll was not complete and that they belong to Mrs. Case. Attorneys Goudge, Chandler and Stutsman, representing the parties, went into the ownership of the securities by Mr. Roberts in the first instance, which was why such a large amount was brought into court.

TELEPHONE STOCK.

BUYER ALLEGES FRAUD.

George L. McDermott's complaint filed yesterday against C. L. Lewis and Frank S. Fell might be paraphrased into "I was a stranger and ye took me in." He says he arrived from Wisconsin a stranger and alleges that he bought 500 shares of stock of the Nevada Telephone and Telegraph Company, and was taken in.

Mr. McDermott charges the defendants with conspiring to cheat and defraud him by representing that T. D. Murphy of Goldfield was in town, and being in need of money, would sell at par 1250 shares of the telephone company's stock. The par value was $1 and would earn a dividend of 15 per cent. per annum.

To get this bargain Mr. McDermott must take all of the stock, but finally he says that Mr. Lewis agreed to take 750 shares, if Mr. McDermott did not desire to purchase more than 500. The stock was taken.

Then, according to the complaint, things transpired. Mr. McDermott alleged that Mr. Murphy was not in town; that he was not in need of money to the extent that he would sacrifice the stock, and that it was worth not to exceed 15 cents a share. Further, that Mr. Lewis did not intend to purchase the 750 shares, but transferred 500 shares from himself to Mr. McDermott. These various acts, it was asserted, were wilful, malicious, false and fraudulent in intent. He asks $500 actual and $500 exemplary damages.

"SELF-PRESERVATION."

HUBBY WITH A NERVE.

Julia A. White, a business woman, had accumulated a little property when she married John H. Waite in this city August 12, 1912. The understanding was that he was to close up his business in Sacramento and come to Los Angeles, living in the house she owned and contributing $50 a month toward the general support.

She testified in the divorce suit she brought in Judge Monroe's court yesterday that he complained of paying the money. Finally he asked her if she had made a will. She said she had, and then he wanted to know how she had disposed of her property.

"Why, I divided equally among my children," she replied. These were children by a former marriage.

"Where do I come in?" queried Mr. Waite. "Your children get it all?"

He asked her to change it and she complied, but alas, conditions were no better. She had left him $10, provided her will was contested. This was the last straw. Mr. Waite, according to the evidence, went to Oxnard October 30, 1912, and never came back.

In granting the decree, Judge Monroe said:

"Madam, I think you gave your husband too much."

DAMAGES AWARDED.

IMPEACHMENT FALLS DOWN.

Charles R. Woodruff, who acted as agent for his wife, Mrs. Mabel L. Woodruff, in having their furniture shipped from Kansas City to this city in October, 1911, and whose testimony it was sought to impeach, produced half a dozen witnesses in Judge McCormick's court yesterday and showed that his reputation is good.

This was one feature of the suit of Mrs. Woodruff against Curtis C. Colyear to recover $5490 damages for goods destroyed in the defendant's warehouse. The goods, it appears, were the separate property of Mrs. Woodruff. The question hinged on whether or not a man named Wiggleton was authorized to make a contract with Mr. Colyear by which the latter agreed to ship the goods in an exclusive car for $200. Negligence was alleged.

Mr. Colyear denied this contract and also denied that Wiggleton had authority to make the contract. The contract was, said Mr. Colyear, that he was to ship the goods in a car at the rate of $1.75 a hundred pounds. The jury found for $2150.

FUTURE OUTLOOK.

DAMAGES FOR GIRL.

Entering into the judgment of $4416, awarded Miss Lucille Martinek, a telephone operator, by Judge Legerton yesterday, was the probable damages she received as a wife. Miss Martinek was struck by an automobile at Seventh and Hill streets July 20, 1912, and suffered internal injuries and a fractured instep.

The machine was owned by the National Spring Wheel Company and was driven by C. A. Boynton, who is said to be out of the State. Miss Martinek was corroborated by one witness, who said that the auto was running in a zigzag fashion on the wrong side of the street. The company's defense was that Boynton took the machine out without permission. Suit was brought for $20,000.

MONEY MATTERS.

In Judge Houser's court some time ago Mrs. Jennie A. Linton sought to be appointed guardian for her husband, Robert M. Linton, on the ground that he was incompetent. The decision was in favor of Mr. Linton. Yesterday he appeared in Judge Monroe's court asking for a divorce.

He is 74 and she is 52. Both had been previously married. She admitted that most of their troubles were over money matters. About $20,000 worth of property was involved, the character of which the court went into.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

ONE DAY MORE. Because Thanksgiving is a holiday the final decree of divorce could not be granted William N. Ferguson until tomorrow, which makes it one year and one day since he was awarded an interlocutory decree. This would not have mattered much except that Mr. Ferguson had taken out a license to marry Mary J. Collins of Long Beach, and thought he could marry her today. Presiding Judge Wood held that he would have to wait one day longer.

ures. The jury recommends that this practice should be discontinued.

The jury recommends that county employees be required to work forty-four hours a week, with the exception of professionals employed in the county counsel and District Attorney's office. The jurors found that in different departments of the county the employees have varying hours which they considered unjust not only to the county, but to those employees who are compelled to work the longest hours. They ask that the present system be discontinued.

The Supervisors are handed nice bouquets by the jury for their action in the charities question. Three whole pages are devoted to the Supervisors and their excellent work in behalf of charity. J. J. Hassell, the grand jury auditor, is also praised.

The report was filed with Judge McCormick at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. After reading the report, Judge McCormick highly commended the jurors for their efficient and painstaking work in behalf of the citizens and taxpayers of the county. Deputy District Attorney Hammon, who has attended to the legal wants of the jurors during the year, also congratulated the jury. "My intimate association with the present grand jury," said Deputy Hammon, "has convinced me that it is composed of high-minded men imbued with a controlling desire to improve the public service, to exterminate the fungus growth of inefficiency and to leave behind them as an evidence of their efforts, a piece of constructive work worthy of being a precedent for succeeding grand juries."

The grand jury was composed of the following: W. J. Washburn, chairman; S. M. Sinsabaugh, secretary; D. W. Coolidge, George A. Cortelyou, Robert Hale, George E. Hart, Martin E. Johnson, T. E. Newlin, Mac D. Snowball, E. T. Stimson, S. H. Taft, Homer Trueblood, B. H. Vandenburgh, J. L. Viereck, Samuel Wakeling, Guy M. Weddington, Ben Williams, H. D. Williams and G. W. Witherell.

Shortly before the report was filed Chairman Washburn on behalf of the jury presented Secretary Sinsabaugh with a gold watch, Deputy Hammon with a Knight Templar gold charm and M. E. Johnson with a silver loving cup. Brief talks were made by many of the jurors.

The report says in part:

"This grand jury, during the first month of its existence, undertook the task of securing for the county an adequate system of accounting and control.

"After considerable deliberation and several meetings with the Board of Supervisors, at one of which meetings Anson Herrick, of Herrick & Herrick, auditors, of San Francisco, and I. G. Pattinson of Price, Waterhouse & Co. of New York City, together with the Board of Supervisors, appeared before the grand jury, it was practically agreed that an adequate system of accounting would be installed by the county.

"Certain members of the Board of Supervisors went to Alameda county to inspect the system installed by Herrick & Herrick, and while there ascertained that the State Board of Control were not only authorized by law to establish such systems of accounting for counties, but that they were anxious to do the work. Upon ascertaining these facts, the Board of Supervisors arranged with the State Board of Control for the establishment of such a system under its direction, thus saving the county $15,000 to $20,000 which it would have cost to have had the work done by private accountants.

During the month of May the State Board of Control sent two of its experts to Los Angeles to make a thorough survey of the county, later returning to Sacramento to complete their work.

Mr. Avery, the chief of the State Board of Control, is now in Los Angeles installing the system as outlined by the board, and it is believed that the system will be in full operation by the end of this year.

This system should result in the saving of vast sums of money in future years, as it will provide an adequate system of accounting and control of all county funds and a comparison from year to year of the expense of each department, which will give the Board of Supervisors accurate information upon which to base reforms and retrenchments.

FRANCHISES.

Late in our work, our Auditor called our attention to the fact that one of the provisions of certain franchises granted by the Board of Supervisors required the payment to the county of a certain per cent. of the gross receipts of the grantees, and that it had not been complied with in all cases.

Through the efforts of this grand jury, various sums covering periods of several years have been collected from certain corporations, and it is our belief that a great deal more can be collected if the proper officials pursue the matter further, and either compel the payment as provided for in the franchise, or revoke the same.

INFERIOR COURT TRUST FUNDS.

In relation to the trust funds of the inferior courts, we find that there is no provision of law for the deposit of said funds with or withdrawal from the county treasury.

This matter should be taken up by proper officials and a change in the law should be made permitting or requiring to be made with the County Treasurer the deposit of all trust funds, fees, tenders, bail moneys, etc.

By instituting the deposit of county funds daily we believe we have practically eliminated the undesirable practice of county officials carrying county funds for one month in their private banking accounts.

COURT REPORTERS.

A great deal of work has been done by this jury and our auditor in relation to court reporters. Those interested should read the auditor's report relating to court reporters, as very interesting facts have developed.

We believe that a department of court reporters and transcribers should be established by the county to report and transcribe all criminal and civil matters coming before the courts of Los Angeles county, and that all reporters and transcribers should be placed on salary.

CITY SCHOOLS.

This grand jury made a partial examination into the city school system.

The City Board of Education, City Superintendent of Schools, County Superintendent of Schools, Board of Supervisors and various other city and county officials appeared before the jury on two occasions.

While this jury did not make an exhaustive examination into the methods pursued by the City Board of Education, we gained sufficient knowledge to justify the belief that extravagance exists in the maintenance of Los Angeles city schools, and we believe that a great part of this extravagance could and would be eliminated if the recommendations that were made by Herrick and Herrick, in their audit and system of accounting which they proposed for the city schools, were complied with.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE.

From an accounting standpoint we find that the Auditor's office is not what it should be.

The Auditor has admitted several times before the grand jury that he has not the power under the present defective accounting system to be an auditor, but this will be overcome by the new system of accounting and control that is now being installed.

We find that after our auditor had completed his audit of the County Auditor's office, erasures were made in certain books and figures substituted for the original figures. This practice should be discontinued.

We also find that many demands for compensation of employees of the county are not, and have not been, submitted to the Civil Service Commission for approval, as provided by the charter. If control of disbursements of county salary funds is to be obtained the charter provisions must be fulfilled.

The alleged system of auditing as now carried on in the office of the Board of Supervisors should be entirely removed and placed in the Auditor's office, and a pro-audit of all demands should be had as soon as purchases are authorized by the Board of Supervisors.

COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE.

Shortly after this grand jury was impaneled, certain matters relating to the County Clerk's office were called to our attention, principally in relation to naturalization fees.

Much care and labor were devoted to our endeavors to disentangle his accounts and the investigation convinced the jury that there are, in the hands of the County Clerk, certain sums of money collected by him as naturalization fees which properly belong to the county of Los Angeles. A determination of the proper amount of these moneys was finally reached and the District Attorney's office instructed to bring suit against the County Clerk for the recovery of $3768.35.

Included in this sum is a matter of $555 which the County Clerk claimed he had paid to Deputy County Clerk P. J. O'Donnell for services rendered in the naturalization department, but which we found had not been so paid. We found, however, that the County Clerk had given his promissory notes to said O'Donnell in payment for said services and had taken receipts from him. Later these notes were withdrawn by the County Clerk and the receipts returned to O'Donnell. Therefore, if said sum of $555 be recovered from the County Clerk, same should be paid to P. J. O'Donnell for services rendered.

We do not think we should close our report without making mention of certain acts of the County Clerk. We feel that he should be criticised for the careless manner in which he handles the State Fish and Game funds received by him, and also the funds received on account of naturalization.

Our Auditor was unable to find a complete record of these funds and could not make a satisfactory audit of same. In checking up these accounts, the County Clerk was not able to produce cancelled checks showing how the funds had been disbursed, neither could he produce his check stubs, claiming that he had either lost or destroyed these, not considering it necessary to keep them.

We look with disfavor upon the practice of the County Clerk in giving his personal obligation, either by note or otherwise, to his deputies in payment for services rendered. We believe this practice should be discontinued.

We also look with disfavor upon his borrowing money from his deputies, and using money for investment or speculation, which we found he had done in several instances. This practice is embarrassing to the deputies, who are dependent upon him for their positions, especially when repayment is long deferred, which has been the case in this instance.

POTENCY FELT HERE.

Although New York Exchange is Closed it is Basis for Valuation of Espee Shares.

Though the New York Stock Exchange has been closed since July 30, it made its potency felt yesterday in a decision of the State Railroad Commission authorizing the issuance of $2,614,000 first refunding mortgage bonds by the Southern Pacific at not less than 91.0388 per cent. of their face value.

The price fixed is a harking back to the closing price of similar bonds on the day that the New York Stock Exchange closed, for the Southern Pacific's mortgage to the Equitable Trust Company of New York provides that bonds may be "drawn down" for not less than the average price at which those of a similar issue shall have been sold on the exchange the previous calendar month. As the exchange closed in July, it was necessary to select an arbitrary date, so the price the closing day was selected, by agreement, to govern the new issue of bonds.

The proceeds from the bonds will be used by the Southern Pacific to reimburse its treasury for money expended from income between January 1, 1913, and June 30, 1914.

An Unprejudiced Observer.

PUBLICITY IS NEEDED AND THEN MORE PUBLICITY.

[From the Sacramento Bee, Nov. 23.]

ONE newspaper in that section published what it decently could of the facts concerning the male "social vagrants" of Long Beach, Los Angeles county, and gave their names.

Because one man who protested his innocence committed suicide, the other papers—which failed in their duty in the way of publishing the legitimate news concerning this horrible offense—have worked a few church and kindred people to public declarations against "scandal papers," "articles of vicious character," "character assassins," and to demanding a "campaign for decency."

It must be remembered that the Long Beach man who committed suicide, subsequently to professing his innocence, previously had confessed his guilt and had been fined most heavily.

More than that: his suicide in itself was a confession.

But, if the possibility of this man's innocence may be admitted, what of the forty-nine other wretches?

What excuse is there for suppression of news concerning this most horrible of all filthy crimes, to the limit even of refusing to publish the names of the shameless convicted things?

A "campaign of decency" cannot be a crusade for the suppression of all news concerning the public spread of the nastiest foe to all decency.

The cause of common decency demands that these vile wretches be pilloried in the sunlight, so that they may be abhorred by all humankind.

Common sense cannot conceive how intelligent people who would lash the Hagars of modern society from city to city, and from house to house, could ask the sanctuary of silence for men who would have defiled Sodom and Gomorrah.

There are some people in Los Angeles county thoroughly ashamed of this shameful policy of suppression. One of these has written to the Bee from Long Beach. His letter shows the infamy and the spread of this "social vagrancy," and he says:

"I wish to say I am glad one newspaperman in the United States stands ready to throw the light of publicity on these cases. . . .

"This is certain—that this damnable practice . . . flourishes . . . ; and, if it is not held down by the heavy hand of the law, these professional "social vagrants" seek their victims . . . where men and boys congregate.

"There is the pitiable, the most outrageous, part of all—the jaded appetites of these loathsome degenerates, after a time, are not satisfied with each other; they demand young boys—"chickens" they call them—and they will stoop to almost anything to satisfy their desire in this regard.

"Owing to the nature of the subject I do not care to have my name attached to any article, but, in the cause of humanity, I am only too glad to furnish anything I can in the way of information regarding the degeneracy question, as I find it in this community and in Los Angeles."

The good men and the good women of Los Angeles county—of every other section, in fact—should frown down every effort to soften by silence and suppression of news the punishment of these devils.

To the contrary, they should encourage all publicity that does not clash with common decency, and should demand prominent publication of the name of every wretch convicted of a horrible enormity beside which ordinary prostitution is chastity itself.

Why Suffer From Migraine or Sick Headache?

USE ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that it is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two Anti-kamnia Tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one Anti-kamnia Tablet every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet. Anti-kamnia Tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all Pain.

The Bible on Sodomites.

not have a good effect on all sorts of sin, in that it reduces the number of violators of the law.

That such indescribable crimes exist in any community is no credit to its citizenship. It would be still less creditable if by the silence of the press, the poison should be allowed to spread and cover the community. If it can be stamped out by publicity, in God's name let it be done, to the end that this fair Southland may not become a hissing in the mouths of decent people all over the country!

We are confident that these straight views are shared by ninety-nine out of every hundred honest men in Long Beach itself. The trouble is that too many timid persons—men and women—permit themselves to be overawed, coerced, socially bulldosed. Let them stand up and assert their real convictions!
